Selling Latin America

A Problem in International Salesmanship — What to Sell and How to Sell It.

12mo. Cloth. With 4 maps and 19 illustrations.
Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.20)

MR. AUGHINBAUGH has lived and sold goods for eighteen years in the countries of Latin America. He knows these countries as a man knows his own town. He knows the people, their habits, their characteristics, and their commercial practices. He knows what they will buy, what they will not buy; how to sell to them, how to finance the transaction, how to ship, bill, and collect. He tells in "Selling Latin America," country by country, all the essential and fundamental things without a knowledge of which successful trading in the countries to the south of us is impracticable and impossible — methods of doing business, the salesman and the customer, custom-houses and tariffs, trade-marks, finance and credits, packing and shipping, advertising, reciprocity, health precautions.

"Selling Latin America" is in the Selected List of 200 Books on Advertising, Merchandising and Selling, distributed by the Library Division, Educational Committee, Advertising Club of New York.

"The very fact that it is by W. E. Aughinbaugh should be a sufficient reason for its being authoritative and dependable, for he certainly has had an unusual experience in studying the business conditions of those countries." — JOHN BARRETT, Director General, Pan American Union, Washington.

OSBORNE, WILLIAM HAMILTON

How To Make Your Will

Small 12mo. Boards. Net, 50 cents (by mail, 60 cents)

WHEN there is no will, the law of the state steps in and, without reference to your unspoken wishes or the needs of those whom you may have left behind, determines exactly how what you leave shall be apportioned.

In the belief that the great mass of the public did not realize this or understand how simple it is to make a will, Mr. William Hamilton Osborne, who is eminent alike as a novelist and as a lawyer, wrote a brief and very readable article for a popular magazine. The particular copy of the magazine containing the article was called for again and again. Now he has expanded his original article into a little book with the title "How to Make Your Will."

He demonstrates the necessity in clear and unmistakable language, gives the correct forms, and cites cases of rare interest to show the advisability — and the simplicity — of action. He also discusses the matter of who shall be your executor, and takes up the advantages of trust companies for that purpose. Altogether his book is a well-rounded and really interesting treatment of the subject.

WOODHOUSE, HENRY, Editor

The International Yearbook of Aeronautics

Fully Illustrated. Net, $6.00

THE war found aeronautcis in an experimental stage and left it a practical business. Although as yet we have not been given all the details of the many and striking developments which have taken place, we are assured, among other things, a regular aeroplane mail service and also regular transportation service between various foreign capitals. It seems obvious that the fanciful days of the romanticists are now a fact. It is fitting, therefore, as a further assurance of the sound basis of aeronautics that we should have a year book on the subject similar to yearbooks in other fields.

The editor of this volume, Mr. Henry Woodhouse, is unquestionably the most influential man in the country to-day in furthering achievements in aeronautics, and it follows naturally, therefore, that it be, as will be the case, the official book of the aviation movement.

How to Study "The Best Short Stories"

An Analysis of Edward J. O'Brien's Annual Volumes of the Best Short Stories of the Year

Cloth. 12mo. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

THIS book is intended for all students of the short story who are interested in the technical construction of this type of fiction. While designed especially for college students who use as examples for short story courses Mr. O'Brien's valuable yearly collections it will be of general appeal to all writers.

In HOW TO STUDY THE BEST SHORT STORIES, Dr. Williams, who is an authority on the short story, analyzes each of the twenty stories in Mr. O'Brien's yearly collections, showing the problem that the author set for himself in the development of each story, and how successfully he solved the problem. Every step in the development of the short story is given. The treatment includes besides the elements of technique, the editorial view of what a successful short story is. Of special interest are statements from the authors showing how they came to write the individual story and what their definition of a short story is. The book is of decided educational value in defining the problem of writing fiction in the short story form.

From "STREET LAND"

DAVIS, PHILIP — Continued

"With sympathetic carefulness, Mr. Davis studies a problem becoming more and more difficult, as the cities of our republic grow larger. As one witnesses the increasing lawlessness of the children in the street, comes over and over again the question: 'What can be done to keep them off the street?' This question — one of vast national significance — Mr. Davis answers. His book cannot but stimulate the movement to provide a safer and more attractive environment for city children. It makes a valuable addition to the Welfare Series of volumes, dealing primarily with to-day's problems of human well-being, each written from a different standpoint, and each authoritative upon its particular subject." — Boston Transcript.

BRANDEIS, LOUIS D.

Business—A Profession

With a Foreword by ERNEST POOLE

8vo. Cloth. Portrait in photogravure. Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.20)

FEW Americans in recent years have profoundly affected so many of their fellow citizens from so many different angles as has Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, who had already won national fame as "The People's Lawyer" before he was made Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. Unhampered by selfish interests or desires, Mr. Brandeis has solved in a new way problems that have puzzled men and bred distrust and discontent for decades. These problems in the last analysis have been found to be involved in the conduct of business, and Mr. Brandeis has been successful in dealing with them because he has dealt with business as based on what he calls "the inexorable law of arithmetic" on the one hand, and humanity on the other.

"Business — A Profession" is a collection of his most important public utterances on the subjects with which he has been most conspicuously identified. It offers his fellow citizens a unique opportunity to understand the mind and heart of one of the most interesting of Americans.

"Business — A Profession" is in the Selected List of 200 Books on Advertising, Merchandising and Selling, distributed by the Library Division, Educational Committee, Advertising Club of New York.

" 'Business — A Profession' does not merely give opinions. It gives facts and draws conclusions.

"In the essay which gives the volume its name Mr. Brandeis asserts that business is becoming a profession. It no longer means getting the best of the other fellow. There are some interesting facts in connection with the insurance business which everyone should know." — St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"In these addresses and articles there is a uniform philosophy of life and practice of equity, with standards raised just above but not out of reach of the average citizen.

BRANDEIS, LOUIS D. — Continued

"Real success in business, it is urged, 'is to be found in achievements comparable with those of the artist or the scientist, of the inventor or the statesman. The joys sought in the profession of business must be like their joys, and not the mere vulgar satisfaction experienced in the acquisition of money.'

"From this high platform of business artistry Mr. Brandeis consistently and persistently proclaims the truth as he sees and apprehends it." — Philadelphia North American.

CARLETON, WILLIAM

✠③⑧One Way Out: A Middle-Class New Englander Emigrates to America

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

IN this remarkable narrative a man tells simply but with dynamic power, how at thirty-eight he lost his position in the office of a big corporation; how he learned that the special training of his own office was of no value in getting him a position in any other office; how at thirty-eight he was arleady "too old" to get such a position as he had found easily enough at eighteen; how he and his wife and boy, in their trim little suburban home, were actually confronted with the fundamental problem of how to exist; how he met and solved that problem in a way unexpected and dramatic, though to him and his wonderful wife, Ruth, obvious and natural, by "emigrating" to America; and how in all their struggle they found their lives enriched and inspired by the old adventurous, pioneer spirit of their forefathers. Few books have had so vital a place in the lives of the men and women who have read it.

"A really notable brief for democrary that everybody ought to read." — Nation.
"Of extreme interest because of its detailed study of actual conditions and of value for its suggestiveness." — A. L. A. Booklist.

CLARK, FRANCIS E., D.D., LL.D.

Our Italian Fellow Citizens:

In Their Old Homes and Their New

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

AMERICANIZATION of our foreign-born population is one of the pressing needs of our country, as the Great War showed. To further a better understanding of a large segment of our fellow citizens, Dr. Francis E. Clark, the founder and president of the Society of Christian Endeavor, has prepared a sympathetic treatment of the Italians at home and in America, giving something of their history, their racial characteristics, and their influence on American life. It is obvious that the process of Americanization cannot even be begun without such information about conflicting viewpoints, and our author is particularly well fitted, through his studies and travels, to provide just the data needed for carrying on this work so vital for the future of Democracy in these United States.

ENGLAND, GEORGE ALLAN

Keep Off the Grass

With many unique illustrations

12mo. Boards. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.15)

WHEN we were doing our bit by keeping the flivver in the garage on Sunday or by making a level teaspoonful of sugar — how small it looked in the capacious paper container! — do for a real breakfast, somehow it wasn't exactly funny. But usually the saving grace of humor saw us through, and every sacrifice went towards winning victory. As we look back in our conservation days and their restrictions, we begin to appreciate their humorous side. Well, here's a book by a humorist who can write that reflects the funny aspects of Hooverism, Garfieldism and McAdooism. In the form of letters from various members of a typical American family, we get the humor of the problem next the heart of each writer as the letter was written; whether it be the conservation of gas or of sugar, or a night spent in poring over the tax blank —they're all here. And with the text are illustrations which in the language of the street are a "scream." A book of rare American wit and humor told in George Allan England's inimitably humorous way.

Religion, Philosophy and Psychical Research

CARRINGTON, HEREWARD

The Coming Science

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.20)

THE aim of this popular book on psychical reserch is three-fold: (1) To form an introduction to the study of the subject; (2) to approach the baffling questions from the standpoint of physical science; (3) to summarize the various explanatory theories that have been advanced from time to time to explain the facts of psychical research. After reading it, the inquirer may feel that he has progressed a long way in their comprehension.

"The great importance of the book lies in its pointing out that materialism must ultimately triumph, if no facts can be brought forward to prove it erroneous, and this would mean the destruction of the religious consciousness of the age. It is of prime importance, therefore, that the 'average reader,' if there is such a thing, should be properly introduced to the problems of 'The Coming Science.'" — Boston Transcript.

DAVIS, CHARLES H. STANLEY

Greek and Roman Stoicism and Some of Its Disciples

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

THIS volume, by the author of "A History of Egypt" and the editor and commentator of "The Egyptian Book of the Dead," is not only a history of stoicism, but of all Greek and Roman philosophies from the earliest times to the birth of Christianity.

"Dr. Davis has sketched in detail the Greek religion and philosophy that preceded the foundation of this school, and his exposition of its doctrines is clear and illuminating. Equally lucid are his description of its later development and his sketches of the three great disciples, — Epictetus, Seneca, and Marcus Aurelius." — Boston Transcript.

Problems of Philosophy

8vo. Cloth. Net, $5.00 (by mail, $5.30)

THIS is Professor Hyslop's greatest contribution to the science of pure reasoning. His philosophy is altogether antagonistic to agnosticism. He has demonstrated, as he believes, that the independent existence of matter, space, time, the soul and God may finally be proved. In particular he repudiates the aristocratic and transcendental philosophy of Kant and Hegel and their followers, and substitutes a simple, systematic and easily intelligible scheme which combines the scientific methods of Comte and Herbert Spencer in a unique endeavor to create the first complete critique since Kant.

Psychical Research and the Resurrection

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.20)

THIS volume may be considered a sequel to Professor Hyslop's "Science and a Future Life."

"Mr. Braithwaite's Anthologies show the vigorous state of American poetry." — EDWARD GARNETT, in the Atlantic Monthly.

✠The Golden Treasury of Magazine Verse

12mo. Cloth. Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.10)

AN anthology of the best American poems which have appeared in the magazines of the past fifteen years — the period which has seen "the new birth" of poetry in America.

"I think your new anthology is a valuable Golden Treasury — it is worthy of the same name as Palgrave's. Could one say more? The poems are so uniformly excellent that I wish the book could be well known in England, where it would dissipate the poor idea the English seem to have of our work. It is a book to be proud to have compiled." — SARA TEASDALE.

The Poetic Year for 1916

Large 12mo. Printed on special deckle-edged rag paper, and bound in boards, with cloth back. Net, $2.00 (by mail, $2.20)

A CRITICAL discussion and anthology of the work in poetry in 1916, with special attention devoted to the merits of free verse and the poetic tendencies of our day, with liberal quotations from the works of some seventy writers.

"One of the most beautiful and readable and charming books of the year is entitled, 'The Poetic Year for 1916.' In this book, if you please, there is opportunity to test and try out the question mooted of late in certain critical circles whether Mr. Braithwaite does, indeed, praise too generously and indiscriminately. It is a test out of which Mr. Braithwaite comes smilingly and serenely triumphant. . . . The whole is set in a charming series of scenes following the rolling seasons which reveal that Mr. Braithwaite, besides being a critic, is a poet of nature in prose of exquisite quality." — EDWARD H. CLEMENT, in the Boston Transcript.

criminating judgment which the editor displays in his Annual Anthology of Magazine Verse has enabled him to gather poems by thirty-eight American poets which are worthy to be preserved in the rarely beautiful form which the publishers have given the volume. Among the writers who have contributed poems are: Percy MacKaye, Edgar Lee Masters, Anna Hempstead Branch, Josephine Preston Peabody, George Edward Woodberry, Vachel Lindsay, Katherine Lee Bates, Louis Untermeyer, Margaret Widdemer — but to name them all would be to give an Honor Roll of American Poets. Theodore Roosevelt contributed as characteristic introduction.

Echoes from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.10)

"Almost all book lovers in this country treasure on their shelves the three books of vagabond poems which Bliss Carman and Richard Hovey wrote together. Mine, I confess, have been kept close to my hand that I might be at any moment reminded of roads that were not pavements and of joys that were not urban. If I felt any fear in opening this new volume that the old lyric delight had passed from Carman this apprehension was quickly dispelled. He never seemed more spontaneous, never younger — nor older — nor more satisfying. No affectation has crept in to mar his perfect lucidity of style.

A Winter Holiday

16mo. Paper boards. Cover design in silver by T. B. Meteyard.
Net, 75 cents (by mail, 85 cents)

"Of the seven poems making up the collection, five directly reflect the warm, many-colored experiences of the Bahamas. The two other pieces, 'December in Scituate' and 'Winter at Tortoise Shell,' depict in sharp contrast, yet with equal charm, New England winter scenes indoors and out. They show that this poet's remarkable gift for nature-description is as much in evidence when dealing with winter's monochromes as when moved by all the vibrancy and bloom of the full summer tide." — RICHARD BURTON, in The Saturday Evening Post.

CARMAN, BLISS, and RICHARD HOVEY

Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard.
Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.10)

"A book full of the rapture of the open air and the open road, of the wayside tavern bench, the April weather, and the 'manly love of comrades.' The charm and interest of the book consist in the real, frank jollity of mood and manner-the gypsy freedom, the intimate, natural happiness of these marching, drinking, fighting, and loving songs. They proclaim a blithe, sane and hearty Bohemianism in the opening lines." — London Athenaeum.

More Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard.
Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.10)

"How long is it since another volume appeared so packed with high spirits and good humor? Certainly not since the original 'Songs from Vagabondia' came out. The poetry fairly bubbles over,— even over into the inside of the covers, where some verses are enshrined in drawings. It is a book that makes the reader young again." — Buffalo Express.

"Hail to the poets! Good poets! Real poets! . . . They are the free, untrammelled songs of men who sing because their hearts are full of music and they have their own way of singing, too." — New York Times.

"The pulsing of warm, youthful blood, the joy of living and comradeship are enclosed between the covers of 'More Songs from Vagabondia.' The poems are full of exuberant vitality, with a fine and energetic rhythm." — The Argonaut.

Last Songs from Vagabondia

16mo. Paper boards. Cover and end papers designed by T. B. Meteyard. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.10)

THIS third collection makes a fitting close to the fresh and exhilarating poetry of the two preceding volumes of the series. It contains, in addition to verses set aside for this purpose by both authors prior to Mr. Hovey's death, certain later poems by Mr. Carman, reminiscent of his friend and fellow-vagabond.

"All the qualities of the earlier Vagabondia lays are embodied in these 'Last Songs,' — the riches of Vagabondia — love and youth and comradeship — and the glamour of the great world unexplored — nor is the joy in living absent, only softened to a soberer tone. Both Mr. Carman and Mr. Hovey have perfect command of the lyric form, both the power to imprison in richly colored verse a complete expression of the wander-spirit." — Boston Transcript.

"One finds in this volume the breadth of view, the spontaneous joy, the unexpected outlook and the felicity of touch which betray the true poet." — The Outlook.

CARR, ROBERT V.

✠Cowboy Lyrics: Roundup Edition

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.35)

"These poems present the cowboy more truthfully than we find him in the mass of western stories and show that the author has been a part of the life of which he sings. His pictures of the western country are reminiscent of 'The Virginian' and will interest readers far from the cowboy's trail." — A. L. A. Booklist.

"The vital difference between the cowboy songs of Robert Carr and the majority of the western lyrics is that these songs so veritably breathe the winds off the prairies, and the far vast places, the camp fires and the cattle ranging, the beauty and the wonder combined with the sadness and the hardships. They possess the reticence which is the seal of truth." — Boston Transcript.

White Fountains

16mo. Boards. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.10)

"THE passion for spiritual expression," says William Stanley Braithwaite, "is the chief note in this collection. The two odes, 'Flesh' and 'Flower,' are unlike anything in our present verse. The lyrics are exquisitely turned in mood and melody. 'White Fountains' will help us to maintain our reverence for both art and life."

"Life seems a gladsome thing as he writes of it. There are intimate nature touches, a glorification of the beauty in nature and its revelation of divinity. They are poems which attract for the singing quality of their music, for their conscious imagery of beauty and for the impelling quality of the poet's imagination." — Boston Transcript.

TURNER, CAPTAIN JACK

✠Buddy's Blighty:

Including "Zero Minus One," "Flags," and Other Verses from the Trenches

TURNER, CAPT. JACK — Continued

"The poet who has written the most popular bit of verse for American readers during the war is undoubtedly the least known of any poet I know. He is Lieutenant Jack Turner of the Canadian Expeditionary Force, a native of Newfoundland, the son of the Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture and Mines in the Newfoundland Government, and a man who has done his 'bit' in the grim business 'over there' to the taking of Vimy Ridge, where he became incapacitated for further active service . . . BUDDY'S BLIGHTY is a human book — humanity is not nearly so human under other circumstances as under the grim stress and suffering of war — it is a humorous book, a racy and direct book of singing verses. It tells of the rough, unsophisticated giant coming down from the frozen barrens of the North to get into the 'scrap' in Flanders — and the particular giant, 'Buddy Baldwin, Broncho-Buster,' is a singularly imaginative chap coming out of ether in a hospital in 'Blighty' — of the man with a yellow streak who proved the hero in his fright. Whether Lieutenant Turner wrote verse before going to the front I do not know, but he certainly shares with Service and one or two other men who have been through that hell in Flanders, a great popularity as one of the few who, in plain verse, has given us a deeply human and moving chronicle of the trenches." — William Stanley Braithwaite in The Boston Transcript.

Selections from the Prose and Poetry of Walt Whitman

Edited by Oscar Lovell Triggs

12mo. Cloth. Frontispiece portrait of Whitman. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.35)

IN his choice of poems the editor's effort was to preserve, in the character and arrangement of the pieces selected, the general scheme which governed Whitman's last revision of "Leaves of Grass." It was a difficult and delicate task, but one which was essential to any really useful selection of Whitman's poetry, and it has been accomplished in a way that will satisfy every student of Whitman. The book is recommended to any one who desires a general knowledge of Whitman's writings without perusing his entire work.

AUGUST, 1914 — ominous date! — finds a group of delightful Americans enjoying a house-party in a quaint country place not many miles outside of Paris, a place not unlike that which forms the scene of the author's earlier book, the widely read "A Hilltop on the Marne." There are the Lawyer, the Critic, the Youngster, the Divorcée, the Violinist, the Trained Nurse, the Doctor, the Sculptor, the Journalist — all devoted friends and all, of course, unaware of the impending crisis. Each one tells a tale as the company gathers in the garden.

A unique volume, the expression of a charming personality.

"There is a balance, a ripeness of mind, a serene knowledge of human nature, a certain rich feminine quality to Miss Aldrich's work that makes one want more of it." — New York Times.

BARTLEY, NALBRO

A Woman's Woman

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated by Henry Raleigh. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

IN A WOMAN'S WOMAN Nalbro Bartley has done a big thing in the way of an American novel; not only has she given us an absorbing story told with the accustomed power that has made her one of the leading American writers of fiction, but also in her study of the development of a family she has a cross-section of American social history from the Victorian days of the early eighties down to the present time. Obviously such a task requires extreme skill and all the powers of a writer who has his medium under full command, and from the test our author comes successfully with a big, powerful, commanding work which cannot fail to be one of the most important works of fiction of the year.

Some one has said that the real history of a country or of a people is the history of the family, and on thought we realize that this must be so. A WOMAN'S WOMAN is social history told by the pen of a master-craftsman.

The Bargain True

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

sonality who wins the sympathy of the reader in her temptations, her struggles, her defeat. It is obvious that girls marry older men for their money and their positions, and it is obvious, too, that youth must call to youth. It is clear that happiness, fundamental happiness, should rest in the response of youth to youth. The author has brought us close to Dale's problem, has made us see so keenly both sides of her struggle, that when she finally chooses the less noble surrender we are made to feel that there was no other way, that we should have had to do just that in her place. That is why THE BARGAIN TRUE interests, grips.

Paradise Auction

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

"LIFE is a paradise auction," says Sara Heath — "Darly," as the others call her — "with every one of us bidding for happiness at any cost. We each strive to bid the highest, the fastest, the cheapest, but we all want to buy paradise, not earn it."

The search for happiness of a group of people who had come to young manhood and womanhood after a childhood spent in joyous play together forms the underlying theme of this absorbing story.

"Paradise Auction" is a novel of the best type and introduces an American novelist whose brilliant promise as a writer of short stories it amply fulfills.

Some opinions of readers:

"A fine, strong and beautiful story. The ideal element which 'Darly' supplies is the hidden power in the novel and lifts the whole story far above the ordinary rank. There is plenty of warm human interest and real fun in it."

"It is one of the best novels I have ever read. I can't think of any novelist with whom I can compare Nalbro Bartley or any novel with which I can compare 'Paradise Auction', but as I read it I found myself having such diverse mental and emotional reactions as these: I recalled delightful memories of Louisa M. Alcott, on the one hand, and, on the other, I declared to myself that Mrs. Wharton, in 'The House of Mirth,' had written nothing more entertaining."

"This is an absolutely satisfying novel — a big thing in every sense of the word."

"Paradise Auction," is well worth reading." — New York Times.

"Paradise Auction," impresses us as an uncommonly fine story of American life. Hearts beat strongly in its pages." — Boston Herald.

"THE MIDDLE PASTURE" is a book for the whole family, old and young.

It is the story of the Crawfords, two families that dwell on either side of the middle pasture in the little town of Pine Grove, Alabama.

"A genuine cure for the blues." — Rochester Post.

"There are all kinds of childish pranks and adventures, invariably natural and instinct with the true spirit of childhood and related just as such a child would relate them. A thoroughly enjoyable story." — New York Tribune.

"The author maintains the child's personality and psychology admirably, without overdoing it and without depriving her of the very active intelligence which children have, and which most grown-up people deny them when they write about them or talk in front of them. This book is a good story about decent, lovable human beings told with directness and simplicity." — Independent.

BROWN, GEORGE ROTHWELL

Beyond the Sunset

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

"MY COUNTRY" showed that Mr. Brown could write a ripping story with action, tense and purposeful, and real withal. And in his new novel he exhibits all the talent of the born story-teller which made his previous book not only the first, but one of the best stories of the war. But this time he has deserted contemporary life and taken us back to the days of the Spanish buccaneers, Morgan and his band of cut-throats, enough in itself to warrant an absorbing tale of adventure.

BROWN, GEORGE ROTHWELL — Continued

In an atmosphere of a wild and carefree life, as colorful and as dramatic as anything of this kind that has been published in years, we get a moving, thrilling yarn with the elements of love, adventure, daring, intrigue. And the author's zest in his own performance is so obvious that we read breathlessly from "Chapter I" to "The End."

"A stirring story it is, so much adventure, good fighting and intrigue are packed into 'My Country.' " — Boston Post.

"The first American novel of our war. It is filled with intrigue, love, romance and war secrets." — New York Herald.

"Its atmosphere is filled with the German intrigue that amazed us during three years. It sets them forth in a manner that is as believable as it is sensational. Our eyes have already been opened to the almost incredible truth of German deeds, and they will remain wide open through the reading of every page of 'My Country.' It merely remains for Mr. Brown to write two novels yearly to become the Phillips Oppenheim of America." — Boston Transcript.

"It is an adventurous romance of strange peoples and distant lands that Mr. Comfort tells us here; beginning at the edge of the great war in Austria, and moving northward and eastward through Siberia, Mongolia and China. There is much in it that appeals strongly to human sympathy, much that is picturesque, and much that is heroic and self-sacrificing. Going far from the beaten tracks of current fiction, it has a refreshing novelty and spontaneity of motive and of color which will be welcome to many a jaded taste." — New York Tribune.

"The spirit of the Orient has been caught and transferred to every page. Mr. Comfort tells a ripping story and his own zest in the performance is so keen that his enthusiasm is imparted to the reader." — Bangor Commercial.

If you will board with him the staunch clipper ship Silver Fleece, at Batu Kawan, on the Motomolo Strait, where old Dengan Jouga, the Malayan witch-woman, laid the curse on Captain Alpheus Briggs, and sail the voyage out with that huge, black-beared, red-blooded bucko, you'll live a tale throbbing with life, mystery, vitality.

Wits and the Woman

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

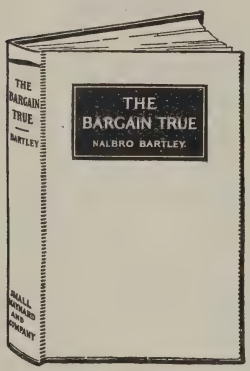
BELIEVE ME," in the language of the heroine, "this is some book!" And if you follow the breezy, blithesome Clarissa in her adventures from behind the lingerie counter to Cobalt, Babylon — Long Island — and Monte Carlo, until she cries "shoot," for the license bureau (marriage) you'll get reels of dashing action, inserts and close-ups, too, which will make the average movie seem tame by comparison. Adventure comes fast and furious in Clarissa's meteoric career, urged on by the spirit of Henri de Grasse. As Clarissa says, "this is no high-brow stuff," but a tale for all who like exciting action, mystery, a hint of the supernatural, all told in the breezy language of a keen-minded, sharp-tongued, but essentially lovable and wholesome shop-girl.

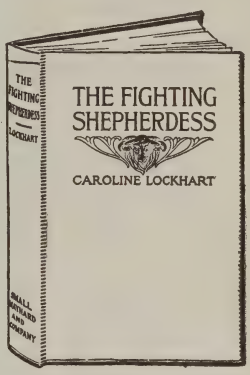
LOCKHART, CAROLINE

The Fighting Shepherdess

Illustrated by M. Leone Bracker. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

THIS is a story of the West, but by no means "another Western story." In the character of Kate, the daughter of Jezebel of the Sand Coulee Road House, Miss Lockhart has given us a powerful delineation of a woman which will take high rank among the distinctive personalities in the fiction of the West.





Brought up under the unskilled direction of "Mormon Joe," she is considered socially impossible by the matrons of Prouty's "best society," done amusingly with deft lightness of touch. Then Mormon Joe is murdered, brutally. Kate is herself suspected, and cut off from all companionship, seems destined to lose everything in the world at the hands of unscrupulous enemies. But she rises supreme over all enemies and all difficulties to become the "Sheep Queen" of the range. Harder than a man she works for success; remorselessly, tirelessly, implacably, and in the end holds Prouty with its petty, mean-minded citizenry in the hollow of her hands. Their fate, their future, all depends on her — and for years her one aim has been revenge.

There is real life, not the imagined life of a West which never existed, in these pages. Tense, gripping, with drama, incident, humor, here's a tale which holds one to the end.

Each, 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.60 (by mail, $1.75)

BY general consent Mr. O'Brien's annual volume has achieved the distinction of a landmark in the literary year. Each collection is thoroughly enjoyable and interesting as well as distinctive.

In addition to the twenty stories selected as the best by American authors published in more than seventy American periodicals during the year, the Yearbook contains bibliographical features of interest to all students of the short story and American literature, biographical information, and indices on every subject pertaining to the growth of the short story as a distinctive literary form.

"From every point of view — from that of the actual probabilities of reading enjoyment to be derived from it by all sorts of readers; from that of the vivid and varied, but always valid, concernment with life that it maintains; from that of technical literary interest in American letters, and from that of sheer aesthetic response to artistic quality — it warrants an emphatic and unconditional recommendation to all." — Life.

"A collection of such wide range and diverse style as to represent almost every type of deservedly popular magazine story. It needs no vote to determine the worth of the collection as a whole — good tales, varied, well-told, new, are sure of popular approval." — The Independent.

"The volume is indispensable to every student of American fiction, and will furnish each successive year a critical and historical survey of the art such as does not exist in any other form." — Boston Transcript.

"The American reader may well place it beside Mr. Braithwaite's similar anthology of verse and feel rather well fortified against the attacks of transatlantic critics." — Chicago Evening Post.

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

ALL the world loves a sleuth, and in Inspector Malcome Steel we have a new character added to the famous detectives of fiction which will at once fix the attention of those who delight in the skilful untangling of mysterious events. And Inspecror Steele, an entirely new type of investigator, had to be skilful, adroit, and discerning in solving the mystery in BEHIND RED CURTAINS. Can a man under hypnotic influence commit a crime? If one goes through every step in a murder and awakes to find himself in bed — and the next morning finds marks of the crime on his hands, was he the murderer or not? These were the questions that bothered the members of the Copeland party, but not Inspector Steele. He knew!

SIDGWICK, ETHEL

The Works of

"Ethel Sidgwick is the world's next great woman novelist. I'm confident that within ten years the critical perspective will show her on this pinnacle. Since George Eliot and the Brontes, I can think of no woman who has focused art and life so intensely into novel writing." — Margaret C. Anderson in The Little Review.

"In the person of this young woman a new figure of unusually brilliant power has arisen in English fiction. She is the first woman novelist of the new period — the period of Wells, Galsworthy, Bennett, Merrick and Walpole — to accomplish as they have accomplished the conquest of the American public and critics. — Boston Transcript.

"Miss Ethel Sidgwick has many delicate gifts which do not seem to be constrained by a rare strength and deftness of touch. She reveals more of character in a dozen sentences of dialogue than your meticulously exact describer of details in as many pages, not only observing finely but selecting vigorously. She can light up a situation with a sudden flame of passion and quench it with a timely reticence. She can create adorable people, and with less evident pleasure, but as subtle a contrivance, quite dislikable ones." — Punch.

SNAITH, J. C.

Broke of Covenden

12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

THE STORY of an English country family. This wonderful novel, first published in 1904, has sturdily outlived many a "best-seller" and to-day its place is secure among the really great works of English fiction.

"From the first moment Mr. Snaith makes your attention his willing slave you read with that rare vacillation which urges you to hurry forward for the story and to linger for the detail." — Atlantic Monthly.

† Something that Begins With "T"

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

"Here is a book that is delightfully refreshing in its originality and in the attractiveness with which the characters are drawn. The author does not for the fraction of a second allow Phyllis and all of her family to relinquish their hold upon our sympathies, and we love them for their humanness and their effervescent humor. We find Phyllis and all of her family at 'Perch-edifice altogether lovable and conspicuously real. It is a book that will bring a great deal of pleasure to young people as well as to the older readers, and it is a book that will be read many times." — New York Tribune.

"'Something That Begins With 'T'' is a delightful bit of fooling. Its seeming aimlessness conceals a well-wrought plot, prettily told, with constant flashes of originality and a whimsicality of telling that achieves its purpose. The sidelights on contemporary literature are ingenuous. It is an odd book well worth reading." — Chicago Herald.

TITUS, HAROLD

Bruce of the Circle A

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

A THRILLING story of the southwest, with its wide sweep of mountain and valley, of the range, of the town that contrasts so sharply with the range and yet is born of it, of a fine-souled woman and of a man who knows love and comes to his own through a struggle that calls for all his courage and devotion. It is a big story that makes the reader forget time and the hour until he has come breathlessly to the end of it.

"The kind of a story that the boys of a generation or more ago would have delighted to read, for it is full of adventure and has the breeziness and fine outdoor atmosphere of the frontier and the cattle country." — New York Herald.

The Last Straw

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

"BRUCE of the Circle A" proved that Mr. Titus could write an unusual story of the West, thrilling, with its wide sweep of mountain and valley, with a love story, refreshing and clean, all going to make a romance that holds the reader's attention and respect. And in THE LAST STRAW he has given us an even more unusual romance. This time the central figure is a heroine — a girl who has wasted a fortune, carelessly, on Broadway. In time to save her from want comes a legacy of a Colorado ranch — but the ranch is almost as broke as its new owner. How she won through, the romance that grew out of it, the humorous and appealing men of the ranch give us a real story with a dash and a thrill which caused the New York Sun to say, "Harold Titus can tell a story! You find yourself breathless at certain places. There is humor in his book. In short, a dandy story to take vacationing."

UNDERWOOD, EDNA WORTHLEY

✠The Whirlwind: A Tense Story of Russian Court Intrigue

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

"A colorful and dramatic story that is especially timely because the central figure is the great Catherine of Russia and the reader is given a clear insight into the Russian Court of the eighteenth-century Romanoffs, with its insidious Teutonic intrigues. The time of the story is the dramatic moment when the reign of the Empress Elizabeth was drawing to its close and the throne itself was hanging in the balance. The author, who is already known for her remarkable understanding of Russia and the Russians and of Russian literature, has told a wonderful story, filled with the excitement of court intrigue, of murder and sudden death, of ruthless power wielded without reserve. It is not too much to say that since 'Quo Vadis,' no more powerful historical romance has been produced." — New York Evening Post.

✠The Ten-Thousand Dollar Arm

VAN SCHAICK, GEORGE

A Top-Floor Idyl

12mo. Cloth. With illustrations by Chase Emerson. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

MR. Van Schaick tells a charming story of a young mother and her blessed baby, of David, the diffident bachelor novelist who is her neighbor on the top floor of an old-fashioned New York boarding-house, of a "strong-minded" but gentle-souled woman painter, and of a young physician with ideas of his own about human nature.

The Son of the Otter

12mo. Cloth. With a frontispiece in color by George W. Gage. Net, $1.25 (by mail $1.40)

"Mr. Van Schaick has done something new. He has written a story of the great North in which the characters, not only in semblance but in spirit, are human beings. Drawn simply and boldly, without any heroics, the figure of Ahteck is extraordinarily impressive. The style is plain and direct, with the restraint that gives evidence of reserve power." — Nation.

"'The Son of the Otter' must not be thought of for an instance as 'another of those Canadian stories.' It is different and better, a romance, truly enough but not of southern civilization transplanted in the north. It is of the north itself, and the hero is an Indian, as is his well-beloved, and they are real and simple souls, not so greatly different after all from people in more clement climates. The idyl is carried through the yellow forests to summer and the terrible white cold of winter's darkness, and always it bears the air of romantic truth." — Chicago Daily News.

"The novel is of high order and literary merit, ranking with the Canadian stories of Sir Gilbert Parker." — Baltimore Sun.

"A refreshing romance . . . vigorously told." — Wisconsin Library Bulletin.

So let there be a white stone at once for 'Sweetapple Cove', to signalize it as a delightful story, well worth reading." Springfield Republican.

✠ The Peace of Roaring River

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

MADGE NELSON had come to the end of a long, dark road — in other words, after an unequal struggle for a place in the world, for work, for food, for clothing, for a roof above her — she finds that she can no longer go on. Then by a strange twist of fate, a little door is opened, a door that one chance out of a hundred means happiness, and the other ninety-nine times spell disaster. Madge takes the chance — it was the "sporting" thing to do. That's why you'll like this girl, whose fight for happiness against dreadful odds, makes this vivid story of the Canadian Northwest an out-of-the-ordinary novel — a fascinating human story of love and daring.

Kate Plus 10

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

THERE is something mysterious, something inviting, in the very name of "Kate Plus 10!"

Who is Kate? And who — or what — are the 10?

Michael Pretherston knows and because he is a real detective he keeps his own counsel. He gets a lot of fun out of his job, too, and is such a neat and skilful workman that even the men who are trying to beat him have to acknowledge that he is a good sport. And when he carries his good sportsmanship too far for his own safety, and the girl's — but let Mr. Wallace tell it.

And Mr. Wallace does tell it delightfully. The mystery is intense throughout, the ingenuity of the detective is absorbing, and the whole story is told with a charm, a quiet humor and a skill at the depicting of human nature that make every chapter a real pleasure to read.

The Man Who Knew

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

IF a good detective story be one which shall hold the reader interested, even breathless for three or four hours, shall suggest the solution, yet baffle and be consistent throughout, The Man Who Knew certainly fulfils the requirements. This story of the amazing adventures which come into the life of a retired diamond merchant, who comes from the mines of South Africa to London, is clever in plot and effective in style. Clues there are a-plenty and they are unravelled in surprising fashion, bringing the story to a whirlwind finish. As a writer of detective stories, Mr. Wallace occupies an enviable place. The Man Who Knew shows him at his best.

"The surprise in the last two or three pages of Mr. Edgar Wallace's story, 'The Man Who Knew,' is one of the most complete that could be imagined. Here is a good, strong picture of money and murder, love and law, dirty work and detective wor.k And that humdinger of a surprise! Mr. Wallace is gullty of a topnotcher." — New York Sun.

The Secret House

B. Smith, that we are in for a thrilling mystery story told in the author's inimitable way with many a chuckle. Readers of mystery stories who have yet to make the acquaintance of Mr. Wallace's creations have a treat in store for them for he is writing the most efficiently constructed and most cleverly told detective yarns in years. In THE SECRET HOUSE there is even more incident, more thrilling episodes than we are accustomed to in his books, and it all culminates in a dramatic climax will that hold even the most veteran and hardened reader of mysteries.

Tam o' the Scoots

Illustrated. Cloth. 12mo. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

FEW writers of fiction succeed in creating a character so impressing that it dims their own renown. Conan Doyle did it in Sherlock Holmes. Edgar Wallace did it in Sanders of the River and it seems that he has done it again in TAM O' THE SCOOTS. At any rate in this story of the war he has given us Tam, a canny little Scot from the Clyde, who is individual, lovable, dauntless, and portrayed with all the whimsical humor of this well-known author.

"Whatever you don't read among the new books make a point of reading Edgar Wallace's short novel, TAM O' THE SCOOTS. Don't put it off. Get it, borrow it — but get it. If you steal it you can make restitution afterward."— New York Sun.

he tells it with such a fine capacity for knowing how to do it that every page does, indeed, hold the interest in a grip that is at first surprise, then admiration, and at last positive affection. The most dialect-weary reader must own that here the dialect is an indispensable charm; and those who stop the ears when American humor is mentioned need have no fear — for here is the thing in its best estate. Melodrama there is, but far more of daily human nature. In an occasional flaming, there is revealed less of the theatrical than of the eternal boyish. The question is: has any novel of the West as good as this been written since 'The Virginian'?" — Nation.

The Gypsy Pipes

"MERRY ANDREW" at once established the reputation of the author as a skilled story-teller who through her delineation of character, her creation of atmosphere that was real and compelling secured a result which entitled her creations to rank as books deserving to be widely read. Her new volume will at once command wide attention for it is a real book, one which drives home a worth-while lesson, exceptionally timely, and which should be known to all readers who take delight in a simple, wholesome tale, well told, with genuine characters portrayed sympathetically by an artist — and which above all is full of genuine human interest.

✠†Merry Andrew

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.35 (by mail, $1.50)

"After reading F. Roney Weir's 'Merry Andrew' I had it placed at once on our library list. The order has been forwarded to the Toronto house with which we usually deal. The book ought to be widely read, and taken to heart. Not merely because it is a thoroughly interesting story, nor for the sake of the characters so wonderfully delineated — Merry Andrew, Sylvia, Grandpa and Grandma, Wully McNab and the delicious Pudneys — but because it drives home the worth-while lesson that huge possibilities await the capable girl or woman on the farm; possibilities, not of endless drudgery, but of real big achievement. That lesson makes 'Merry Andrew' timely, exceptionally timely; and that's why it's nationally worth while to push it. Pardon a perhaps intrusive letter, but I see bigger things in 'Merry Andrew' than even the big, whole-souled story itself." — From a letter from Victor Lauriston, Secretary Chatham (Ontario, Canada) Public Library Board, Author of "The Man Who Could Not Quit," etc.

IN ALEX THE GREAT we have a book so full of mirth, with such a compelling hero whose motto is "You Can Do It," and withal so blithesome and merry, that it cannot fail to be a hit.

But let Witwer sketch his hero for himself:

"Alex Hanley is a relative of mine by marriage, and because I ain't never been lucky. He's a cousin of the wife's by default or somethin' and she thinks he could've stopped the war if he hadn't been so busy, and the only reason he ain't President of the U. S. is because Washington is so inconvenient to get to. I like him and electrocution the same way, but I gotta hand it to him for bein' a fast worker. He come here from a place called Vermont, right off the dear old farm, and the day he found the exit at Grand Central Station the traffic cops thought somebody was puttin' on a movie and kept the crowds back. One look at him standin' there gazin' over Manhattan and you'd say he was prob'ly clever, but had a little too much make-up on. As far as the naked eye could tell, Alex looked like he thought the subway was a mixed drink and Fifth Avenue was a second baseman. Instead of bein' dumfounded at the size of our little village, Alex sneers at Broadway and says Gotham is the champion rube burg of the world which would never be heard of if Edison hadn't invented electric lights. After stunnin' me with that, he goes out and stands New York on its ear and makes it like it."

A Smile a Minute

The Sequel to "From Baseball to Boches"

Illustrated. 12mo. Cloth. Net, $1.50 (by mail, $1.65)

HERE are nine more innings of breezy, rollicking, fun-provoking letters of Ed Harmon — and there are few readers of books who don't count him a friend. The book takes its title from Ed's remark in one of his letters to Joe that as soon as he got out on the old Atlantic and began to think how it would seem to steam up New York Harbor again and see Miss Liberty standing there in the sunshine — well, he knew he'd have a smile a minute all the way over. He tells about "Back Home" and his wonderful Jeanne and their wonderful baby, with the same "pep" and philosophy, keen observation and satire that made "From Baseball to Boches" one of the most laughed over and talked about books of the year. It is a bubbling, cheerful, stimulating book, full of fun, patriotism, sporting spirit, the joy of youth.

But she didn't forget to take with her much more than her fair share of the feast, and it was lucky she did, for in the "Big Woods" she met Montrell Hamilton Morley, called "Monkey" in the language of the "West Hill crowd." LA FLESCHE, FRANCIS

The Middle Five

16mo. Cloth. With frontispiece by Angel de Cora. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

THIS fascinating book, which has been aptly called an Indian "Tom Brown's School Days," is not only one of the best boy's books ever published, but has also an importance quite beyond its fiction value. The author and the illustrator are both American Indians, and the former, in this description of the education of little Indians into civilized life, has drawn largely from his own early experience, giving to the book a genuineness which should render it indispensable to those who would rightly understand the Indian and his capabilities.

MACKIE, PAULINE BRADFORD

The Moving House

12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

A NEW "Alice in Wonderland" kind of story for young people. A whimsical, fanciful tale in which the author tells, with consummate skill, of a house that started on a journey, and of Lottie, the little girl who lived in it all alone, of the Little Folk, of Chit and Chat, the Watchman Mole, a Guilty Conscience, a Faun, the Ancient Crowe and other delightful people of Fairy Land. The story is fairly riotous with fun and spirit and is the most unusual book for young readers that has appeared in many a year.

From "THE MOVING HOUSE."

MACKIE, PAULINE BRADFORD — Continued

"A particularly acceptable addition to the list of holiday juveniles is provided in 'The Moving House,' a story version of Pauline Bradford Mackie's play that won the prize offered by the Woman's Educational and Industrial Union of Boston for the best play for children. It is on the order of 'Alice in Wonderland' and its continual train of development, brisk and novel, taken in connection with the droll and whimsical vein in which they are presented, makes capital reading for young people." — Springfield Union.

From "WHY-SO STORIES"

RICH, EDWIN GILE

The Beautiful Princess

Small quarto. Cloth. Illustrated in color. Net $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

ROMANCE is inherent in the child mind, and this accounts for the continued popularity through the ages and with all peoples of the type of story represented by "The Sleeping Princess." The present volume is designed to satisfy the demand for the romantic story by the child by giving a series of these romantic tales from world folk-lore. The title, THE BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS, is indicative in itself of the type of tale which is presented in this volume prepared by the author of "Why-So Stories," one of the most appealing of juveniles both in content and method of presentation. Although THE BEAUTIFUL PRINCESS is intended primarily for children, it will, like its predecessor, be of value to students of folk-lore in affording a rather complete collection of this romantic literature from the myths and tales of all peoples.

✠Why-So Stories

Small quarto. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

SIXTY-FIVE stories of the birds and the beasts, from the folk-lore and legend of all lands, but chiefly from the folk-lore of the North American Indian. They are interestingly told, in simple language that a child will understand and enjoy. A glance at the titles of just a few of the stories will show the character of the book: "Why the Blackbird is Black," "Why the Robin Brings the Spring," "Why the Woodpecker Has a Long Beak," "Why the Turkey Gobbles," "Why the Birds Go South in Winter," "Why Cats and Dogs Fight," "Why the Mosquito Says Zum-Zzzz-Zzzz."

"This is a handsome volume, primarily of interest to children, but also worthy of the attention of all grown-ups interested in the folk-lore of bird and animal life. Most of the material is drawn from the folk tales of the American Indians, although Greek mythology and other European sources are drawn upon. The tales are entertaining as well as instructive." — Mass. Audubon Society Bulletin.

"Children can hardly get too many of these folk-lore books. Mr. Rich, in his telling, has well preserved the charm of the old tales." — Continent.

SIDGWICK, ETHEL

Four Plays For Children

Square 12mo. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

A NEW edition of a volume of plays that have long since become classics for children to read and act. The author, who is the well-known English novelist, understands children and knows, too, how to write for them.

In answering a request to "recommend plays that can be acted by young people without much rehearsal," the New York Evening Post, in its Readers' Guide department, says: "Four Plays for Children by Ethel Sidgwick, are beautiful little fancies and should not take much preparation."

SMITH, GERTRUDE

Arabella and Araminta

4to. Cloth. With fifteen full page illustrations by Ethel Reed. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.15)

A CHILDREN'S classic. "It is a book," writes Mr. William Dean Howells, "which I should think might be more surpassingly loved by the little ones than any other book that was ever written for them."

The contents: Poppy Story; Celebration Story; Lost Dolly Story; Romping Plays; Shopping-Day Story; A Story in the Woods; Soap-Bubble Story; Sleepy-Time Story; Pretended Plays; The Hurt Day; Christmas Story; The Great Surprise; Sunday Story; Animal-Cracker Story; The Birthday Party.

*Jolly Polly

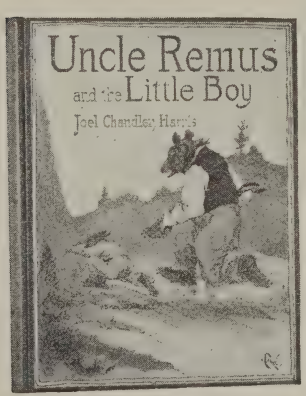
Quarto. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.15)

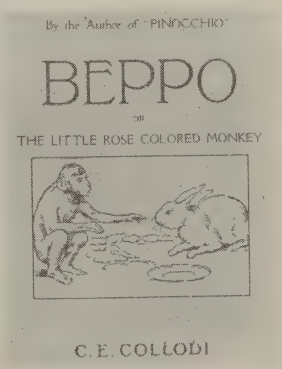
THE author of "Arabella and Araminta" here tells the story of a dear little girl — Jolly Polly — and her family and her pets and her friends, in twelve lively episodes that bear such alluring titles as "Jolly Polly's Bird's Nest," "Tortsie and the Windmill," "The Funny Day Story," "Haha, Giggle and Fun."

The Wonderful Stories of Jane and John

Illustrated. Quarto. Cloth. Net, $1.00 (by mail, $1.15)

THE author of "Arabella and Araminta" — that classic for the "littlest" folk which Mr. William Dean Howells heralded on its publication as a book to be "more surpassingly loved by the little ones than any other book that was ever written for them" — here tells the story of little Jane and John, their pets, their friends. In fifteen lively episodes we get Jane and John in their wonderful play and games with their ponies, dogs and other pets. The vocabulary and simple dialogue are of the same general appeal as in the author's other volumes which have proved so thoroughly adapted to the child mind and appreciation.





WELLS, H. G. (Author of "Mr. Britling Sees It Through," etc.)

✠Floor Games

4to. Cloth. Illustrated. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

"Let all fathers buy this book and see how an author has played with his own sons; read it, first for its agreeable manner and then for the suggestions. 'The jolliest indoor games for boys and girls demand a floor,' says Mr. Wells, 'and the home that has no floor upon which games may be played falls so far short of happiness.' 'One may build cities on a floor, erect hills across dictionaries, and run engines into the realms of other rooms'" — Literary Digest.

Little Wars

4to. Cloth. With 20 photographs of miniature battlefields and 80 marginal drawings by J. R. Sinclair, printed throughout in two colors. Net, $1.25 (by mail, $1.40)

A GAME for boys from twelve years of age to one hundred and fifty," says Mr. Wells, "and for that more intelligent sort of girls who like boys' games and books." With an appendix of special rules showing how a kriegspiel of educational value for the training of army officers may be developed out of the amusing methods of "Little Wars."

"We welcome it as a novel activity, and one that could be put to more than an imaginative test. Military strategy and tactics require keen wit and acute analytical powers. Many a nursery floor will be turned into a battlefield once the code of warfare as worked out by Mr. Wells is mastered. We can imagine Napoleon feasting on such a diversion." — Literary Digest.

ESTABLISHED 1864

49 MURRAY STREET

NEW YORK

P. O. BOX 905
CITY HALL STATION

Importations of foreign books and periodicals from all countries of the Globe are, in consequence of conditions which have arisen in the course of the last two or three years, subject to more or less delay, if at all feasible. Our representatives in London, Paris and other European book centers are, in spite of difficulties, filling our orders with all possible promptness.

While minor shipments have already been received, we hope to shortly see larger lots of German books covering all subjects from belles-lettres to languages, arts, sciences etc., as well as periodicals on all subjects reach us.

Catalogs of all German publishers have, however, not yet reached us, due, no doubt, to their shortage of paper. Advices show considerable advances in prices, the increase due to the conditions resulting from the war varying greatly among the several publishing houses. While, therefore, it is impossible for us, at present, to quote prices with any degree of precision, purchasers may rest assured that any orders they may send us will be filled as expeditiously and at as low a figure as circumstances will permit.

Import orders can be accepted only subject to delay and possible loss in transit, and are not subject to cancellation. Prices of books and subscriptions to periodicals in particular are subject to change without notice. Catalogs and special quotations mailed upon request.

In spite of increased costs we have retained the pre-war list-prices and discounts on the language text-books of our own publication, the discount to the trade still being 33⅓%.

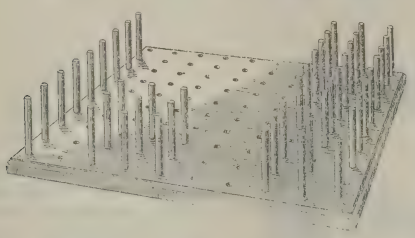
Peg Boards or Busy Work Tiles.



An occupation for younger children in the home, the kindergarten and the primary school.

The tile is a well finished square board, with holes drilled at regular intervals for holding pegs of various colors.

The pegging of lines, angles and geometrical forms, the arranging of the colors in the various combinations, and the invention of new forms and combinations give much pleasure, while affording the means of instruction to the little ones in the kindergarten and at home. In connecting and primary grades peg-boards are utilized in various ways, particularly in teaching arithmetic.

For kindergarten and school use, the boards are put up without pegs (Nos. 1732 and 1735 a) and the pegs are in boxes of 100 or 1000 each, assorted in six colors. For use in families one board with an assortment of pegs is put up in a paper box, making it complete. (Nos. 1732 a, 1733 a, 1734 a, 1735.)

Mat-Weaving.

This occupation, popular among little boys as well as girls, while entertaining, affords instruction in the elements of arithmetic. It promotes accuracy, neatness and generosity, some of the articles capable of being made from mats, such as napkin rings, needlebooks, sachet bags, cornucopias etc, making acceptable little presents for relatives and friends. It stimulates the inventive faculties and develops the sense of color harmony in the child.

No. 743. This envelope, while exceedingly reasonable in price, contains a cardboard mat with wooden strips already inserted to teach the child how the weaving is done, a patented steel weaving-needle of simple pattern, some twenty weaving-mats with the requisite fringes and a few fancy silver and gold mats, as well as illustrated instructions explaining the use of the needle and material. net $0.25 (including postage). No discount.

Chain-Making and Bead-Stringing.

No. 795. A box containing 200 strips of colored kindergarten paper for making chains, 200 straws, 54 wooden beads, 200 paper disks and squares and 6 laces for stringing. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

This assortment of kindergarten material provides entertaining and instructive amusement for children of four to seven years of age. The ends of the first strip are pasted together, each successive strip is past thru the preceding one and its ends joined in similar manner, forming a chain which, when draped as a garland over picture-frames, curtains etc. forms an attractive decoration.

The laces past thru the straws and paper disks or squares alternately, the paper being punctured in the center by the tab at the end of the lace, form equally attractive festoons, a fit ornament in the nursery.

Stringing the wooden beads in a systematic manner with due regard for the variety in form and color, the assortment comprising red, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet spheres, cylinders and cubes, affords not only any amount of entertainment, but, as the materials described above tend to develop the power of observation in the little ones by teaching them to discriminate between the several colors as well as the properties of the various forms, Frœbel's principles of learning by doing and learning while playing are practiced in these occupations.

Card-Sewing.

No. 385 h. This attractive box of easy sewing cards with blunt-pointed needles and worsted, as well as a perforating pad and needle affords instructive amusement to boys as well as girls. The perforated cards without printed designs give the little ones opportunity to develop their inventive faculty by devising an endless variety of designs. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

Crayon Work and Painting.

Frœbellian drawing and its sequel occupation, painting, develop neatness and precision. They also teach the elements of arithmetic, harmony in colors and design, besides giving the child opportunity to exercise his desire to express the impression which objects and scenes have made on his mind. In attractiveness to the child this occupation is second to none.

No. 469. This box contains designs showing a short course in Frœbellian drawing, a copious supply of drawing paper ruled on both sides in quarter-inch squares, two quires of superior drawing and water-color paper, half a dozen long colored crayons and water-color paints with brushes. net $0.50 (including postage). No discount.

THE GARDENETTE: OR CITY BACK YARD GARDENING BY THE SANDWICH SYSTEM. Part I. Vegetable Garden. Part II. Flower Garden.

This volume is arranged to meet the needs of the beginner or amateur, especially for those who have limited areas that are available for the purpose.

Few realize the wonderful possibilities of a small piece of ground when cultivated to the limit of its capacity.

The Sandwich System herein described is not an idle theory, but a solid successful fact, the result of years of careful, painstaking experiment, and highly successful efforts in practical vegetable and flower gardening.

New York Sun: "This book will rouse the ambition of the city agriculturist. It is much more effective and practical than 'Back-to-the-Farm' Sermons."

Montreal Daily Mail: "It is one of the most complete treatises on the growing of vegetables and flower gardens yet issued for the beginner, and the information is so classified that anyone can become successful if they follow the instructions given."

ANONYMOUS

*THE TRUTH ABOUT THE THEATER

Precisely what the title indicates—facts as they are, plain and unmistakable without veneer of any sort. It goes directly to the heart of the whole matter. Behind the writer of it—who is one of the best known theatrical men in New York—are long years of experience. He recites what he knows, what he has seen, and his quiet, calm, authoritative account of conditions as they are is without adornment, excuse or exaggeration. It is intended to be helpful to those who want the facts, and for them it will prove of immeasurable value.

Wm. Lyon Phelps: "It is an important book and justifies its title. It ought to be read everywhere in America."

James Ford, New York Herald: "It is refreshing to read about the stage, not through the customary glamour or through the tawdry exaggeration of the press agent, but in the light of common day. No prize is offered by the publishers for the correct guess of the author's name."

APPLETON, Everard Jack.

WITH THE COLORS: SONGS OF THE AMERICAN SERVICE.

A book of virile verse dealing with the War-work of America. Poems that, in good American slang, have Punch plus Pep. Perfectly safe for anyone to read except traitors. All in all, probably one of the most noteworthy volumes of verse published this year.

Oakland Tribune: " . . . In some ways a quite remarkable collection. . . . They speak the American language, the American spirit-soldier talk in soldier days. . . . An excellent gift for a soldier or one who is close to a soldier."

THE QUIET COURAGE AND OTHER SONGS OF THE UNAFRAID.

One of the poems in the collection, "The Woman Who Understands," has been copied extensively both here and in England; Current Literature declared it a complementary poem to Kipling's "Vampire." Others have a ruggedness and strength that is a little unusual and wholly uplifting.

Chicago Record Herald: "This is a heartening little volume, insistent with manly faith and courage. A good book to put in the pocket, traveling satchel, and the heart."

CAMP FIRES IN THE YUKON.

In this book the author, an explorer, a hunter of big game, and a lover of the Great Out-of-Doors, takes the reader from the shut-in life of the cities to the mighty wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

Hunters of big game will revel in this journey to the greatest range of big game on the continent; lovers of animal life will find keen interest in observing and studying with Mr. Auer the habits of the wild life of the far North, while the reader who loves the Open Places of God's Great Nature will be dominated by the intimate contact with the Majesty, Might, and Beauty of the Wilderness of Alaska and The Yukon.

We are given a liberal supply of that practical and useful information that we need in venturing into the Silent Places, interesting alike to those who roam the untrodden trails and to those who remain at home; we are told much that we should know about the romantic and Golden North, and all in a simple, unpretentious style that comes from contact with bigness.

The remarkable and numerous photographs with which Mr. Auer illustrates his work bring us very close to the great heart of the far-off Northern Wilderness.

Deseret Evening News: "He gives liberally of that useful and practical information needed by those who venture into the silent places, and he does it in so friendly a manner as to interest not only such as may themselves roam the untrodden solitudes, but also such as follow the trails in imagination from the peacefulness of their own fireside. The book is remarkably illustrated, both as to the number and the artistic beauty of the pictures, which further help to bring the reader very close to the heart of the far-off field."

CAWEIN, Madison.

THE REPUBLIC. A LITTLE BOOK OF HOMESPUN VERSE.

Mr. Cawein's latest volume of Poems was written with a purpose. In it he makes a plea for plain living and high thinking. In the second part of his little volume, which is appropriately named "In Homespun," he gives us something different from anything he has done heretofore. They are little messages of love and hope and cheer. Homely and refreshing as a drink from the old spring, in them a flavor of the soil of Good-will to God and man; and content, no matter what our lot in life.

Our Dean of American Letters, William Dean Howells, says of Mr. Cawein: "He has the gift, in a measure surpassed by no poet, of touching some smallest or commonest thing in nature, and making it live from the manifold associations in which we have our being, and glow thereafter with an inextinguishable beauty."

Review of Reviews: "Mr. Cawein's nature poetry is a vessel brimming with the Elixir of Youth in which our faded roses of remembrance renew once more their pristine freshness and perfume."

MINIONS OF THE MOON.

A Little Book of Song and Story.

In this new book of Poems Mr. Cawein has given us something entirely different from anything ever attempted before in American Verse. He speaks with authority of his American faery. They are the articulate elements which interpret for him the beauty of the world, symbols if you please with which she addresses the soul.

Mr. Cawein has long been sure of his following among those whose judgment really counts and for whom poetry to be real poetry must be a deep interpretation of Nature and the Soul of Man.

Boston Transcript: "It is Mr. Cawein's landscape feeling for nature which constitutes the most abiding contribution of his art to American poetry. In 'Minions of the Moon' we have been given a work of delicate beauty which communicates pleasure, and for this we are duly grateful."

THE YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PARK.

The World's Greatest Wonderland. America's only Geyser Land.

An entirely new and revised edition with new plates and new illustrations of this remarkable classic of The Yellowstone. Ever since its discovery, more than forty years ago, the Yellowstone Park has grown in popular interest. Its natural wonders surpass anything to be found in like compass elsewhere in the world.

To these attractions have been added others in the form of wonderful mountain roads built by the Government, and a system of hotels and camping facilities which make traveling through the Park a delight quite apart from its scenic interest.

The 1918 edition of The Yellowstone is the most comprehensive book on the Park ever published. It gives a complete history of that region, as well as a full scientific description of its natural wonders. It is also an admirable Guide Book.

Bulletin of American Geographical Society: "There is practically nothing relating to the Park of interest to intelligent readers that is not treated in this volume."

Toronto Saturday Night: "Gen. Chittenden is naturally in a position to write with authority on the development of this wonderful natural treasure-house of the American people."

SKETCHES OF GREAT PAINTERS.

"Sketches of Great Painters" treats in a biographical and critical way of fifteen great painters. Among these are the pre-eminent old masters, Leonardo, Raphael, Michel Angelo, Titian, Velasquez, Rembrandt, and Rubens; then there are Murillo, Van Dyck, and Reynolds, and the modern Millet, Corot, Turner, Whistler, and Rosa Bonheur.

This book is in no sense a formal history of art, nor does it attempt that thoroughness which is sometimes akin to boredom. But no one can read these "Sketches" now graphically presenting the life and personality of the painter, and then again entertainingly describing one of his masterpieces, without absorbing much valuable information about those great masters of painting, whose art has quickened our appreciation of beauty.

The Bellman: "Here we have a book which performs the inestimable service of bringing that enlightenment which stimulates appreciation and enjoyment of great masters, this time in the field of pictorial art. . . . Pleasantly untechnical, and graphic as well as accurate, it is especially a book for laymen. . . . Illustrated with Reproductions so excellent as to merit being taken out and framed."

EUROPEAN THEORIES OF THE DRAMA.

An Anthology of Dramatic Theory and Criticism from Aristotle to the present day in a series of selected texts, with Commentaries, Biographies, and Bibliographies.

A book of paramount importance. This monumental anthology brings together for the first time the epoch-making theories and criticisms of the drama which have affected our civilization from the beginnings in Greece down to the present day. Beginning with Aristotle, each utterance on the subject has been chosen with reference to its importance and its effect on subsequent dramatic writing. The texts alone would be of great interest and value, but the author, Barrett H. Clark, has so connected each period by means of inter-chapters that his comments, taken as a whole, constitute a veritable history of dramatic criticism, in which each text bears out his statements.

Nowhere else is so important a body of doctrine on the subject of the drama to be obtained. It cannot fail to appeal to anyone who is interested in the theater, and will be indispensable to students.

The introduction to each section of the book is followed by an exhaustive bibliography; each writer whose work is represented is made the subject of a brief biography, and the entire volume is rendered doubly valuable by the index, which is worked out in great detail.

In "Contemporary French Dramatists" Mr. Barrett H. Clark, author of "The Continental Drama of Today," "The British and American Drama of Today," translator of "Four Plays of the Free Theater," and of various plays of Donnay, Hervieu, Lemaitre, Sardou, Lavedan, etc., has contributed the first collection of studies on the modern French theater. Mr. Clark takes up the chief dramatists of France beginning with the Théâtre Libre: Curel, Brieux, Hervieu, Lemaître, Lavedan, Donnay, Porto-Riche, Rostand, Bataille, Bernstein, Capus, Flers, and Caillavet. The book contains the most complete bibliography to be found anywhere.

This book gives a study of contemporary drama in France which has been more neglected than any other European country.

Boston Transcript: "Mr. Clark's method of analyzing the works of the Playwrights selected is simple and helpful. . . . As a manual for reference or story, 'Contemporary French Dramatists,' with its added bibliographical material, will serve well its purpose."

CLARK, Barrett H.

FOUR PLAYS OF THE FREE THEATER: "THE FOSSILS," "THE SERENADE," "FRANCOISE' LUCK," "THE DUPE."

Authorized Translation—With an Introduction by Barrett H. Clark, and Preface by Brieux of the French Academy.

CONTENTS

Preface . . . . . Brieux
Antoine and the Free Theatre, Barrett H. Clark
The Fossils.—A Play in Four Acts, Francois de Curel
The Serenade.—A Burgeois Study in Three Acts . . . . . Jean Jullien
Francoise' Luck.—A Comedy in One Act, Georges de Porto-Riche
The Dupe.—A Comedy in Five Acts, Georges Ancey

Brieux says: "Antoine . . . it was who for the first time introduced to the public a large number of dramatists hitherto unknown, many of whom it is certain would otherwise never have had a hearing. He was the first to bring Ibsen to France, and François de Curel into international renown. Antoine showed us greater and finer possibilities in staging. . . . He reduced the number of stage conventions, he encouraged and successfully produced the works of new authors, and taught the general public to look for and appreciate dramatic work of better quality and nobler inspiration than that to which it had as a rule been accustomed."

Brander Matthews says: "The book is welcome to all students of the modern stage. It contains the fullest account of the activities of Antoine's Free Theater to be found anywhere—even in French."

DE LESSELINE, Liddell

*THE TWO CROMWELLS. A Prose Tragedy, in Three Acts.

"No more coining of men's groans and tears into greatness;" thus Richard Cromwell, in Act III, Sc. 1, as he abdicates the Lord Protectorship of England.

But Philosophy and Thesis are incidental only; the drama places the wife of a condemned conspirator between the antipodal characters of Oliver and Richard, and unfolds how, upon her desperate attempt at a rescue, hinges her own destruction; the estrangement of Oliver and Richard; Oliver's death, and the emergence of Richard from licentious roistering into the empyrean of self-sacrifice and renunciation.

Salt Lake Tribune: "The work is an example of dramatic tragedy of the old school, wherein human greatness is made to succumb to overwhelming circumstances; and amid our poor imitation plays of pathology it comes as a pleasant surprise. Literary students will welcome it as a sign of the reawakening of dramatic art; and, if presented, its true picture of life is sure to please the theatergoing public."

EATON, Walter Prichard

PLAYS AND PLAYERS—Leaves from a Critic's Scrapbook. Preface by Barrett H. Clark.

A new volume of criticisms of plays and papers on acting, playmaking, and other dramatic problems, by Walter Prichard Eaton, dramatic critic and author of "The American Stage of To-day," "At the New Theater and Others," "Idyl of the Twin Fires," etc. The new volume begins with plays produced as far back as 1910, and brings the record down to the current year. One section is devoted to American plays, one to foreign plays acted on our stage, one to various revivals of Shakespeare. These sections form a record of the important activities of the American theater for the past 10 years, and constitute about half of the volume. The remainder of the book is given over to various discussions of the actor's art, of play construction, of the new stagecraft, of new movements in our theater, such as the Washington Square Players, and several lighter essays in the satiric vein which characterized the author's work when he was the dramatic critic of the New York Sun.

Outlook: "There is meat here for all who are concerned with the development of the American stage."

FORAKER, Joseph Benson.

NOTES OF A BUSY LIFE.

In two volumes Mr. Foraker has sketched his experience of three years in the Union Army, three years on the Bench, four years as Governor of Ohio, and twelve years in the Senate of the United States.

He deals with many political and public events of great importance and, incidentally, with many national characters whom he met in connection therewith.

He quotes letters from Presidents Hayes, Harrison, McKinley, Taft, and Roosevelt, and from Senators Sherman and Hanna, Secretary Hay, and other distinguished Americans, which have never before been published.

He covers the Spanish-American War, the Panama Canal, and many other important subjects, closing with comments on modern developments in political methods and practices, having special reference to the Initiative, Referendum, Recall, and Primary system of making nominations, all of special interest at this time when these methods are being tested by practical experience.

The book will prove of special interest to all students of our political history, whether they are public officials or only public spirited Americans interested in the preservation of our Institutions.

Outlook: "To the reader these two volumes introduce a character worth knowing; a man of ability, independence, courage, and combativeness."

Louisville Courier Journal: "The entire work will prove instructive. The most valuable contribution to history is that portion which relates to the author's career in the Senate of the United States."

JUST A MINUTE.

Most of our minds are too sluggish or too absorbed to initiate serious and philosophical trains of thought. We need some other mind to give us a shove or a shock.

May this little volume act in that capacity, offering the bread of life to some hungry soul in that swiftly fleeting moment which is its only opportunity for perusal in one of those frenzied days through which all of us have to pass in our high-pitched modern life.

Worcester Gazette: "The little essays are wonderfully refreshing, containing none of the cut-and-dried philosophizing which is so distasteful to, and so little understood by, the majority of every-day men and women. Every reading sends out its uplifting message of good cheer and happiness, which cannot fail to have an effect upon the reader of especial value at this time of strife and frenzy."

BASS, PIKE, PERCH AND OTHER GAME FISHES OF AMERICA.

New Edition

The most comprehensive book on American game-fishes published. It describes in detail ninety species and varieties of the game fishes inhabiting fresh water lakes and streams east of the Rocky Mountains, and the marine and brackish waters of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

In addition to a brief, technical description of the fishes for the purpose of identification, the popular description and account of their habits, habitats, and everything relating to their environment is full and complete; the whole comprising a valuable compendium and text book for the angler with bait or artificial fly.

The style of descriptions of the various fishes is new, lucid, and entertaining. The suggestions and directions for angling, and tackle recommended are in Dr. Henshall's best style, and can be confidently recommended and relied on as they are in strict conformity with his own practice and experience which cover a period of more than fifty years.

*SHORT PLAYS.

To fill a long-felt want. All have been successfully presented. Suitable for Women's Clubs, Girls' Schools, etc. While elaborate enough for big presentation, they may be given very simply.

Review of Reviews: "A collection of pleasant one- to three-act plays for women's clubs, girls' schools, and home parlor production. Some are pure comedies, others gentle satires on women's faults and foibles. 'The Futurists,' a skit on a woman's club in the year 1882, is highly amusing. 'Entr' Act' is a charming trifle that brings two quarreling lovers together through a ridiculous private theatrical. 'The Ring' carries us gracefully back to the days of Shakespeare; and 'The Shadowed Star,' the best of the collection, is a Christmas Eve tragedy. The Star is shadowed by our thoughtless inhumanity to those who serve us and our forgetfulness of the needy. The Old Woman, gone daft, who babbles in a kind of mongrel Kiltartan, of the Shepherds, the Blessed Babe, of the Fairies, rowan berries, roses and dancing, while her daughter dies on Christmas Eve, is a splendid characterization."

MacMILLAN, Mary

*MORE SHORT PLAYS.

Plays that act well may read well. Miss MacMillan's plays are good reading. Nor is literary excellence a detriment to dramatic performance. They were put on the stage before they were put into print. They differ slightly from those in the former volume. Two of them, "The Pioneers," a story of the settlement of the Ohio Valley, and "Honey," a little mountain girl cotton-mill worker, are longer. The other six, "In Mendelesia," Parts I and II, "The Dryad," "The Dress Rehearsal of Hamlet," "At the Church," and "His Second Girl," contain the spirit of humor, something of subtlety, and something of fantasy.

Oakland Tribune: "When Mary MacMillan wrote her first volume of 'Short Plays' she performed a distinct service to a large number of boarding-school and college girls who had more than once sought, in vain, for the right play in which to place dependence for the amusement of an audience and of the players. Now Miss MacMillan has written more of these dramatic little offerings, all of them bright and rippling, some symbolic and whimsical, and not one uninteresting or dull.

"'More Short Plays' are to be read for the fun in their reading. They may be played successfully. The author has displayed a versatility that is surprising and refreshing."

THE LITTLE GOLDEN FOUNTAIN AND OTHER POEMS.

Some of these poems have appeared in "Poet Lore," "The Boston Transcript," "The International," "The Masses," "Midland," "The Club Woman's Magazine," "Men and Women," "The Smart Set," etc.

Some of them have been set to music by Louis Victor Saar, Wintter Watts, Sidney Durst, and others.

In form they run the gamut from the conventional French forms, the triolet, roundel, ballade, vilanelle, the Italian rispetti, the sonnet, blank verse, the more ordinary rhyme schemes, to the poet's own individual expression of free verse. In thought they vary, too, being concerned with philosophy, nature, description, religion, love, though love holds the dominance, as it does with poets.

SCHNITZLER, Arthur

COMEDIES OF WORDS AND OTHER PLAYS.
Translated by Pierre Loving.

The contents are: "The Hour of Recognition," "Great Scenes," "The Festival of Bacchus," "His Helpmate," "Literature."

In his "Comedies of Words," Arthur Schnitzler, the great Austrian dramatist, has penetrated to newer and profounder regions of human psychology. According to Schnitzler, the keenly compelling problems of earth are: The adjustment of a man to one woman; a woman to one man; the children to their parents; the artist to life; the individual to his most cherished beliefs; and how can we accomplish this adjustment when, try as we please, there is a destiny which sweeps our little plans away like helpless chessmen from the board? Since the creation of Anatol, that delightful toy philosopher, so popular in almost every theater of the world, the great physician-dramatist has pushed on both as world-dramatist and reconnoiterer beyond the misty frontiers of man's conscious existence. He has attempted in an artistic way to get beneath what Freud calls the "Psychic Censor" which edits all our suppressed desires. Reading Schnitzler is like going to school to Life itself!

Saturday Night, Toronto: "Indeed to the reader who can enjoy the drama in printed form—and we are free to admit that not everyone can do so—this collection of plays is of piquant, thoughtful and unflagging interest."

SEX PROBLEMS OF MAN IN HEALTH AND DISEASE.

This volume by Dr. Moses Scholtz, an expert on venereal diseases, is an entirely new departure in the literature of sex hygiene. It is the first attempt to present to the general public in a thoroughly scientific comprehensive way all the facts of the sex life of a man. A youth struggling for purity in his manhood will find powerful support and encouragement from a scientific viewpoint.

An unfortunate victim of venereal disease will be greatly enlightened and benefited by the wealth of information of a practical character. Next to the instinct of self-preservation, sex is the most powerful and dominating factor of human life. Its proper interpretation and control bring to man happiness and a fully developed healthy life. Its ignorance or abuse spell ruin in a destruction of body and soul.

SMITH, Wm. C.

THE BUSINESS OF FARMING.

The Preface of this splendid new volume by Mr. Smith contains a history of the science of farming from the dawn of creation down to the present time.

Among the chapters following this are "By-Products of the Farm;" "Utility and Conservation;" "Bookkeeping on the Farm;" "Care of Farm Machinery;" "Real Cost of Operation, Shipping, and Marketing Products;" "The Net Results Gained in Utilizing Your Farm Products, in the Feeding of Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep;" "Back to the Land Movement;" "Staying on the Farm," and many other valuable chapters.

The book deals with every phase and feature of the farm.

Practical Farmer, Philadelphia: "In these days of intensive farming, lots of brains must be used in connection with brawn, and this work is exceptionally well fitted to give great assistance. It treats of farming as a business, and the practical farmer can get much help from it. This book will also appeal to the layman who wishes to make a study of farming principles and conditions before he actually makes the farm his business."

STEWART, Dr. Thomas M.

*SYMBOLIC TEACHING: OR MASONRY AND ITS MESSAGE.

While this is a book of Essays having the Ancient and Accepted Order of Freemasonry as a basis, it is quite different from other books of its kind in that it goes to the heart of things. It carries conviction because the appeal is to one's own power of reasoning and intuition. The exercise of these faculties in reading even one of the Essays instills a desire to follow the golden thread of Ariadne which runs throughout the whole series.

The volume also contains a comprehensive bibliography of books on Symbolism.

Boston Transcript: " . . . Masons of all degrees will find a new and deeper meaning in the Craft if they read carefully this work written by a Past Master who obviously has been a thorough student of Symbolic Masonry and who obviously has taken it seriously. . . ."

THE MAN SINGS.

A volume of poetry marked by a spirit of frankness, the love of the human, and abiding reverence for the Creator. Written with the spontaneity that is the greatest charm of such lyrics.

The Poems are given a very artistic setting that attracts and pleases.

Chicago Herald: "Mr. Stott is a manly singer. His poems are worth sympathetic attention. 'The Gypsy's Song' and 'Winds o' March,' etc., have vagrant appeal both wistful and charming. 'Defending of all the Marys' strikes a note of deep pathos."

Worcester Gazette: "From a city of Ohio comes this product of Swedish fancy in most attractive attire, attesting that the possibilities of dramatic art have not entirely ceased in this age of vaudeville and moving pictures. A great sermon in altruism is preached in these pages, which we would that millions might see and hear. To those who think or would like to think, "Lucky Pehr" will prove a most readable book. * * * An allegory, it is true, but so are Æsop's Fables, the Parables of the Scriptures and many others of the most effective lessons ever given."

The Nation: "Those who like the variety of symbolism which Maeterlinck has often employed—most notably in the "Blue Bird"—will turn with pleasure to the short stories of Strindberg which Mrs. Howard has included in her volume. * * * They are one and all diverting on account of the author's facility in dealing with fanciful details."

THE HAMLET PROBLEM AND ITS SOLUTION.

The tragedy of Hamlet has never been adequately interpreted. Two hundred years of critical discussion has not sufficed to reconcile conflicting impressions regarding the scope of Shakespeare's design in this, the first of his great philosophic tragedies. We believe that all those students who are interested in the study of Shakespeare will find this volume of great value.

E. H. Sothern: "Your ideas of Hamlet so entirely agree with my own that the book has been a real delight to me. I have always had exactly this feeling about the character of Hamlet. PORTMANTEAU PLAYS. With an Introduction by Edward Hale Bierstadt.

This volume contains four One-Act Plays by the inventor and director of the Portmanteau Theater. They are all included in the regular repertory of the theater, and the four contained in this volume comprise in themselves an evening's bill.

There is also an introduction by Edward Hale Bierstadt on the Portmanteau Theater in theory and practice.

The book is illustrated by pictures taken from actual presentations of the plays. The plays are as follows: "Trimplet," "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," "Nevertheless," "Medicine-Show."

Brooklyn Eagle: "All of the plays in this attractive maroon volume are literary without being pedantic, and dramatic without being noisy. SOMETHING MORE. Sequel to "That Something."

It is claimed by many of the readers of "That Something" that its philosophy has awakened in them a desire to succeed in a material sense, but that there must be something more than this in life, something deeper, more kindly, something of tenderness and love. And they are right. There is "Something More," and the author has striven to set forth in this sequel to his former story a happier ending to life's strivings than simple material success.

EUROPEAN THEORIES OF THE DRAMA

By BARRETT H. CLARK

AUTHOR OF

"CONTEMPORARY FRENCH DRAMATISTS"
"THE CONTINENTAL DRAMA OF TODAY"
"BRITISH AND AMERICAN DRAMA OF TODAY," Etc., Etc.

A book of paramount importance. This monumental anthology brings together for the first time the epoch-making theories and criticisms of the drama which have affected our civilization from the beginnings in Greece down to the present day. Beginning with Aristotle, each utterance on the subject has been chosen with reference to its importance, and its effect on subsequent dramatic writing. The texts alone would be of great interest and value, but the author, Barrett H. Clark, has so connected each period by means of inter-chapters that his comments taken as a whole constitute a veritable history of dramatic criticism, in which each text bears out his statements.

Nowhere else is so important a body of doctrine on the subject of the drama to be obtained. It cannot fail to appeal to anyone who is interested in the theater, and will be indispensable to students.

The introduction to each section of the book is followed by an exhaustive bibliography; each writer whose work is represented is made the subject of a brief biography, and the entire volume is rendered doubly valuable by the index, which is worked out in great detail.

Prof. Brander Matthews of Columbia University says: "Mr. Clark deserves high praise for the careful thoroughness with which he has performed the task he set for himself. He has done well what was well worth doing. In these five hundred pages he has extracted the essence of several five-foot shelves. His anthology will be invaluable to all students of the principles of playmaking; and it ought to be welcomed by all those whose curiosity has been aroused by the frequent references of our latter day theorists of the theatre to their predecessors Aristotle and Horace, Castelvetro and Scaliger, Sidney and Jonson, d'Aubignac and Boileau, Lessing and Schlegel, Goethe and Coleridge."

Wm. Lyon Phelps of Yale University writes: "Mr. Clark's book, 'European Theories of the Drama,' is an exceedingly valuable work and ought to be widely useful."

THE SOCIAL EVOLUTION OF RELIGION

By George Willis Cooke, with a Foreword by John Haynes Holmes.

In his Foreword Mr. Holmes says of this book: "Two factors combine to make this a work not only of intense interest to the student, but of first-rate importance to the average reader:—

"On the one hand we have in this volume an exhaustive presentation of the entire field of modern history of religion.

"Secondly, this book is important for its study of what the discovery of the human origins of religion is going to mean to the religion of the future.

"The book is the fruit of a lifetime of patient and exhaustive inquiry. Mr. Cooke is a prophet quite as much as a scholar."

THE FAITH THAT MAKES FAITHFUL

By William Channing Gannett and Jenkin Lloyd Jones

This book by the director of the Abraham Lincoln Centre and editor of Unity is now in its 36,000th, an almost unparalleled success for a book of sermons. It has been translated into several languages. The explanation of its remarkble appeal to people of all countries is that it contains a little of pure piety unadulterated with theology, and is throughout inspired by the spiritual verities free from ecclesiasticism. It upholds no creed, and preaches no dogma, but is the Bible of the religion of mankind.

THROUGH THE LAND OF PROMISE

By Rev. P. A. Mattson, Ph. D., D. D., President of the Lutheran Minnesota Conference of the Augustana Synod.

Reminiscences from a journey in Bible lands, written mainly with the purpose of presenting those aspects of the Orient that other writers may have overlooked. The characteristic feature of this book is the localization of the holy places visited by the author.

For minuteness of observation and breadth of scholarly interests displayed by the author on every page, this book is unique among works of travel.

WHAT BILLINGSGATE THOUGHT

By Major W. A. Newman Dorland, Author of "The Sum of Feminine Achievement," etc.

The book consists of a country gentleman's letters to his son, dealing with snobbery. The quiet humor of this book is very much akin to that of the Satires of Horace. Obviously, the book is not intended for him who is "to the manner born." Therefore, all those belonging to the kingdom of "Snobocracy" will kindly refrain from looking beyond the cover. To all others we extend a cordial invitation to read. You will be delighted to include the Country Gentleman in the circle of your most intimate friends.

AMERICANISM VERSUS CHRISTIANITY

By J. G. Schwalm

The author presents new lamps for old, a religion of deeds in place of the religion of creeds. To quote the author, "The Church insists that the Infinite is interested in nothing but Christianity." Against this doctrine he proclaims the nobler religion of Americanism, which takes into its wide scope every interest, creed or color. "God," writes Mr. Schwalm, "is at least as good as the average American citizen and will not damn a man on account of his religion."

The book shatters the narrowness of sectarianism and the blindness of superstition and sets up in their place the worship of the American Ideal, the belief in the all-loving, all-embracing Infinite.

SPIRIT GOLD

By Louise Kiisel.

A tale about the regeneration of the young and shiftless son of old "iron" Selby. Having had more drink than was good for him, young John Buford Selby strikes down Van der Spool, another aristocrat, drifting aimlessly in the wealthy currents of the big city. Believing him dead, Selby flees to an old and practically devastated plantation in the South. Here he finds just the sort of thing he needs in order to bring out his better nature — a neglected estate which it takes all his ambition to rebuild and a beautiful girl which it takes all his energy to win. How he succeeds in both makes a mighty interesting story.

THE WIND IN THE GARDEN

By Hewes Lancaster

A quaintly fresh tale of the French folk living on the banks of the lower Mississippi. There are three kinds of love depicted in this book with the pen of a master, — the pathetic love of an old man for his only grandchild, the pure love of simple-hearted peasants for their fellows and the tender love of a delicate young girl for a sturdy-sinewed, big-souled and full-measured man.

The characters in this story of Louisiana are almost epical in the grand simplicity with which they are drawn. It is one of the stories that lingers in the memory.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE WAR

CAN SCIENCE ANSWER THE RIDDLE OF THE GRAVE

By Henry Frank

INTRODUCTION BY HEREWARD CARRINGTON

The author of this work has approached the problem of "Immortality" from a view-point wholly original and unique. Ignoring the time-honored metaphysical and philosophical interpretations, which have so often slipped on the shifting sands, he admits, at least for argument's sake, all the propositions and proclaimed principles of the mechanistic interpreters of Nature, and then, by a most incisive process of logical deduction, demonstrates the answer of Nature to be affirmative of Man's universal hope.

Coupling the discoveries of the materialistic biologists with the latest revelations of the physical sciences, especially in the wide field of electricity, he shows how they lead naturally to an affirmation of immortality, howbeit he discards the orthodox interpretation as a theological doctrine, and seeks wholly a scientific demonstration.

This work is the last of a trilogy on the Great Theme from the pen of this author, and brings the long historic and scientific research which he has traversed for a quarter of a century to a convincing culmination.

The publishers are convinced that no thoughtful, studious or investigating mind in this Age can afford to ignore this elaborate work.

Bound in substantial style, printed on heavy paper. Price, $2.50.

BETWEEN SCARLET THRONES

By Florence Willingham Pickard

A Biblical tale of the Holy Land in the time of the prophet Elijah, this book is, in the words of Dr. J. D. Hawthorn, "Silver-Tongued orator of the South," "a truly great work." In it the author has caught much of the simple spirit of the Iliad and Odyssey, recalling with the most vivid coloring of the true artist the ever-living soul of the past.

THE MAKING OF THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND

(A. D. 597-1087)

By Thomas Allen Tidball, D. D., Sometime Professor of Ecclesiastical History in the University of the South, Sewanee, now Special Lecturer in Early English Church History, Author of "Christ in the New Testament."

This history of the Church of England is written not for the learned scholar, but rather for intelligent and educated students who have had neither the time nor the opportunity to read the voluminous works of the great historians.

AMERICA'S MISSION

WILSON A PROPHET IN A LINE OF PROPHETS

By Frank Moss

This book shows that a continuous voice of prophecy to serve Humanity, emanating from the consciousness of the people, and proclaimed through our leaders, has rung out from the nation's beginning to the tremendous movement of 1918, when America and her allies delivered the world from autocracy and the rule of force.

DOUBLE-EAGLES

By Mark S. Gross

"Double-Eagles," boys, is a tale of fishing and treasure-hunting and hairbreadth escapes; pleasures dear to your hearts. The scene is laid along one of the beautiful streams of Missouri. Do you want to join in the adventure? Well, then, get into the boat yonder — "old Sam Jones" has two — and come along. We'll be glad to have you — as witnesses. Are you on board? Then shove off!

CHRIST AS A TEACHER

By John W. Wayland, Professor of History, State Normal School, Virginia, Author of "How to Teach American History."

This book has been written with the purpose of imbuing all present-day teachers with the spirit of the sacredness of their vocation. Mr. Wayland depicts the Saviour not as a conqueror, not as a political leader, and not as a ruler of men, but as a Teacher of the word of God. Simple in His method, direct in His aims, a master of His subject, He was the perfect model of all those whose mission it is to teach their fellows.

AFTER THE WAR — WHAT?

By James H. Baker, President Emeritus of The University of Colorado.

This book takes up the problems based on the reconstruction work after the war and discusses the effects of the war on Humane Ideals, Democracy (including Socialism and Labor), Efficiency and obligation to the state.

SHYLOCK NOT A JEW

By Maurice Packard, M. D.
edited and supplemented by Adelaide Marshall

This is an impassioned argument against the misconception of the Jewish character at the time of Shakespeare. It is not generally known that the so-called "Golden Rule" was also disseminated by the Jew Hillel who said, "Whatever is displeasing unto thee do not unto others: this is the foundation of Judaism." Accordingly Shakespeare's Shylock is shown in this book to be a caricature rather than a true picture of the Jewish nation.

SIDELIGHTS ON SHAKESPEARE

By Edwin Gordon Lawrence, Director of the Lawrence School of Oratory of New York.

This book is probably the greatest of Mr. Lawrence's greater works, the fruit of a life's studies and analyses of the works of Shakespeare. As a teacher of rhetoric, actor and student of literature Mr. Lawrence has in this book made a study of Shakespeare which has resulted in an intimate knowledge of the meaning of Shakespeare such as few ever come to have.

HADASSAH

THE STAR OF THE PERSIAN COURT
By Florette Truesdell Miller

The story of Esther in richly-colored verse. In this tale the author sets forth the purity of Esther's heart and life as the cause of her great influence with the heathen king, rather than her personal charms. Vashti, on the other hand, is pictured as being swayed by personal pride primarily. Mordecai is an unselfish non-conformist, obeying only the laws of the God of Israel.

WEDDING CUSTOMS THEN AND NOW

By Carl Holliday, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Toledo University.

In a most engaging style in which you can always detect a chuckle lurking, Mr. Holliday briefly outlines the customs attending love, courtship and marriage from the earliest times, when the savage knocked down his prospective bride with a club, down to the present, when the club lures the husband away from the bosom of his family. It is a book for all those who have been or are going to be married, as well as for those to whom marriage is taboo.

HYLETHEN AND OTHER POEMS

By Isaac Flagg

These poems, now collected for the first time in book form, are distributed along a period of forty years, during which time the author, (who is the son of Wilson Flagg, author of "Studies in the Field and Forest") was a teacher of Greek at Harvard, Cornell, and the University of California successively, till his retirement in 1909. The book is therefore a florilegium of the most golden moments in the life of a man in whom ancient beauty and modern thought are united in poetry of the purest workmanship.

THE HEART OF NAMI-SAN

A JAPANESE NOVEL OF WAR, INTRIGUE AND LOVE

By Kenjiro Tokutomi (The Japanese Tolstoi)

ENGLISH VERSION BY ISAAC GOLDBERG, PH. D.

Over 500,000 copies sold in Japan

This book dealing with the life of a Japanese naval ensign, and his beautiful wife, is full of action from the first word to the last. The love passages have all the light grace and romantic tenderness which only the Japanese are capable of, and the description of the naval battle is so vivid that it sets the heart beating faster, and the blood rushing through your system as though you were actually present. Then there is the problem of the mother-in-law, and its application to Japanese family life.

This book has won for its author the title of the "Japanese Tolstoi," and has been translated into every European language. Over half a million copies of this book were sold in Japan.

"I think this Anthology will have a deep interest for readers unassociated with academic life, for in the poetry world it may well serve as the yearly Spring of Song."

ANTHROPOLOGY UP-TO-DATE

By George Winter Mitchell, Professor of Classics, Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario.

In this fascinatingly written book on Anthropology, Prof. Mitchell tells the following humorous story to illustrate the danger of gathering your data by questioning savages and others about what you think they ought to know:

"To test the method of getting evidence by firing questions at all and sundry, I once made a systematic canvass to find out what meaning people attached to the Holy Ghost. I interrogated an eminent divine, a celebrated lawyer, a highly successful physician, and a clerk of a first-class hotel. To my question, 'What do you understand by the Holy Ghost,' the divine said, 'A sort of emanation from the Supreme Being.' The lawyer's answer was, 'A-hem, I'll look it up, and give you my opinion tomorrow,' and the physician's, 'Why really, I don't think I ever thought just what I did think about it.' The reply of the hotel clerk was brief, but quite as satisfactory as the others. He said, 'Rats.' "

THE TRAGEDY OF HAMLET: A PSYCHOLOGICAL STUDY

By Henry Frank

This treatise is something new even in a theme worn threadbare for over three hundred years.

The plan of the work is to make a study of each one of the acts, seeking its motive and main theme. This work called forth most interesting and extensive comments. A reviewer in the New Orleans Times-Picayune writing a three column critique says, "The brilliancy of these dissertations and the purity and elegance of the diction, captivate the attention and hold the reader enthralled."

The book is superbly illustrated by twelve photogravures representing the great actors who have played the title role from David Garrick to Southern.

Handsomely bound, making a beautiful gift book.

Over 300 pages, Price, $1.75 postpaid.

ANGLO-GERMAN RIVALRY AS A CAUSE OF THE GREAT WAR

By Oscar A. Marti

The following extract from the vision of the late Tolstoi, written in 1910, is the keynote of Mr. Marti's book, the title of which is self-explanatory: "I see floating upon the surface of the sea of human fate, the huge silhouette of a nude woman. She is in her beauty, her poise, her smiles, her jewels — a super-Venus. Nations rush madly after her, each eager to attract her especially. But she . . . flirts with all. In her hair ornaments of diamonds and rubies is engraved her name 'Commercialism!' . . . Much destruction follows in her wake . . . and the flame of war that the beautiful courtesan carries from city to city and from country to country."

THE SUM OF FEMININE ACHIEVEMENT

By Dr. W. A. Newman Dorland, Editor of The Chicago Gynaecological Society, and Secretary of the Illinois Society of the Order of Founders and Patriots of America

The book contains a minute, complete and fascinating account of the work accomplished by the women of the world. Mrs. Florence G. Tuttle, the New York novelist, writes: "I am amazed at the valuable amount of information that has been collected in this book. The author proves that woman's genius, in spite of obstacles, has flowered in every field in all time. . . . As a source of reference, alone, the book is invaluable. I marvel at the amount of research it represents."

The most valuable part of the book is an alphabetical appendix, most comprehensive in scope, of the great women of history, including those living at the present time, with an account of the life work of each.

In THE SUM OF FEMININE ACHIEVEMENT the author summarizes a thousand books in one.

THE RIDDLES OF HAMLET AND THE NEWEST ANSWERS

By Simon Augustine Blackmore, S. J., Professor of Philosophy and Literature, Campion College

A new and tremendously illuminating interpretation of Hamlet. Of Professor Blackmore's critical originality and fine insight into the real significance of the tragedies of Shakespeare the New York Times writes: "He shows not only the critic's insight, but the historian's vision. . . . His criticism will be of considerable assistance to those readers whose appreciation of the greatest plays in our language is as yet formal rather than genuine."

Whether you do or do not agree with Professor Blackmore's interpretation, you will see Hamlet in an entirely new light.

THE GOD OF VENGEANCE

By Sholom Ash, Translated by Isaac Goldberg

First produced by the famous director Max Reinhardt, at the Deutsches Theater, Berlin, in 1910, Ash's powerful play quickly made its way to the chief stages of Europe.

"The God of Vengeance" has been played all over Germany, Austria, Russia, Poland, Holland, Norway, Sweden and Italy. In Italy it created a marked impression during the entire season of 1916.

"The God of Vengeance", originally written in Yiddish, has been translated into Hebrew, German, Russian, Polish, Dutch, Swedish, Norwegian, Italian and French.

The English edition is translated, with introduction and notes, by Mr. Ash's authorized representative for the translation of his works into English, Isaac Goldberg, Ph. D., translator of "Six Plays of the Yiddish Theatre", Ash's novel "Mottke the Vagabond", "Three Plays by David Pinski", etc. It contains an introduction by A. Cahan, author of "The Rise of David Levinsky".

THE CLASSICAL INFLUENCE IN ENGLISH LITERATURE IN THE 19TH CENTURY, AND OTHER ESSAYS

By William Chislett, Jr., Ph. D.

The essays in this book, covering a wide field of authors and subjects, flow like a limpid river and bear the reader amidst delightful scenes and cooling breezes all the way from the classical sources down to the literature of the last century. For lucidity of expression, beauty of style and soundness of criticism, you will find that the book has few equals. Among the subjects so charmingly treated are: "The New Hellenism of Oscar Wilde," "The Platonic Love of Walter Pater," "The Influence of William Blake on William Butler Yeats." "The Work of Robert Bridges," "The Influence of Nonnus on Elizabeth Barrett Browning," etc., etc.

WOMAN'S VOICE

AN ANTHOLOGY EDITED BY JOSEPHINE CONGER, Editor of "Home Life."

THIS ANTHOLOGY presents a woman's view-point of life. Those whose words are quoted here are leaders in their various activities, being among our foremost writers, artists, teachers, actors, orators and organizers.

It is our earnest hope that this volume will circulate very largely in the women's clubs and particularly in the homes of our Nation. We want the millions of women who are feeling and thinking, but who are as yet inarticulate upon the larger affairs of life to find their need and their voice in this volume. We want that great isolated sisterhood, many of whom have never read a book by women on Social questions, to have this volume in their hands, and always near at hand; on the sewing table or on the kitchen cabinet, where it may be referred to between cake-making and bread-making times. We hope the children in these homes will memorize these poems, and recite them at the Friday afternoon "Literaries" in their schools. For this book contains in its pages the most precious gems by and about the women of this world. It is the Bible of the Feminine Movement.

THE CLASH OF THRONES

BY HENRY FRANK

THIS is the second edition of Henry Frank's sonnets written as the events of the great war successively followed one another, reflecting the changing spirit and feeling of each period. The poem on the "United States" was written in 1915 while yet our country fondled the great hope of peace, and kept out of war. This new edition contains additional sonnets on America in the war supplementing the other sonnets, and presenting the glorious realization of what the author realized in the first place, — namely, the justice of the cause of the Allies.

THE NEW CONVERT

By Sergei Stepniak (Kravchinsky)

A PLAY OF THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION, IN 4 ACTS, TRANSLATED BY THOMAS B. EYGES, WITH AN INTRODUCTION BY PRINCE PETER KROPOTKIN

Stepniak occupies one of the foremost places among the heroes that the Russian Revolutionary movement has produced. An artillery officer in the Russian army at twenty, he later became disgusted with the barbarity of the Russian government and devoted himself to the cause of the Nihilists.

In this play Stepniak depicts the real Revolutionist,—not the blood-thirsty, bewhiskered, bomb-throwing ruffian as he is generally pictured to be, but the gentle, sensitive, humanly loving and suffering friend of the down-trodden people.

"The New Convert is among the best of recent Russian translations."—Boston Advertiser.

"There is much beauty in the play, a warm sympathy pervades the whole and that big simplicity which emanates from all of Russia's great men."—Thomas Seltzer in the N. Y. Call.

PSYCHIC PHENOMENA, SCIENCE AND IMMORTALITY

(A sequel to "Modern Light on Immortality")

By Henry Frank

One year after the publication of Modern Light on Immortality the author fulfilled his promise to publish another volume setting forth his deductions from so-called psychic phenomena, bearing on the problem of immortality. This work proved to be even more of a storm centre than the former work, and equally as popular.

Sir Oliver Lodge, while not conceding the author's deductions, admitted their ingenuity and suggestiveness.

It appeared as "interesting as a novel" to a writer in Light, England; and to a reviewer in the Manchester (Eng.) Guardian, "one of the most interesting arguments ever presented."

This work is now in its second edition and enlarged.

Nearly 600 pages. Price, $2.50 postpaid.

RAPIDS AND STILL WATER

By Rutgers Remsen Coles

This book contains a number of sonnets which Mr. Coles spent some years in perfecting. The result is a form which is stately in its dignity and yet most flexible in the freedom of its movement. In addition to these sonnets, there are a number of narrative poems instinct with color and motion, and a highly interesting translation of a Greek poem in hexameter, — a meter most difficult to write in English and quite successfully handled in this book.

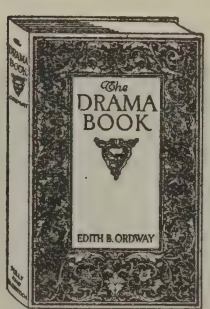
By EDITH B. ORDWAY

New and Enlarged Edition
8vo, cloth, fully illustrated, boxed,
net, $3.00

The same bound in three-quarter Morocco, gilt top, boxed . . . . . net, $6.00

This book contains practically all of the operas played in the four opera centers New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston during the past years, and some of the leading novelties and revivals. A brief, succinct, but clear account of the action of the operas, scene by scene. It is a real guide to the interpretation of what actually takes place on the stage, rather than a retelling in story form of each opera plot.



The Drama Book

By EDITH B. ORDWAY

8vo, cloth, gilt top, fully illustrated,
Boxed, net $3.00

The same, three-quarter Morocco,
Boxed, net $6.00

The Drama Book contains the stories of seventy-five or more of the more significant dramas that have been staged in the United States and England during the last six years. These include plays of a number of representative European dramatists—such as Ibsen, Bjornson, Maeterlinck, Tchekhov, Sardou, Sudermann, Strindberg, and Hauptmann—as well as English and American plays. The English playwrights are represented by such names as Barrie, Shaw, Wilde, Barker, Pinero, Galsworthy, Jones and Davies; the Irish playwrights, by Yeats, Singe, and Lady Gregory; the Americans, by Moody, Thomas, Fitch, Klein, Mackaye, and others.

The book is confined mainly to contemporary dramas, either those of recent success or perennial revival, although the stories of some dramas of the past that have been great favorites are included.

The stories follow the development of the plays act by act, as the aim has been to preserve the dramatic effect as much as possible. The style is simple, concise, and clear, and mirrors with unusual fidelity the dramatist's thought. Portraits of famous actors and actresses in the roles in which they excelled add to the artistic value of a volume which, in elegance of binding and clearness of typography, is distinctive.

The Study and Enjoyment of Pictures

By

GERTRUDE RICHARDSON BRIGHAM, A.M., Ph.D.

Instructor in Art, George Washington University.

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.25

A popular Guide to Pictures, resulting from the author's extended travel, teaching, and European study.

This book offers perhaps the widest range of subjects connected with pictures yet assembled in a single volume. It is written both for the general reader and the student.

It includes a résumé of art principles, a brief history of schools of painting, and a practical guide to pictures in Europe and America. Besides covering the text of picture study in advanced schools and colleges, the book suggests many other phases of review in Literature and History, the added use of which in an art course is optional with the teacher.

It is illustrated with artistic prints from works of the best masters, and contains a helpful Bibliography and a thorough index.

"Miss Brigham is thoroughly grounded in the principles of appreciation of art and knows her painting schools besides. As a practical guide to pictures to be seen in Europe and America—especially those in Boston, New York, Washington, Detroit and other American cities, giving equal value to modern schools of painting with the older schools, it is a unique compendium, and a very handy, because condensed, manual of the permanently best in picture shows."—The Boston Evening Transcript.

The Society of Trotty Veck Messengers was founded in 1916 by two young men—two messengers of cheer—who were obliged to live in the mountains but who believed that the only way to conquer mountains is to climb—and climb cheerfully.

One Thousand Literary Questions and Answers

By MARY E. KRAMER

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, $1.25

A thousand of the questions that come from time to time into the mind of almost every reader of general literature are asked and answered in this book. The questions are stated as briefly as they arise in conversation,—now a detached name of some character or book or author, again a line of poetry or the first words of some saying that has clung to memory quite unassociated with a name. The questions touch all periods and phases of English and American literature up to the present day, and are such as may reasonably be asked of any intelligent reader. Dramatic circumstances are noted, many obscure yet valuable facts are brought to light, illuminating connections made, and matters of salient interest pointed out.

"A worth while volume for the instruction of the general reader, full of data relating to literature of many sorts and answering some of those puzzling inquiries with which the 'Want to know, you know' puzzle newspaper people."—Detroit Free Press.

"We can do no better than say what the publishers say about the work and to add that they do not misstate or overstate any feature of the book."—Journal of Education.

How to Obtain Citizenship

The book contains an exact copy of the Constitution of the United States and the Declaration of Independence, with notes and explanations.

Handbook of Journalism

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

Each 12mo, bound in cloth . net, $1.25

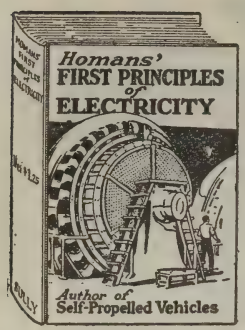
This is probably the first work of its class entirely devoid of theory and generality. The author is an experienced ex-journalist, who has experienced every kind of newspaper work from the setting of type to the editing of a daily paper. What he has to say comes first-hand to the reader, and as the result of actual experience with conditions. The book will be of untold value, not only to the newspaper men, but to those who would enter the profession, either as country editors, or as beginners on great metropolitan dailies.

"Altogether it is a capital book for the purpose."—Boston Evening Transcript.

"This is a sensible book of practical information of great value not only to newspaper men, but to those who have ambition toward newspaper work."—The Watchword.

Practical Arts and Sciences



Homans' First Principles of Electricity

By J. E. HOMANS

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.25

As either a primer of electrical science, or as a handbook of fundamental principles that would be appreciated by an advanced worker, this little book is in a class by itself. The author starts with the assumption that the reader, although, perhaps, unlearned in the science of electrics, really desires the information that one would expect in a book with such a title. He undertakes, therefore, to treat of the principles of the science, from the ground up, passing in review all the matters necessary to constitute a fundamental knowledge of all forms of electric current, with singularly lucid explanations of obscure points.

Homans' Automobile Handbook

By J. E. HOMANS

12mo, cloth, fully illustrated . net, $1.25

This book is a wonderfully complete summary, within the limits of a volume of moderate size, of the principles of construction and operation of a gasolene motor car and engine. Like other books produced by its author, it is distinctly readable, and characterized by lucid and thorough explanations of matters unfamiliar to the average reader. Few books that have appeared of late are better calculated to inform, also to interest, while imparting information.

"A handy book for any owner who looks after his own machine."—New York World.

"No finer book to study on wet days in the garage, or to have on hand in case of difficulties."—Montreal Weekly Herald and Star.

The Art of Speech Making

By NATHANIEL C. FOWLER, JR.

12mo. Cloth. . . . . net, 75 cents

This book, like all of Mr. Fowler's works, is intensely practical. He deals with facts and information, not with theories. He analyzes every form of speech or address, from the oration of the great statesmen to the everyday "remarks" of after-dinner speakers and others who address the public formally or informally. He gets down to the very bottom of speechmaking, and gives information which has not been printed in any book, and which can not be obtained in any other way.

"An excellent book for the man who doesn't know how to make a speech and wants to know."—North Carolina Education.

Signs, Omens and Superstitions

By Astra Cielo, author of "Fortune and Dreams."

12mo, cloth. . . . . net 75 cents

There are few persons no matter how rational or evel-headed who are given to superstition in some form, With some there is a deep-seated belief that evil will result from a ninfraction of a rule. With others an amused idea that if a ceremony does no good it can do no harm, and so to be on the safe side they carry out Some Mummery.

It is the object of this book to review the subject of superstition without prejudice or condemnation, but to present the data and explain their origin wherever possible, leaving it to the reader to reject such beliefs as seem absurd and irreconcilable with modern culture.

Fortunes and Dreams

By Astra Cielo

12mo. Cloth . . . . . net, 75 cents

A practical manual of fortune telling, divination and the interpretation of dreams, signs and omens.

This book has been compiled for the use of intelligent people who desire to know the various ways in which events have been prophesied by occultists the world over, and who wish to test their own faculties and consult the "Book of Fate" in their own behalf. The various methods and tables are offered to the reader at their own value, without any special claim for their accuracy or efficacy. Each inquirer must determine for himself in how far he may trust the oracle that he has consulted. Some of the material is new and is not to be found in modern books of this nature. Most of the tables have been gleaned from very old authorities.

An interesting and philosophical account of dreams, evidencing the possession of much sound psychological knowledge by the author. It is full of dream lore, but it is above the old superstitions on the subject. "It has the merit of not spinning insubstantial theories on untested evidence . . . it treats the subject in a sensible manner."—London Times.

"With a bright and occasionally humorous touch our author deals with the whole subject of dreams, and gives us a good working theory to account for them."—Western Mail.

JUVENILES

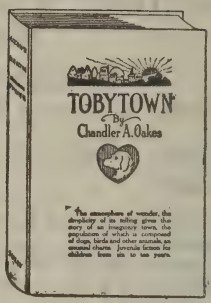
Tobytown



By Chandler A. Oakes

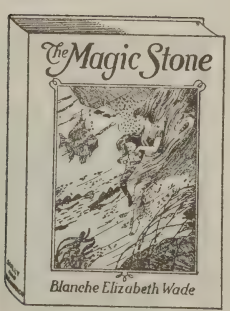
12mo, cloth, illustrated with four full page illustrations in two colors, and sixteen illustrations in the text . . . . . net, $1.00

An interesting story of animal life for youthful readers. It contains that mixture of the real and the fanciful bound to appeal to the inquiring minds of children from 6 to 8 years who delight in fairy stories. While this is not a fairy tale, it is unreal as the fantastic stories which have always had wide vogue. The dog Toby has many human qualities and exercises all the thought and resourcefulness of mankind in overcoming difficulties and attaining the ends sought. Dogs, birds, foxes, monkeys and other animals comprise the population of the ideal "Tobytown" over which its founder presides as a beneficial monarch.

"If Mother Goose, Father Æsop and Uncle Remus could collaborate in writing a story for present-day youngsters, the result would scarcely be happier than this bright and amusing little story of a town peopled by animals."—Philadelphia Press.

"The animals speak in carefully chosen English—and 'Tobytown' will on account of its careful use of words, win its way into many a home, where an educated mother wishes to keep the language of her children pure and free from slang for as long a time as possible."—Montreal Family Herald and Weekly Star.

The Magic Stone



By Blanche Elizabeth Wade

Author of "Anne, Princess of Everything." Fully illustrated with seven colored plates, quarto, cloth . . . . . net, $2.00

A Wonder Story which because of its boy hero, and the boys which appear in the course of the volume, is designed to make even boys like Fairy Stories.

It tells not only of "The Magic Stone," but also of the Lucky Spider, The Meadow of Joy, The Brook of the Happy Voice, The Enchanted Forest, The Key to a Little House, and, of course, about Christopher himself.

AN EXCEPTIONAL LINE OF BOYS' AND GIRLS' BOOKS

FOR CHILDREN FROM SIX TO TEN

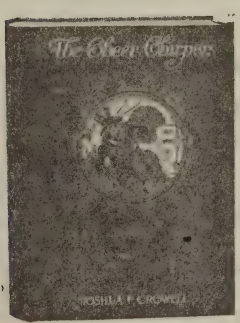
The Well-bred Dolls

By CAROLINE S. ALLEN

Bound in cloth, 12mo, fully illustrated with illustrations in color, and color jacket, ... net, $1.00

Here is a book that will delight and entertain the little folks and at the same time teach them some pertinent and instructive lessons. For the "Dolls" all have distinct personalities of their own, and exhibit characteristics—desirable and undesirable—which are common to doll-owners as well as to dolls themselves. "Polly Comforter," "The Doll Who Wouldn't Study," and "The Domestic Doll" are some of the chapter titles. The stories have the pleasant flavor of the olden days, when life was less fierce and manners were more gentle than now. An interesting feature of the book is a genuine letter, never before printed, which was written by an eye-witness of the battle of Lexington. Illustrated by F. Liley Young.

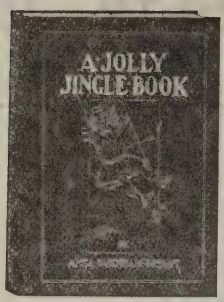
The Cheer Chirpers



By JOSHUA F. CROWELL

Bound in cloth, 12mo, fully illustrated with colored jacket . . . . . net, $1.00

Mr. Crowell possesses a remarkable gift in the amusing and delightful description of very small animal life. We can think of no one else but Lewis Carroll who has been a master of the same type of queer wit. Ants, grasshoppers, bees, birds and other diminutive creatures skip and flit and play and work through these pages. They will fascinate the children and amuse the parents who read about them. The illustrations by Mr. Dummer are a feature quite worthy of the unique and clever text.



A Jolly Jingle Book

By ANNE B. BRYANT

Bound in cloth, 12mo, fully illustrated with colored jacket . . . . . net, $1.00

Is sure to be a great favorite with mothers and children. It contains a collection of over fifty original poems of child life, about such fascinating little (or big) affairs as "The Circus Parade," "The Birthday," "The Christmas Tree," "Mud Pies," "The Lost Baby," "The Scare Crow," etc. The poems are delightfully rythmic—they sing themselves—and are worth remembering. The book is profusely illustrated with charming child pictures.

Little Miss Muffett Abroad

By ALICE E. BALL

A book that will appeal to children of all ages.

Illustrated with four color plates and thirty-six full-page drawings by H. Boylston Dummer, 12mo, cloth, with colored jacket.

net, $1.00

Who does not recall his childish, gleeful interest in one of Mother Goose's creations, Little Miss Muffet?

Miss Ball has studied the life of foreign nations both in books and by visiting many of them, and she has adapted the Miss Muffet idea to little girls of all nations, the national peculiarity in each case being cleverly depicted. The drawings by Mr. Dummer admirably fit the text and bring vividly before us the youngsters of far-away places whom Miss Muffet encounters in her travels over the world. "The big spider," that "sat down beside her" at home, is companionable compared to the creatures encountered in other lands, and finally Miss Muffet returns to her "curds and whey" with gladness.

The Rushton Boys Series

By SPENCER DAVENPORT

Three Titles—Four illustrations to each volume bound in decorated cloth, each book with a beautiful colored wrapper.

Each, 80 cents

Spencer Davenport has lived with boys all his life—in the country, in the city, on the water and on the great plains. He knows them and has gone through many a thrilling experience with them. He knows that they can tell the real from the artificial every time—quicker sometimes than can the grown folks, and he has been guided by this in writing.

You will like the Rushton Boys, Fred and Teddy, at once. Fred is so strong and so thoughtful, Teddy so full of fun and so apt to get into mischief. They were the lads who woke the old town up, and the lads who woke up the boarding school they attended. When it came to solving a queer mystery, the Rushton Boys were right on the spot.

   or Great Days in School and Out.

Nan Sherwood Series

By Annie Roe Carr

Four Titles—Four illustrations in each volume, bound in decorated cloth, each book with a beautiful colored jacket.

Each, ... 80 cents

In Annie Roe Carr we have found a young woman of wide experience with girls—in the schoolroom, in camp and while travelling. She knows girls of to-day thoroughly—their likes and dislikes—and knows that in their literature they demand almost as much action as do the boys. And she knows humor—good, clean fun and plenty of it.

1. NAN SHERWOOD AT PINE CAMP, or The Old Lumberman's Secret.

By the will of her parents, Nan is left to the care of an uncle and aunt who run a camp in the heart of Michigan. She is a city girl who finds the camp life exceedingly strange to her. Her uncle is in difficulties because of other lumbermen and Nan saves her relative by gaining possession of a rival lumberman's secret.

2. NAN SHERWOOD AT LAKEVIEW HALL, or The Mystery of the Haunted Boathouse.

To finish her education, Nan is sent to a boarding school and there makes both friends and enemies. The boathouse connected with the school is said to be haunted and Nan and some of her friends resolve to solve the mystery, which leads to many complications and much excitement.

3. NAN SHERWOOD'S WINTER HOLIDAYS, or Rescuing the Runaway.

During the winter holidays Nan is invited by a chum to visit her home in Chicago. While in the city Nan falls in with two girls who have run away from home to try to get work as motion-picture actresses. They are in sore distress when Nan comes to their aid. The story is filled with good times and not a little excitement.

4. NAN SHERWOOD AT ROSE RANCH (New), or The Old Mexican's Treasure

At Rose Ranch Nan had a variety of experiences. Several of the cowboys become her friends and they take Nan and her chums out on the ranges. There is a thrilling round-up of cattle and the particulars are given of a tornado that proved exceedingly destructive. A girl's tale with not a dull line in it.

Vance Barnum is a real treasure when it comes to telling about how magicians do their weird tricks, how the circus acrobats pull off their various stunts, how the "fishman" remains under water so long, how the mid-air performers loop the loop and how the slack-wire fellow keeps from tumbling. He has been through it all and he writes freely for the boys from his vast experience. They are real stories bound to hold their audiences breathless.

The hero of this series is a remarkable young fellow. He has a superb form physically, a keen eye and limitless nerve. He became a magician, an acrobat, a high diver and boy fish, looped the loop in the air on a motorcycle and made a sensation by his "dive for life" from one flying machine to another. And more than that—much more, in fact—he showed what a good friend he could be, when his room-mate, the jolly Dunk, began to follow after the fast set of Yale. By C. E. Arnold, A.M. On map paper, 9¼x 19 inches, folded within stiff covers, 3½x6½ inches. Four clear outline journey maps, showing the various periods of Jesus' ministry, with the events, and the location of the Scripture passages in parallel columns. 20 cents.

Historical Charts of the Life and Ministry of Christ

With an outline harmony of the Gospels. By George E. Croscup, B.A. Author of "A Synchronic Chart of United States History." The distinctive feature of this work is found in the two sheets of folding colored charts bound in at the back of the book. These charts make visible and real the earthly life of our Lord by localizing its historical facts and features, which are harmonized with the gospel story thereof, thus helpfully connecting time, place and event. Harmony and charts are interdependent, and make up the author's "visible method" of teaching history and applying it to the Gospel narratives.

This is destined to become a standard work, necessary to every Bible student's equipment. $1.00.

Wall Chart of the Life and Ministry of Christ

By George E. Croscup, B.A. Beautifully lithographed in colors. Size 44x64 inches. This chart is a wonderfully successful attempt to make the earthly life of our Lord more real by making visible the time and the place of the recorded events.

The Diagram of the Ministry is based upon the period of about three and a half years, and closely follows Prof. Matthew B. Riddle's Outline Harmony of the Gospels.

It also conforms to the well-known Harmony of the Gospels by Stevens and Burton, and with slight variations to the Outlines of the Life of Our Lord, by Dr. S. J. Andrews.

The chart contains three complete diagrams:

(1) A General View of the Life of Christ.
(2) The Ministry of Christ.
(3) The Passion Week.

It is hand-mounted on heavy muslin, with common rollers. $3.00.

The Heresy of Mehetabel Clark

By Annie Trumbull Slosson. One of the most beautiful of Mrs. Slosson's New England stories now issued in this special edition. It is the story of a girl in a mountain village, counted a heretic by her neighbors, but whose life reveals the reality of a strange and transforming vision that the country folk could not understand. The story has all of the distinctive qualities that led one reviewer to write of other work of hers, "literary art in which we have had no master since the pen dropped from the faint and feeble fingers of Hawthorne, and which seems native to Mrs. Slosson." Price, 50 cents.

Little Shepherd of Bethlehem, A

By Annie Trumbull Slosson. Mrs. Slosson has written many New England stories that have found a place among our distinctively American literary treasures in the appreciative estimate of both British and American readers and critics.

This story, a Christian blessing to any one who reads it, tells of a lonely boy among the New Hampshire hills who was profoundly moved to prepare in his own way for our Lord's return on Christmas Day. But it is impossible to do more than suggest the story. The story is appropriately offered in artistic book form especially suitable for a Christmas gift, with a frontispiece by Charles Stephens. 50 cents.

The Books That Are Timely at All Times

The book seller does not have to lie awake at night worrying whether or not these books will sell—HE KNOWS THEY WILL, just as surely as the grocer KNOWS that the sugar and flour in his stock are going to be carried away by anxious customers.

The book seller has this advantage, however, that he will make a greater profit than the grocer does from his staples, because we have always been fair with the book trade and given them a living discount sufficient to enable them to have a good margin above their overhead expenses.

JUST DISPLAY THEM—Keep them where the anxious eyes of the customers may see them and they will be constantly moving out of that book shop as if they had wings.

Then again, the book seller who takes pride in selling character-making books knows that he is in good company when he recommends them to his customers—in the company of great men and women who are ever ready by pen or word to endorse them.

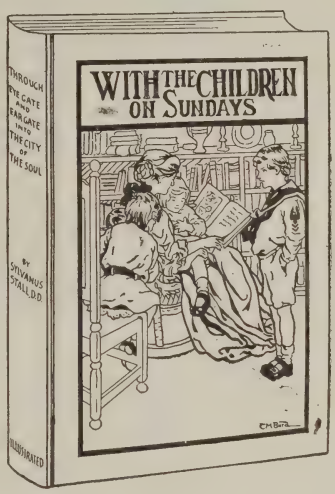
A Juvenile With A Message

With the Children on Sundays

BY SYLVANUS STALL, D.D.

135 Line Drawings, 8 Full Page Color Illustrations by Miss C. N. Burd

Large quarto volume, size 9½ x 7. Full cloth. Price, $1.50 net.



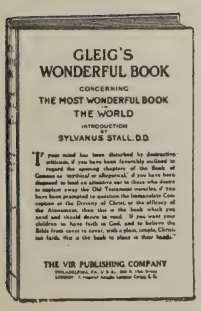
The author's avowed object is to render Sunday a delightful time without in any way detracting from the sacredness of the day. Realizing that the normal child mind is the same on every day of the week, he introduces the idea of "Playing Church." The little ones drive to Church with chairs for horses. They act as ushers for their parents, their dollies and imaginary auditors. A regular service is conducted. The children themselves do some of the preaching, and at the close of the service a chapter from "With the Children on Sundays" is read. Questions are asked concerning the lessons taught, and at the conclusion the children and their parents take the imaginary ride back to their home.

In addition to this there are many Old Testament scenes which are enacted: The boy behind the sofa is Joseph in the Pit; the boy looking through the slats of the chairs which are placed around him is Daniel in the Lion's Den, and so on. The entire book is new in the direction which it takes, and there never has been any book like it. Each of the 52 object sermons has a number of illustrations, and the full color page pictures and the half tone illustrations make the book exceedingly attractive. The chapters are all so interesting in this volume that one could scarcely speak of them as studies, but rather as illuminating conversations with the young. Those who have much teaching to do, and often find their lessons fall flat and are stale and unprofitable, will find it full of suggestions, bright and stimulating.

Gleig's Wonderful Book Concerning the Most Wonderful Book in the World

BY REV. GEORGE ROBERT GLEIG, M.A.

With Introduction by Sylvanus Stall, D.D.



711 Pages. $1.80 net.

This book was written upon the theory that the Bible is all true or it is not true at all. It presents the Bible as a whole, and in such a manner as to unify and centralize the 66 books, giving the reader that unity and comprehensiveness of view which the Bible student needs in order to make effective his reading and study of the Bible itself, and it does two very important things; First, it creates an atmosphere in which doubt and unbelief cannot live; second, at the end of each chapter it answers the questions concerning the Bible suggested by Satan to the mind of every intelligent Bible reader.

William E. Barton

WHEN BOSTON BRAVED THE KING. A story of tea party times. Illustrated. 314 pp. Cloth. $1.50.
This story is intended to be accurate in its representation of historic characters and events; to give a true picture of life and thought in Boston before the Revolution, and to bring to the front the young people of the time, together with their interesting seniors.
It brings into high relief the earnestness and patriotism of those who, in the destruction of the tea, led in the brilliant and historic protest against the aggressions of the British government.

THE PRAIRIE SCHOONER. A story of the Black Hawk War. Illustrated. 382 pp. Cloth. $1.50.
The scenes in this book are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago.

James Newton Baskett

SWEETBRIER AND THISTLEDOWN. A story. With colored illustration. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.
This is an exceedingly interesting story by the author of "At You-All's House." Its characters are the most pleasing which have been woven into modern fiction. Throughout the entire book the author has introduced many bits of nature study which add much to the interest and value of the book.

Adelaide S. Baylor

ADVENTURES OF MISS TABBY GRAY. Beautifully illustrated throughout by Josephine Bruce. $ .50.
A profusely illustrated story, in verse, about a cat, its encounters with other cats, and a famous banquet that it gave. The illustrations fit the verse admirably and will be greatly enjoyed by the young readers. The book is well adapted for a special gift-book.

LIEUTENANT RALPH OSBORN ABOARD A TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYER. Illustrated. 342 pp. Cloth.

$1.50 each

Commander E. L. Beach's stories for boys of the United States have helped immensely to explain the inner workings of an American man-of-war and to inspire patriotism and heroism in the young men of this generation. Mr. Beach writes of real events and true incidents in the Navy, and brings into play all the expert knowledge of the Navy which he has gained through years of experience.

Naval officers are one of the few classes of Americans who actually have interesting adventures now-a-days; consequently the navy appeals to the boy's imagination much as it did in the days of wooden ships. Commander Beach has put into his series of stories about Ralph Osborn some valuable information about the American navy, and much of his own life experience.

Amy E. Blanchard

Revolutionary Series for Girls

Illustrated. 3 vols. $1.50 each.

A GIRL OF '76. About Colonial Boston. 331 pp. Cloth.

A REVOLUTIONARY MAID. A story of the middle period in the War for Independence. 321 pp. Cloth.

A DAUGHTER OF FREEDOM. A story of the latter period of the War for Independence. 312 pp. Cloth.

The first volume of this series treats of the early period of the Revolution; the second of the middle period, while the last deals with the closing events of the long and successful struggle for independence.

This series, as shown by its titles, covers the most important periods of our nation's Revolutionary history. The stories are primarily written for girls, and the homes and heroines depicted are drawn so as to give peculiar interest to their readers. The value of these books as real history and as an incentive for further historical study can hardly be overestimated. They are full of interest to young people and recommend themselves to every one who likes to see books that build characters in the hands of young readers.

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS. Illustrated. 284 pp Cloth. $1.35.

If there is one thing that Miss Amy E. Blanchard knows well it is the child's heart, and this knowledge stands her in good stead in her recent book. The story runs into just such conversation and escapades as three young girls are liable to indulge in.

ELIZABETH, BETSY AND BESS—SCHOOLMATES. Illustrated. 320 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

This is the story of the school days of the three girl chums and shows the individual development of each one. Every chapter is full of the interesting experiences dear to the hearts of girls of this age.

THE CAMP FIRE GIRLS OF BRIGHTWOOD. A story of how they kindled their fire and kept it burning. Colored frontispiece. 309 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

What the Boy Scout organization means to the boys, Camp Fire Girls means to their sisters. It is a well grounded organization, having high aims of helpfulness and personal service and this story shows the development in the character of those who made up the organization in the little town of Brightwood, their difficulties and triumphs in forming their organization; and the experiences and pleasures enjoyed by them are woven into an intensely interesting story by an author who is devoted to the work.

FAGOTS AND FLAMES. A story of winter camp fires, with colored frontispiece by Frank T. Merrill. 306 pp. $1.35.

This is a companion volume to "The Camp Fire Girls of Brightwood," but absolutely independent of it. The author has carried along the characters in the former story, bringing into prominence the true-hearted country girl, Kathleen Gilman. It is brightened with girlish fun and by the ceremonials of the Camp Fire Girls, and will be dear to the heart of every member of the Camp Fire organization.

IN CAMP WITH THE MUSKODAY CAMP FIRE GIRLS. A story of the Camp Fire by the Lake. Illustrated with colored frontispiece. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.35.

Readers of this volume will recognize many of the old characters of whom they have read in "The Camp Fire Girls of Brightwood" and "Fagots and Flames." When the opportunity came for a summer's outing, full of the pleasures and experiences of Camp Fire life, these Camp Fire Girls grasped it. The story is of their experiences which attended this life in the open. It is a pretty picture of wholesome out-of-door life surrounded by the spirit of the Camp Fire.

A GIRL SCOUT OF RED ROSE TROOP. A story for Girl Scouts. 320 pp. $1.35.

Every girl who is now a scout, every girl who would like to be a scout and is not — both will want to read this story by an author who herself knows all about scouting. Today the girl scouts are doing their share in what has to be done. They are looked upon as a national organization, which tends not only to the development of the girls, but also offers opportunities for practical and patriotic service.

THE BALASTER BOYS. A story. Illustrated. Cloth. 294 pp. $1.35.

"The Balaster Boys" is based upon the home life of a professor's family which contains three wide-awake boys and their cousin, an orphan girl who becomes their adopted sister. The portrayal of their individual characters and of the influence they exerted over one another in their work as well as their play furnishes the theme of a bright and wholesome story that can be read with interest by boys and girls alike.

WINIFRED WEST. A story. Illustrated. 371pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"Winifred West" is a child of a simple country home in Massachusetts, well trained and cultivated as far as her surroundings permitted. She early developed a taste for the violin, and her parents decided to give her the advantage of a winter's study in Boston under one of the finest masters. Here, thrown upon her own resources, she attested the power of worthy training and of a noble character. Full of sunshine and devoting herself steadily and persistently to her work, she won recognition personally, as well as a player upon her favorite instrument.

Ellen Douglas Deland

MALVERN. A neighborhood story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth.

The neighborhood in question is in New Jersey, and furnishes a queer assortment of boys and girls, whose plans and activities form the material for this entertaining story. Miss Deland understands boy and girl nature, and also how to tell a story. A visit to the World's Fair forms a considerable part of the book, recalling pleasantly many features of the Unique White City whose like probably will not be seen again.

A SUCCESSFUL VENTURE. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

Four girls, with a brother, left destitute by the death of their father, find that they must make their own way in the world. They scandalize their dignified aunt by deciding to earn their own living. They are refreshingly honest and natural, and their plans, as conceived and carried out, make an exceptionally fine story.

The author has displayed ability in planning the course of action of her agreeable young people and in working out her plot effectively. Its blending of good sense and entertainment will be appreciated.

THREE GIRLS OF HAZELMERE. A story. Illustrated. 360 pp. Cloth.

"Three Girls of Hazelmere" is a story of three young women living in a Massachusetts village who make a trip abroad to fit themselves for particular lines of work. Their experiences in England, France and Germany are entertainingly told. They learned much in which the ordinary reader will have an interest. The charm of the book is in its shifting scenes, amid which pleasant people come and go.

THE FRIENDSHIP OF ANNE. A story. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth.

"The Friendship of Anne" is founded on boarding school life that is full of activity. The author apparently knows girls well, their weaknesses, hopes and aims. Every girl will enjoy the enthusiasm which runs throughout the story, and as for the characters, one cannot but sympathize when sympathy would be appreciated, and rejoice with them in their triumphs.

KATRINA. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth.

The background of the story of "Katrina" is a New England village, with its quaint, oldtime people, the old Perkins home being the central point of interest. Katrina was reared there by an old aunt, cold and stern as the climate, but at heart devoted to the young girl.

THE YOUNG SUPERCARGO. A story of the merchant marine. 352 pp. Cloth.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" of books for boys, by William Drysdale, which the New York Sun called "the very best stories for young people we have ever seen," are four in number — "The Young Reporter," a story of Printing House Square; "The Fast Mail," a story of the railroad; "The Beach Patrol," a story of the life-saving service; and "The Young Supercargo," a story of the merchant marine.

"The Brain and Brawn Series" are of a higher moral tone and character than almost any books for young people we have read, and we hope they will be introduced freely into home circles and in all libraries. THE BOY SCOUTS IN THE DISMAL SWAMP. Colored frontispiece. 310 pp. Cloth.

Walter P. Eaton, whose boy scout story of Berkshire has already gained a popularity, has taken his little band far from their original camping ground in his new story, "The Boy Scouts in the Dismal Swamp." The Dismal Swamp of today is not what it was fifty years ago or the band of scouts would not have come out as well as they did. While in it, they saw sights enough to verify the name, but much strange beauty of vegetation, much geological development of unfamiliar kind. The adventures with the law and the lawless add spice to the story which keeps up the standard of the other books of the series.

BOY SCOUTS IN THE WHITE MOUNTAINS. The story of a hike over the Franconia and Presidential Ranges. Colored frontispiece. 320 pp. Cloth.

Intimate knowledge of the country as well as of the basic principles of Boy Scouting characterizes this new volume by Mr. Eaton. It is the third of the series and is interesting to all Boy Scouts, as well as those who contemplate becoming Boy Scouts, or who have not even thought of it yet.

BOY SCOUTS OF THE WILDCAT PATROL. Colored Frontispiece. 315 pp. Cloth.

This story is a continuation of the history of Peanut and the other characters which appeared in previous volumes by this author. Some of the former characters have developed into Scout Masters themselves and the story shows what they have learned in the way of Boy Scouting and how they passed it along to others.

PEANUT—CUB REPORTER. A Boy Scout's life and adventures on a newspaper. Colored illustration by Frank T. Merrill. 320 pp.

A rattling newspaper story with Peanut as the central character—he who has figured so prominently in the author's four Boy Scout books. The organization and management of a modern newspaper is carefully portrayed, developing the principles of loyalty and service which animates the best reporters, and Peanut, applying the principles learned in his Boy Scout work, shows his mettle.

BOY SCOUTS IN GLACIER PARK. 336 pp.

This is an accurate story of the life of two scouts in Glacier Park, with all the adventure which goes with a summer's outing in the mountains. There is no portion of the Rocky Mountains which offers any more beautiful scenery and opportunities for out-of-door life and tramping tours, than does Glacier Park. The two scouts found that their knowledge of woodcraft and scouting served them in good stead. From the moment the boys reached the gateway of this great Park, until they turned their backs upon it, homeward bound, they did not lack for interest or excitement. The volume gives an accurate and descriptive picture of this Park, and might well be used as a guide book. This book is illustrated by wonderful photographs.

WITH THE FLAG IN PANAMA. A story of the building of the Panama Canal. Illustrated. 356 pp. Cloth. $1.35

This is a timely story, full of adventure, but still conveying an accurate idea of the work of building the great Panama Canal. Few appreciate what the building of this canal really means, but from the author's own experience he has drawn the facts so as to give a pretty good idea of just what is really going on. Starting at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on what he believed to be the technical engineering career, the young hero finds himself forced to abandon it and take up the practical side of his profession. His adventures and hardships through which he passed, the success which he met with, all have their places in what will be called one of the best stories for boys.

A COURIER OF EMPIRE. Being a story of Marcus Whitman's ride to save Oregon. Illustrated. 315 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This is a book for boys pre-eminently and a book that ought to interest people in home mission work. While it is a story of adventure—of adventure of the wildest sort, of fights between white men and Indians, and the discovery of gold and all that—it is far more. It tells one of the heroism of those early missionaries, of the way in which they rode in the face of appalling difficulties, and also it tells us of the noble and successful effort made by Marcus Whitman wherein, by a ride which was regarded by the people of that day as almost superhuman, he saved Oregon to the United States.

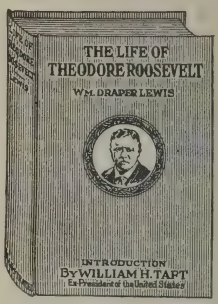
Lewis, William Draper, Ph.D., (former dean of the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania)
THE LIFE OF THEODORE ROOSEVELT with an introduction by William Howard Taft, Ex-President of the United States.



This book, written by one who was associated with him for many years, tells the whole thrilling story of his wonderfully versatile, life of his boyhood and early life, of how he became a leader of the New York Assembly at twenty-four, a candidate for Mayor of New York at twenty-eight, Civil Service Commissioner at thirty-one, Police Commissioner of New York at thirty-seven, Assistant Secretary of the Navy at thirty-nine, and Army Colonel at forty, Governor of New York at forty-one, Vice-President at forty-two, and President of the United States at forty-three, the youngest man who ever filled that office. It tells of how he hunted big game in the United States, in Africa and in South America. It tells of how he organized the Rough Riders, and LED THE CHARGE OF SAN JUAN HILL. It tells of how he settled the Great Coal Strike, of how he made the Panama Canal possible, of how, during the World War, in the greatest crisis in our country's history, he has held up the Torch of Americanism as did no other man.

He has done more than any other of his time to arouse the conscience of the American nation, and has left his mark on the history of the World. A book of inspiration and a fitting memorial to THE FOREMOST AMERICAN.

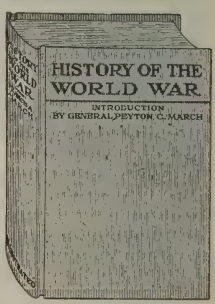
March, Francis A., Ph.D., with an introduction by General Peyton C. March, Chief of Staff, U. S. Army.
HISTORY OF THE WORLD WAR



A complete and authentic narrative, illustrated with official war pictures of the American, Canadian, British, French and Italian Governments. Including the Treaty of Peace and League of Nations Covenant.

In the foreword of this book the Author says: "Two ideals have been before us in the preparation of this necessary work. These are simplicity and thoroughness. It is of no avail to describe the greatest of human events if the description is so confused that the reader loses interest. Thoroughness is an historical essential beyond price. So it is that official documents prepared in many instances upon the field of battle and others taken from the files of the governments at war, are the basis of this work. Maps and photographs of unusual clear ness and high authenticity illuminate the text. All that have gone into war making, into the regeneration of the world, are herein set forth with historical particularity.

"Written frankly from the viewpoint of America, it visualizes the bloodiest and most destructive conflict of all ages from its remote causes to its glorious conclusion and beneficent results."

The Book comprises about 750 octavo pages (size 6⅞ x 9½ inches), over 200 illustrations, including portraits, maps, etc. Handsomely Bound in Cloth with Title Stamped on Side and back in Gold. Price.....Net $3.25

Nearing, Scott, Ph.D. (Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, Toledo University)

POVERTY AND RICHES: A STUDY OF THE INDUSTRIAL REGIME

Scott Nearing undertakes to tell why the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer; he points out how the vast wealth produced in this country is controlled, and claims that the heaven of the rich is founded on the hell of the poor. He points out a cure for the rising cost of living; he demands that honest, industrious men be spared the exhausted faces of their women and the sobs of their under-fed children.

A great book, built with science and conscience; packed with sympathy for the poor; crowded with facts, explanations and arguments that will arouse the interest of every lover of social justice. Illustrated with numerous photographs of actual conditions among both rich and poor, and other stirring pictures by celebrated artists. 293 pages. Cloth. Illustrated. Price.....Net $1.00

ANTHRACITE: AN INSTANCE OF NATURAL-RESOURCE MONOPOLY

Dr. Nearing uses the private ownership of the anthracite coal fields to show the way in which consumers and workers may expect to fare at the hands of other monopolies of natural resources. He shows that the price of coal is not based on the cost of production, but on the monopolistic principle of charging "all the traffic will bear;" he shows that the miners receive scarcely living wages, many of them less than that, while on the other hand the mine-owners pocket enormous profits; and draws the conclusion that no one can have an interest in the continuance of the private ownership of natural resources except the private owners themselves—with the consumers footing the bill. The book is an incisive, stimulating analysis of a problem that is vital to every man, woman and child in the country. 251 pages. Cloth. Price.....Net $1.00

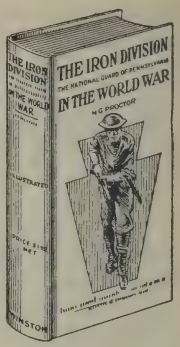
Pennypacker, Samuel W., former Governor of Pennsylvania

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PENNSYLVANIAN UNALTERED UNEXPURGATED UNEDITED

Probably no writer dealing with public affairs and public men, since the publication of the famous "Pepys' Diary" has exercised so much freedom and intimate knowledge in commenting upon men and events. But while there may be special interest in the blunt references to nearly every man connected with the public life of Pennsylvania for the last fifty years, the value of the book as an important contribution to the literature of the State lies in the fact that Governor Pennypacker was perhaps the greatest student and chief exponent of Pennsylvania history. He himself says that he was the first to insistently call attention to the importance of the State of Pennsylvania in American life. Cloth, gilt top, 560 pages, illustrated. Price.....Net $3.00

Proctor, Harry G.

THE IRON DIVISION IN THE WORLD WAR (The National Guard of Pennsylvania)



In every great war there has been an Iron Division or an Iron Brigade. Troops won the title by unusual and conspicuous gallantry on the field of battle. In this narrative is set forth in a straightforward manner WHY and HOW The National Guard of Pennsylvania emerged from the WORLD WAR known far and wide as THE IRON DIVISION.

In this book anecdotes and stories, incidents included in official reports, statements and letters of active participants in the various battles, reports of competent, capable eyewitnesses, men apart from battles who were paid to see and write what they saw, are woven into a comprehensive, intelligent, stirring narrative. It is replete with personal incidents, with the names of Pennsylvania heroes, the names of their units and the localities from which they came.

It is written by a man who for fifteen years has followed closely the fortunes of the Old National Guard, himself served in one of the regiments, knows the mind and heart of the typical average guardsman and counts his friends and acquaintances among the commissioned and enlisted personnel by the hundreds. Many of these friendships of long standing have been ruthlessly severed by the war and there is more than sympathy and understanding and deep appreciation in the handling of this history.

Bound in cloth, 288 pages, illustrated. Price.....Net $1.00

Scull, E. Marshall

HUNTING IN THE ARCTIC AND ALASKA

New Printing. This is the story of a summer cruise down the Yukon River, through Bering Strait to Herald Island and Northeastern Siberia, and by Bering Sea to the Alaska and Kenai Peninsulas. The book is of particular interest, because Mr. Scull's party was the first one successfully to accomplish a hunting trip into this part of the Arctic. Mr. Scull tells the story of a big game hunt, of which the trophies include specimens of practically all the game to be met with in Alaska, the western Arctic Ocean, and the shores of Siberia. The tales of adventures which befell the party, and Mr. Scull's personal impressions of the important places in the interior and around the coast of Alaska, add greatly to the book. Crown octavo. 304 pages. 136 illustrations and 11 new maps. Price.....Net $2.50

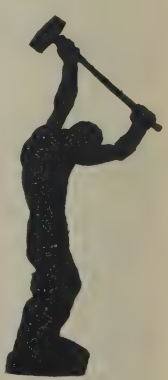
THE CRY FOR JUSTICE (Workers' Edition)



An Anthology of the Literature of Social Protest, collected from twenty-five languages, covering a period of five thousand years, with an introduction by Jack London. Stone, William A., Former Governor of Pennsylvania

THE TALE OF A PLAIN MAN

In what is, perhaps, the most unique autobiography ever written by a Pennsylvanian, former Governor William A. Stone has set down the record of a long and useful life, filled with noteworthy accomplishments. His friendships were with the illustrious as well as with the common people. He was in the center of the political whirlpool; and his story—unusual in its philosophy and inimitable in its style of telling—throws new light on many of the happenings of the past three decades.

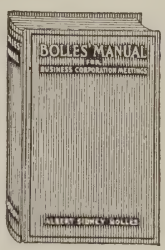
Bolles, Albert Sidney, Ph.D., LL.D. Author Modern Law of Banking, Banks and Their Depositors, Bank Officers. Formerly Professor of Commercial Law and Banking at the University of Pennsylvania. For 20 years editor of the Bankers' Magazine.

BOLLES' MANUAL FOR BUSINESS CORPORATION MEETINGS (Published 1918). Founded on the judicial interpretation of the rules of parliamentary law, applicable to all the states of the Union and to Canada.



This work covers a field not within the scope of any other parliamentary manual. It contains a full legal exposition of all matters of parliamentary practice by all the courts of last resort in the United States and Canada, as well as all the decisions of the courts of Great Britain deemed applicable to the subject. In the ordinary parliamentary manual, very little attention is given to the time and place of the meetings of associations, yet these matters have been the subject of much judicial inquiry and decision. What meetings, if any, can a business corporation hold outside the state of its incorporation is a live question, asked constantly, but to which no answer can be found in parliamentary manuals.

The qualifications and duties of inspectors of elections are of growing complexity and importance. Likewise, the mode of holding meetings, the selection and duties of the chairman, the rule of the majority, the right of discussion at meetings, the rights of absentees, and how their absence affects the legality of a meeting's proceedings. Who can vote, is another question with many applications, to trustees, executors, option holders, corporations, pledgors and pledgees of stock, etc. Much of the voting nowadays is done by proxies. Many questions have arisen concerning them, all of which are answered in this book. There is a chapter also on voting, the rights of corporations to vote, and all the judicial decisions relating to cumulative voting. Voting agreements have been the subject of frequent judicial inquiry. The courts have greatly modified their earlier views, and the present state of the law is here fully set forth. Beside these matters, many others, pertaining to elections, by-laws, remedies for impending improper action, or for acts unlawfully done, keeping of the minutes, etc., render this a needful book to every business corporation. 16mo. 518 pages.

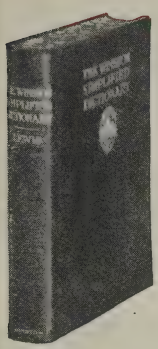
A New and Original Work, Not an Abridgment or an Adaptation from a Larger Work

THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY



The Genuine Flexible Leather Style has round corners and marbled edges. Titles on side and back are stamped in gold.

Including all the Words in Common Use Defined so that they can be Easily Understood

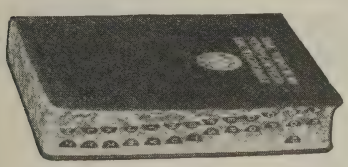
Edited by WILLIAM DODGE LEWIS, A.M., Pd.D.
Principal of the William Penn High School, Philadelphia, and

EDGAR A. SINGER, Ph.D.
Professor of the History of Modern Philosophy, University of Pennsylvania

Assisted by a Corps of Experienced Teachers

With over 800 Illustrations in the Text and Eight Full-page Color Plates

Clear and Easily Understood Definitions



The Flexible Leather Style has Patent Thumb Index cut on edge.

Other dictionaries of like purpose have been made by condensing larger works. This plan resulted in definitions which are harder to understand than those of a larger dictionary. For example, you find that contagion is "transmission of disease," but fail to get the idea unless you know the meaning of transmission. If you look at the word "contagious," you find that it is "communicable or spreading by contagion." If you are industrious enough to look up transmission, you find that it is "the act of transmitting; state of being transmitted." You may look below to the verb transmit and find the key to this problem; or you may satisfy yourself with a guess long before you have run the definition down by repeated references. THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY makes every entry clear, and explains every word in such simple language that only a single reference will be needed. Even in closely related words like the noun "transmission," and the verb "transmit," each definition is complete in itself.

Unlike Any Other Dictionary

An extraordinary amount of the most careful and original work has been given to this book by experienced scholars and experts. New kinds of material have been introduced; new methods of clarifying meanings discovered; and the entire book harmonized. Careful judgment has been exercised on every question of method and form, while the simplicity and adequacy of all scientific statements have been carefully verified. THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY represents CAREFUL SCHOLARSHIP AND WIDE EXPERIENCE, such as has not been given to any dictionary of like purpose previously published.

The Cloth Style is a rich book. It is bound in the finest cloth made and has design on side and back stamped in gold.

A Large and Carefully Selected Vocabulary—Lists Over Forty Thousand Words

Each set out in bold type to catch the untrained eye, and each defined in terms easy to understand. It will be found useful in home and office and an aid to teachers in the elementary and high schools of the country, of particular value in vocational and continuation schools, and in Americanization classes, where older men and women are endeavoring to get a command of the language to fit them for intelligent citizenship.

"It is a public benefaction to get out such a book"
—Geo. Morris Philips, Principal of the West Chester, Penna., State Normal School

NOTABLE FEATURES OF MERIT IN

SIMPLIFIED DEFINITIONS

Each definition is given in clear and easily understood language and is complete in itself. In no instance is a word defined in terms of itself or in more difficult words, as is the case in other school dictionaries

WEALTH OF VERBAL ILLUSTRATIONS

Thousands of words are much more easily understood from their context in sentences than from definitions. For this reason THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY gives many more illustrative sentences and phrases than any other similar dictionary. An examination of any page will show how frequently this helpful device has been employed, and with what excellent results.

PICTORIAL ILLUSTRATIONS OF EDUCATIONAL VALUE

The meaning of many words can best be shown by pictures. The illustrations in this dictionary are new pictures prepared for their value in clarifying the meanings of words, and in teaching. Over 800 new illustrations were made especially for this book.

TYPOGRAPHY

Every word defined is printed in large, clear type. The eye, instead of wandering all over the page, quickly catches the word desired. This is a result of exhaustive tests, and the most modern facilities in typesetting. Comparison will show that THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY has a more legible page than any other elementary dictionary published.

PRONUNCIATION

The pronunciation of the words is indicated by a phonetic respelling, with diacritical markings. The system is a simplified adaptation of those now in general use in school and college text books. The markings are very simple and easily understood. No attempt has been made to indicate obscure and difficult distinctions. To aid in obtaining the quick pronunciation of each word, a Key to Pronunciation is given at the foot of each page.

VOCABULARY

The selection of the vocabulary of THE WINSTON SIMPLIFIED DICTIONARY has been made with particular care. Its more than 40,000 entries include not only all the words in ordinary use, but also the vocabularies of science, history, and current events which are receiving such increasing attention in both elementary and secondary schools. Particular attention has been given to the very considerable vocabulary that has come into use as the result of the World War.

SYNONYMS AND ANTONYMS

Discriminated synonyms and antonyms are included, giving the simple equivalents or opposites of the more important words.

DERIVATIVES AND VARIANTS

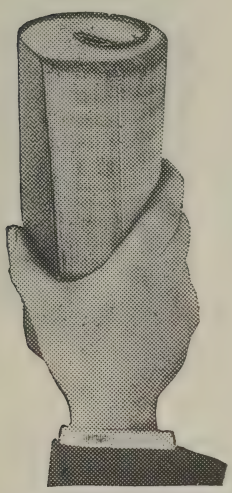
CLEARNUTYPE

DICTIONARIES



ABSOLUTELY FLEXIBLE
The leather Bindings of the Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are so flexible and so durable that they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

The Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

The Unusual CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS.

In clearness of type and the ease with which the eye finds the word; in simplicity and accuracy of definition; in fullness of contents and logical arrangement Universal CLEARNUTYPE will be found to excel other works of like purpose.

Among the Noteworthy Features are the Following:

Words defined are printed in bold-face type with definitions in clear, easily read type.

Each word is divided into syllables to show the proper syllabication of words.

The capitalization of words. All proper words begin with capital letters, common words with small letters.

Compound words have a bold-face hyphen.

Synonyms and antonyms are given in the body of the dictionary following the definitions of the words.

The Pronunciation of words is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling with key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The parts of speech are given.

All definitions are given in simple language that is easily understood.

Each word and its derivation are defined separately instead of the derivatives being crowded in with the definitions; an expedient which saves space but lacks utility.

Issued in six different forms each containing the largest possible type in a book of the size, and planned to meet the requirements of every variety of service.

The Universal Series of CLEARNUTYPE
SCHOOL DICTIONARIES

Elementary School Dictionary

School Dictionary (For General Use) High School Dictionary

As the Language changes and grows Dictionaries must change and grow with it. Dictionaries made a few years ago, even with frequent revision, fail to meet the needs of to-day. It requires rebuilding to give the proper balance between the words and definitions in use to-day and those of yesterday.

These modern dictionaries are not called "Webster's" because no dictionary can claim to be modern or useful at the present time which has not been so much changed since the death of Webster in the year 1843 as to render the use of his name as the author of it a misnomer.

Universal CLEARNUTYPE Dictionaries are based upon the foundation laid by NOAH WEBSTER and other Lexicographers, modernized by CHARLES MORRIS

Among the Noteworthy Features Are the Following:

They Contain All the Words in the English language in ordinary use, including the many new words that have recently come into use.

The Definitions are Accurate and Reliable and embrace all recent distinctions and shades of meaning.

Words Conveniently Divided Into Syllables in the manner employed by the best writers.

The Proper Use of Capital and Small Letters is clearly indicated. All proper nouns begin with capital letters; common nouns begin with small letters.

The Pronunciation of Each Word is shown by a clear and properly accented system of phonetic spelling, with a key to pronunciation at the bottom of each page.

The Synonyms and Antonyms are given with the definitions, instead of being placed in a separate list in an appendix according to the usual but less convenient method.

Each Word and Its Derivatives are separately indexed instead of the suffix words and prefix words being crowded in with the definitions, an expedient used to save space, but with a loss of clearness and utility.

A Clear Face Type, alike for words and definitions, is employed, to avoid the necessity of close and wearisome scrutiny.

CLEARNESS of type, and the EASE with which the eye finds the word; SIMPLICITY and ACCURACY of definition; FULLNESS of CONTENTS and LOGICAL ARRANGEMENT make these the ideal dictionaries for school use.

Freeman, R. Austin
A SILENT WITNESS

The ordinary mystery story seems commonplace when compared with this new novel by Dr. Freeman. The plot is so buttressed by curious scientific facts, in the use of which Dr. Freeman is a past master, that it defies the most astute reader, and instructs while it fixes the interest. It is full of the thrill of perilous adventure, of fiendish conspiracy, and of hazardous attempts to ferret out a resourceful, unscrupulous criminal. How Thorndyke, medico-legal expert, pieces infinitesimal facts together with infinite care, how he bridges the gaps in his network, and triumphantly discovers the undiscoverable, makes him a classical figure among the great detectives of fiction. 8vo. 382 pages. Illustrations by H. Weston Taylor. Cloth. Price.....75 cents

SYLVIA'S MARRIAGE

Upton Sinclair here tells the very human and convincing story of the married life of Sylvia Castleman, a socially-distinguished Southern girl of rare charm, who, against her own inclination, for family reasons married the scion of a great New York family. The story involves a vivid picture of the class system that sacrificed Sylvia. Her beauty and the purity of her character make all the more impressive the tumult of indignation and protest with which she contemplates her child's blindness—the consequence of the former misdeeds of her husband. "Sylvia's Marriage" utterly annihilates the curse of false modesty and reticence in vital sex matters. It is a vital story—a novel that men should read for their preservation, and women for their protection. Cloth, 348 pages. Price.....75 cents

NEW PRACTICAL
"House and Garden" Books
"BEST OF THEIR KIND"

In the preparation of the books described in these pages, the first consideration has been to give practical and dependable information, free from technical terms. They have also been more lavishly illustrated than similar books sold at the same price.

The descriptions of the volumes give an accurate idea of their value and utility, and the high reputation of the editors should in itself be sufficient warrant for the general opinion that they are the "best books of their kind."

Rockwell, F. F.
HOME VEGETABLE GARDENING

Size 5¼ x 7¾ inches

A concise book on home vegetable gardening that also includes the growing of berries and fruit. Books of this kind usually treat the subject in an encyclopedic way, telling what vegetables there are and what pests are likely to attack them, and so on, giving far too much information of this kind and not enough for the man who wants to establish a vegetable garden on his suburban lot for family use. Mr. Rockwell, the author of this work, is a practical gardener himself. From long experience he realizes just what the average layman wants to know in order to raise a successful and varied crop. He realizes also that this information must be presented in a logical sequence in order that it may be used to the best advantage.

The book tells: 1. How much space is necessary for a family of a given size; 2. How to divide the space in the proper proportions for the various vegetables and trees; 3. What varieties have been tried and found true; 4. How to plant, cultivate, spray, fertilize, and finally bring the crop to fruition. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth decorated with inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full color.

It is a handbook of practical gardening information, covering every branch of the subject from preparing the soil to the gathering of the fruit and flowers. A profusion of illustrations, many of them of the most practical sort in explaining the various garden operations, make the text especially clear. The matter is supplemented by carefully prepared planting tables, an invaluable guide to every garden lover, as well as to the beginner in gardening. 12mo. Bound in dark green cloth, tastefully decorated with an inlaid illustration of an exquisite garden scene done in full colors.

The illustrations, of which there are more than three hundred, both of the exterior of houses, their garden settings, and the principal rooms inside, are all from photographs of houses already built, ranging in cost from $3,000 to $20,000. The floor plans are also given. All architectural styles are represented: Colonial, English Half-timber Stucco, Cement, Dutch Colonial (the gambrel roof type), Swiss Chalet, etc. Chapters written by authorities cover all sides of the fascinating problem of house-building, interior decoration and furnishing. The relations between the home-builder and his architect, the matter of plans, specifications, contracts, the puzzling problem of extras and how to avoid them—all these subjects are clarified in a most comprehensive and interesting way. 4to. WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

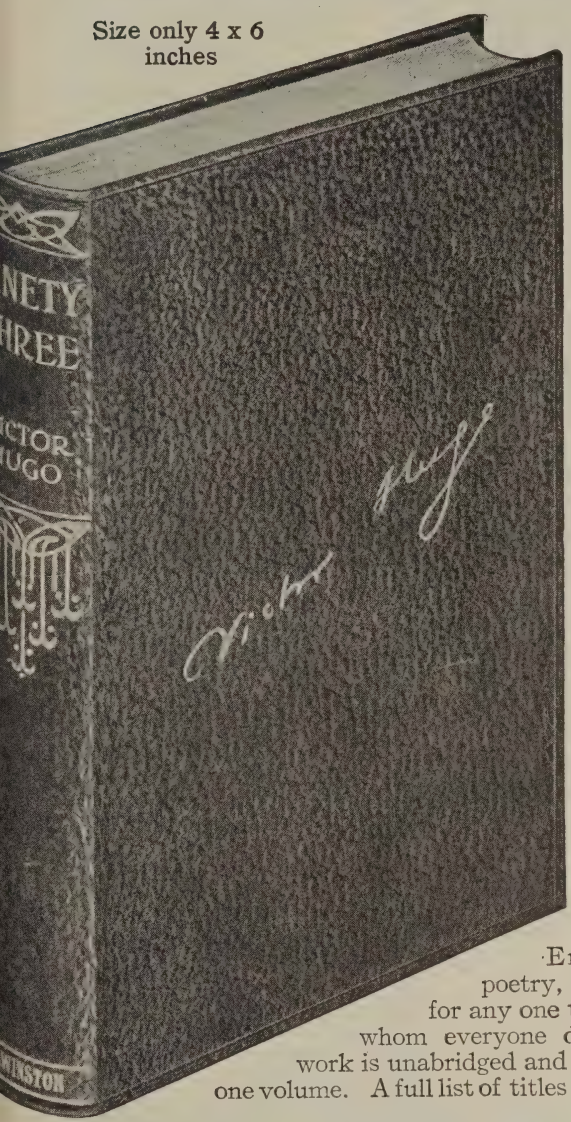
Bound in Flexible French Morocco at the Price of Cloth Books

Size only 4 x 6 inches



The Best Works of the Best Authors In Handy, Pocket Form

Large, Clear Type Thin, Opaque Paper

Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics supplant every other edition of the world's classics, because, while they are printed in type as large as that found in ordinary volumes, their small, compact size (4 x 6 inches) makes them light, convenient volumes to handle; they occupy only a fraction of the usual shelf-room; and they can readily be carried in the pocket or thrown in a hand-bag for reading at odd moments. Appreciative customers who have first bought a few volumes of the Handy Classics have followed this by replacing large portions of their libraries with these fine little books. The saving in space, the beautiful and uniform appearance of the flexible leather bindings, and the increased pleasure of handling and using these volumes have made the change well worth while.

THE CREAM OF ENGLISH LITERATURE

The titles included in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics represent the very best work of standard English authors covering fiction, poetry, essays, etc., and make it possible for any one to own and read those authors with whom everyone desires a close acquaintance. Each work is unabridged and with a few exceptions complete in one volume. A full list of titles will be found on the succeeding pages.

YOUR CHANCE TO OWN ONE OR MANY of these DESIRABLE VOLUMES

Is made possible by the use of imported Bible paper in the larger works. This specially thin paper, which is strong and opaque, enables us to include in one of these volumes the same amount of matter that ordinarily requires a much larger compass, without decreasing the size or legibility of the type. It is far superior to India paper for this purpose because it makes the print clearer and blacker, and entirely eliminates the difficulty of turning the leaves of an India paper volume.

WINSTON'S ILLUSTRATED HANDY CLASSICS

Illustrated with 2,400 Artistic Engravings

"Mr. Flintwinch held the candle to her head"

Reproduction of monochrome illustration from Little Dorritt, by Charles Dickens.—Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics.

An additionally valuable feature of Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is comprised in the 2,400 monochrome and three colored plates with which the volumes are fittingly illustrated. These illustrations are specially drawn from the original paintings of the foremost artists. They not only illumine the volumes artistically and appropriately, but what is of equal importance they interpret the stories with great fidelity.

BOUND IN FLEXIBLE POLISHED LEATHER

Each of the volumes contained in Winston's Illustrated Handy Classics is handsomely bound in flexible Polished Leather, with the author's autograph signature on the side; gilt tops and silk marker. The strength and durability of the binding recommend these volumes for long and constant use.

Shakespeare's Complete Works

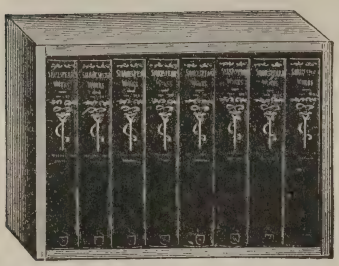
FALSTAFF EDITION—ILLUSTRATED



Edited by GEORGE LONG DUYCKINCK, with a full and comprehensive Life of Shakespeare by J. PAYNE COLLIER, A.M. Illustrated with 32 portraits of famous actors and actresses whose names are linked with Shakespearian productions

This set of Shakespeare combines neatness with serviceability. The books are small, but stoutly as well as handsomely bound, and the type is clear and easily read, printed on good stout paper. There is nothing of the toy about this little library of the immortal Shakespeare. The books are made to be handled and read, not to be put on the shelf for show purposes.

Notes are avoided as far as possible, but preceding each play is an explanatory introduction, and in addition there is a glossary which clarifies unusual words. It will be remembered that Shakespeare had a greater vocabulary than any other man; nearly three times as extensive as that of the man in the street.

As well as the plays and poems of Shakespeare, there is an entertaining history of the English stage and drama to the time of the master playwright; a backward glance revealing simplicity of stage settings without any of the mechanical facilities that mean so much to the modern stage manager. Also there is a vivid word-picture of the life of Shakespeare himself.

William Nyce and Hubert Bunyea

Brief prayers for every day in the year collected from many sources and arranged. The book is printed from handsome black type, is attractive in appearance, and will appeal to all persons who customarily say grace before meals, as well as to those who do not make a practice of saying grace, and it is hoped to many who have not been accustomed to this beautiful and simple form of devotion. 16 mo. in size.

TALES FROM SHAKESPEARE

These famous tales, to the number of twenty, were prepared for the purpose of putting into attractive prose the stories of Shakespeare's plays. They were constructed by weaving into the narrative the very words of Shakespeare wherever it seemed possible to bring them in—a method which the gifted brother and sister pursued with such success that this volume has taken a sure place in classical literature. There is no introduction to the study of Shakespeare at once so winning and so helpful as that supplied by these prose stories. 15 photogravures. Price.....Net $2.00

MARY FRANCES STORY-INSTRUCTION BOOKS

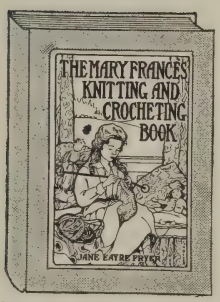
FOR TEACHING CHILDREN USEFUL THINGS IN AN ENTERTAINING WAY

These are not mere story books to be read through and cast aside. They are instruction books in story form which the youthful readers joyfully study because they think it is play. But in this play they learn principles of usefulness which fascinate because of the manner in which these principles are presented

THE
Mary Frances Knitting and Crocheting Book

Or Adventures Among the Knitting People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



Here is the fascinating story of how little Mary Frances took her first lesson in crocheting and knitting, and from this advanced to deserve recognition as an expert. The first steps were making things for dollies, but after a girl has learned to crochet and knit for the dollies it is "as easy as A-B-C" to crochet and knit for real people.

EVEN THE LITTLEST GIRL CAN LEARN

The sports sweater, for instance, is the easiest thing in the world—if you only know how. Here is the whole mystery, brought down to simplicity, so that the littlest girl in the world may do as Mary Frances did.

It is a book of instruction, but it is more than that—it is a romance as captivating as any story book. Following the adventures of Mary Frances, and paying attention to the various hints which she receives from Crow Shay, Yarn Baby and Wooley Ball, the reader can become as expert as Mary Frances herself.

WITH CROCHET HOOK AND KNITTING NEEDLE

Fullest instructions given in simple language on how to make a doll's crocheted necklace, how to make chain stitches, single and double crochet, how to make crocheted bedroom slippers, how to knit plain, how to purl, how to knit an aviator doll's outfit, and a hundred other things that give delight.

An absorbing book for grown-ups as well as children.

PICTURES ON EVERY PAGE

Everywhere you open the book there are piquant pictures; and in addition to those in black and white are a number of colored illustrations showing exactly what can be done with colored wools.

Size 7 x 9½ inches; 270 pages; bound in cloth with attractive cover design. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Sewing Book

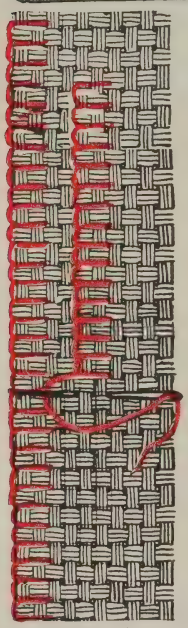
Or Adventures Among the Thimble People

By Jane Eayre Fryer

The story of how the Thimble People taught Mary Frances to sew is as quaint and delightful a story as ever appealed to a child's imagination. It leads the reader irresistibly on to learn what Mary Frances learned, and to find out all the amusing experiences which she had with these comical little elves.

HOW THIS REMARKABLE BOOK TEACHES GIRLS TO SEW

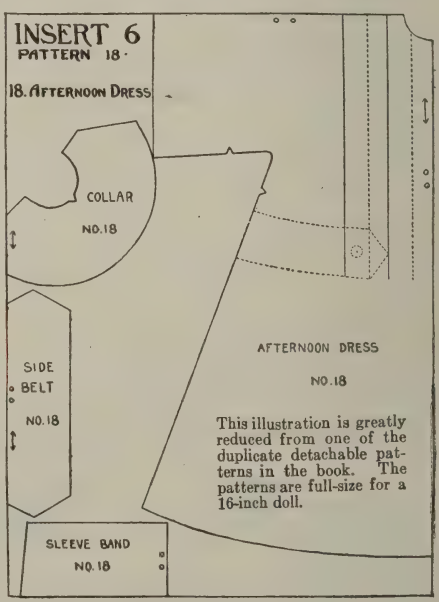
First the Thimble People teach Mary Frances the various "stitches" she needs to know—even and uneven basting, catch stitching, hemming, and all the rest. Then the Thimble People help her to make clothes for "Mary Marie"—her dolly. Here she learns how to use patterns and to bring into use all the progressive elements which she has been taught.



This diagram showing how to make the "blanket stitch" is an example of how everything is made plain in the book. Such diagrams, of which there are a great many, are printed in two colors, the thread, for instance, being shown in red to make it perfectly evident.

THE BOUND-IN AND DETACHABLE PATTERNS ARE WORTH THE PRICE OF THE BOOK

One of the most unique features of this book are the thirty-three patterns, which include everything to complete the doll's wardrobe—underclothes; morning, afternoon and party gowns; coats, bonnets, caps, night-gown, kimono, and all the dainty little things to delight a child's heart. The patterns are bound in the book in duplicate—one set on heavy paper to remain permanently in the book, with a second set on thin paper that can be detached for use. They are regular, full-size working-patterns with full directions for their use, and enable a girl to outfit her doll completely.



This illustration is greatly reduced from one of the duplicate detachable patterns in the book. The patterns are full-size for a 16-inch doll.

NEARLY 300 FASCINATING COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS

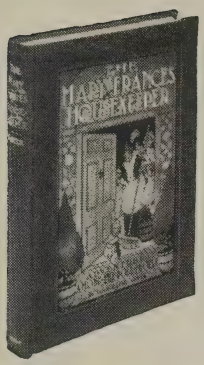
The illustrations in this book are of themselves of sufficient interest to hold a child's attention. Every page contains one or more of Mrs. Boyer's clever colored illustrations which are so popular a factor of the Mary Frances books.

Size 7 x 9½ inches; 320 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

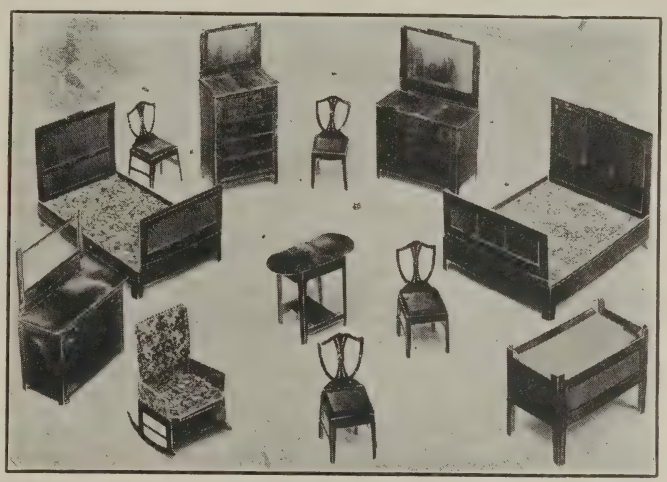
The Mary Frances Housekeeper

Or Adventures Among the Doll People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



It is doubtful whether any story more captivating than The Mary Frances Housekeeper has ever been written for girls. In the most skilful manner, it takes advantage of the natural childish instinct to "play house," and the opportunity to instil the fundamental principles of good housekeeping is improved through the medium of the delightful story of Mary Frances' experience in teaching her dolls to keep house.

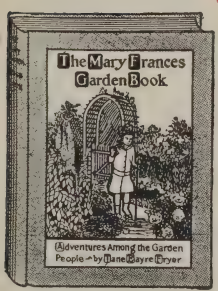


36 sheets of wonderful paper dolls and cut-out furniture. There is a whole family of dolls and a houseful of furniture. The furniture folds together with a patented, self-locking system that obviates the use of paste, pins, etc. The sheer delight of cutting out and playing with the furniture and dolls, whose fortunes are recounted in the story, creates an intense interest in the housekeeping instruction. Size 7 x 9½ inches; 280 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Garden Book

Or Adventures Among the Garden People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



How to grow flowers and vegetables clearly told in story form. The Mary Frances Garden Book actually teaches children how to grow all their favorite flowers and vegetables—how to prepare the soil, how to plant the seeds, how to plant bulbs, the names of parts of flowers, how plants grow by fertilization and reproduction, how to guard against insect enemies, how to care for growing plants, how to make a hotbed, what flowers and vegetables are best for children's gardens, etc., etc. and gives an outline of each month's work for a year. In brief, in the simplest possible words and style, and in the most fascinating kind of story, it gives the little reader a more intelligent knowledge of the processes of Nature.

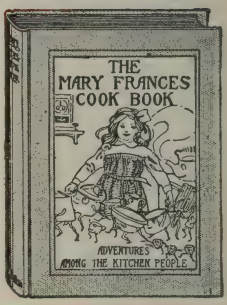
COLORED ILLUSTRATIONS ON EVERY PAGE

In addition to colored illustrations, on every page, there are a number of colored cut-out gardens painted direct from photographs to show the form and color of the flowers, and to prove that the garden plans in the book are not "ideals," but an actual working basis for little gardeners. 378 pages; size 7 x 9½ inches. Bound in cloth, with an attractive cover design. Price, $1.50 net.

The Mary Frances Cook Book

Or Adventures Among the Kitchen People

By Jane Eayre Fryer



This winsome book tells in story form how Mary Frances learned to cook. It gives the recipes in the simplest, plainest words. It describes every operation clearly—just what she did, the mistakes she made (mistakes other little girls are apt to make at first) and how she learned to overcome them. The recipes are arranged in the order of their simplicity. The easiest comes first, and by gradual steps as experience gives confidence the young reader is led to the preparation of the more difficult dishes.

"A Sauce Pan is a funny thing."

TURNS DRUDGERY INTO PLEASURE AND CREATES A DESIRE TO BE HELPFUL

The book is attractive to children. It makes the use of common kitchen utensils a pleasure instead of drudgery. The pots and pans are made to talk, and what they say entertains as well as instructs. They become the Kitchen People, each with a personality of its own. No one who reads of "Aunty Rolling Pin" and her quaint speeches will ever again think of a rolling pin as a mere thing of wood. So with all the Kitchen People; their personalities are impressed on the young mind in such a way as to attract instead of repel.

Size, 7 x 9½ inches; 175 pages; bound in cloth, with attractive cover design, colored frontispiece, and colored decorations on every page. Price, $1.50 net.

As with all the other Mary Frances Story-Instruction books, the Mary Frances First Aid Book aims to interest children with a delightful story, which is used as a means for conveying information of great and lasting value, impressing it on their minds in such a way that it will always be remembered. The book tells what to do in case of accident or sudden illness, and teaches the value of presence of mind in accidents or emergencies in and outside the home. The story concerns the life of Mary Frances' dolls, and is full of humor, taking away the usual gruesomeness of the subject.

IT INSPIRES CHILDREN WITH A DESIRE TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

But is so skilfully written that they will not be tempted to use medicines or means beyond entire safety. It is also a simplified and handy reference book for grown people in cases of accident, and contains a ready-reference list of remedies for all emergencies, including directions for first aid in cases of burns, scalds, cuts, wounds, fainting, dislocations, broken bones, etc. Attractively and practically illustrated Cloth. Price, $1.00 net.

THE BIG SERIES OF GIRLS' BOOKS FOR 1919

The "Red Cross Girls" Series

By MARGARET VANDERCOOK

Author of "Stories About Camp Fire Girls," the "Ranch Girls" Series, etc.

While Mrs. Vandercook is widely known, both in America and abroad, for her short stories, poems and other articles contributed to magazines, and more recently as a novelist, her enviable reputation rests chiefly on her popularity as a writer of girls' books. In her latest series, the "Red Cross Girls' Series, she has excelled all her previous achievements. These stories deal with four American girls of widely different education who enlist as Red Cross nurses in the European War. Mrs. Vandercook has avoided everything of a depressing or gruesome nature in the development of these stories, yet the elements of heroism and self-sacrifice are most commendably employed in the account of the services which the girls render on and near the great battle-field. More than that, the lighter and romantic aspects of these stories will endear them to a host of readers. The books are alive with plot and action. Handsomely bound in cloth. Fully illustrated. The Julia Greene Cut-Out Series of Famous Children's Stories

TOLD IN POETRY AND PROSE. ILLUSTRATED WITH ORIGINAL COLORED CUT-OUTS

Designed by HELEN PETTES and JULIA GREENE

This unique series provides in a new and doubly attractive form those stories of childhood which though generations or even centuries old, are always as new as the day they first took form. These stories are related in both poetry and prose and are made attractive in a new way by colored cut-out figures and furniture which enable the delighted little readers to reconstruct the stories and act them over and over in all possible variations to their hearts' content. In "Goldilocks and the Three Bears," for example, the cut-outs, printed on heavy, coated paper, include the four characters, with their clothing, and the chairs, beds and porridge bowls which are so real a part of the immortal story. These cut-outs are drawn in a spirit of sympathy and verity, with a real appreciation of childish imagination, and are beautifully colored. Without doubt these books will instantly take their place anywhere among the most attractive and popular of all books designed for little folks. Size, 11 x 8 inches. Bound in cloth. with inlaid ront cover printed in colors.

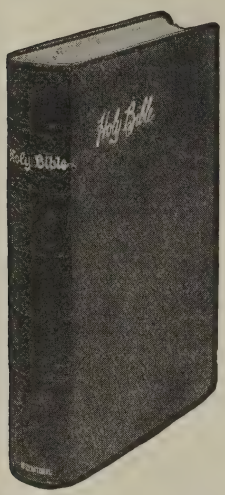
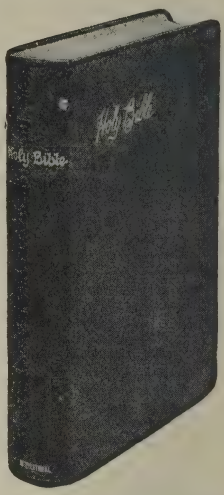
The Bindings of International Bibles

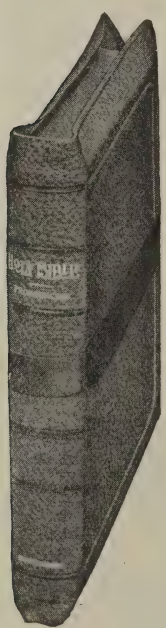


Representative Cloth Binding. Extra Imported Cloth is used. The lettering is always stamped in pure gold.

The cuts used in describing the bindings in this catalog are for the most part wood cuts, and therefore fail to adequately show the beauty of the different bindings, and for that reason we represent the three classes of bindings in the half-tone cuts shown on this page, which are reproduced by photographic process and are therefore exact. The different classes of Bibles are bound similar to these reproductions which will give you a better idea of their attractiveness, but even these cuts fail to represent the beauty of the Bibles themselves.



Representative Leather Limp Binding, usually Seal Grained Leather is used, except on small Bibles where a small Grained Leather is used. These bindings are very durable.



Representative Divinity Circuit Binding, with overlapping edges. International Bibles have an appearance that is distinctive.

With Reference to Cuts

We are always pleased to furnish cuts of Bibles to customers for advertising purposes free of charge. In ordering cuts, please always give the number of the page on which the desired cut is printed and also the name of the Bible it represents, so that no mistake can be made in filling the order. We can also furnish electrotypes of type specimens, and are always willing to lend our assistance in the preparation of advertising material.

THE JOHN C. WINSTON CO.

International Bibles are so flexible and durable they can be rolled without injury to binding or sewing.

Government Test Bindings

On "International" Divinity Circuit Bibles

This new material must not be confounded with the many unsatisfactory, foul-smelling substitutes for leather that have heretofore been used in binding Bibles. It is a new material that has never before been used for Bible bindings. It produces a result that matches the rich appearance of leather, that is flexible, and durable. It is used only on International Bibles. It meets the requirements of the Bureau of Standards of the United States Government for a material that is stronger than leather.

CLAIMS THAT CAN BE MADE FOR GOVERNMENT TEST BINDINGS

Absence of odors.
Exceptional strength and flexibility.
Resistance to mold or the attack of insects.
Moisture resisting qualities.
Fast color and freedom from scratching.

Absolutely Flexible

GOVERNMENT TEST BINDINGS

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS, 15. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren. 11 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

JUST ISSUED — "INTERNATIONAL" CLEARNUTYPE — JUST ISSUED

TEXT BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

Modern Arrangement That Makes This Bible More Usable

It has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has the chapter numbers of each of the Books of the Bible in Arabic numerals and also gives the sequential number of each chapter in the Bible; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; contains colored maps of the Holy Lands.

The Size Commends It For Many Uses

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

☞ The books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

29 ¶ And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

2 CHAPTER 2.

1 The first sabbath. 8 The garden of Eden. 21 The making of woman. 24 The institution of marriage.

THUS the heavens and the earth were finished, and all the host of them.

2 And on the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made.

3 And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God created and made.

4 ¶ These are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens,

5 And every plant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground.

6 But there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground.

7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

8 ¶ And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Ē'dĕn; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out of Ē'dĕn to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pī'son: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Hăv'i-lah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gī'hon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ē-thĭ-ō'pĭ-â.

14 And the name of the third river is Hĭd'de-kĕl: that is it which goeth toward the east of Ăs-sўr'ĭ-â. And the fourth river is Eū-phrā'tēs.

15 And the LORD God took the man, and put him into the garden of Ē'dĕn to dress it and to keep it.

16 And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat:

17 But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die.

18 ¶ And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

19 And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and brought them unto Ăd'ăm to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Ăd'ăm called every living creature, that was the name thereof.

20 And Ăd'ăm gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Ăd'ăm there was not found an help meet for him.

21 And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Ăd'ăm, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof;

22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

23 And Ăd'ăm said, This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called Woman, because she was taken out of Man.

24 Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh.

25 And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

CHAPTER 3.

1 Eve deceived. 6 The fall of man. 14 The curse. 22 Expulsion from the garden.

NOW the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field

☞ All through the Bible proper words are accented and divided into syllables, which makes pronunciation easy. This feature is useful, especially in the Old Testament which abounds with difficult words.

☞ Gives the consecutive number of each chapter of the Bible, showing that there are 1189 chapters in the Bible

☞ Note the clearness of the type. ☜

Solomon's adversaries. — I KINGS, 11.

Mō'ab, in the hill that is before Je-ru'sa-lèm; and for Mō'lech, the abomination of the children of Am'mon.

8 And likewise did he for all his strange wives, which burnt incense, and sacrificed unto their gods.

9 And the LORD was angry with Sŏl'o-mon, because his heart was turned from the LORD God of Is'ra-el, which had appeared unto him twice,

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not go after other gods: but he kept not that which the LORD commanded.

11 Wherefore the LORD said unto Sŏl'o-mon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my covenant and my statutes, which I have commanded thee, I will surely rend the kingdom from thee, and will give it to thy servant.

25 And he was an adversary to Is'ra-el all the days of Sŏl'o-mon, beside the mischief that Hā'dăd did: and he abhorred Is'ra-el, and reigned over Sȳr'i-a.

26 And Jĕr-o-bō'am the son of Nē'băt, an Ĕph'rath-īte of Zĕr'e-da, Sŏl'o-mon's servant, (whose mother's name was Ze-ru'ah, a widow woman,) even he lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this was the cause that he lifted up his hand against the king: Sŏl'o-mon built Mil'lo, and repaired the breaches of the city of Dā'vid his father.

28 And the man Jĕr-o-bō'am was a mighty man of valour: and Sŏl'o-mon seeing the young man that he was industrious, he made him ruler over all the charge of the house of Jō'seph.

29 And it came to pass at that time, when Jĕr-o-bō'am went out of Je-ru'sa-

It is confidently believed that this Teachers' Handy Bible Encyclopedia will be found to contain more practical aid to the students and teachers than the helps found in other Teachers' Bibles. The experience of recent years has brought much additional light upon many subjects of Biblical knowledge, has shown that the plan of Bible Aids could be improved, and has also revealed a need among teachers, ministers, and Bible readers for a more popular handbook with the information written in language free from the technicalties of scholars. The work of simplifying was assigned to Rev. Jesse Lyman Hurlbut, D.D., widely known as a Biblical scholar and as a TEACHER OF TEACHERS in the Sunday-school. Some of the improvements in this work over other Bible commentaries are noteworthy. (See full description on next page.)

A WELCOME IMPROVEMENT

JUST ISSUED — "INTERNATIONAL" CLEARNUTYPE — JUST ISSUED

TEACHERS' BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Publishing and manufacturing over five hundred styles of "International" Bibles and Testaments (the largest line of Self-Pronouncing Bibles in the world), it would seem that there was no need for a new edition of the Bible; but this new Bible represents a distinct improvement over any form in which the Bible has hitherto been issued. In clearness of type, convenience of size, and logical arrangement, it is adapted to every class of Bible readers.

CLEARNUTYPE

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any Bible of like size.

The Highest Development of Modern Progress

In addition to the large clear type, the full contents also commend this Bible. It contains the Authorized Version of the Old and New Testaments, with sixty thousand references in the center column; has the books of the Bible printed on outer edge, which facilitates quick reference and overcomes the necessity of cutting an index on edge; has all proper words accented and divided into syllables, making pronunciation easy; has the most accurate, most usable aids to Bible study to be found in any Bible; and has seventeen colored maps of the Holy Lands.

New Type of Teachers' Aids to Bible Study

The logical arrangement of the helps is another improvement and a great convenience. All the aids (covering over 400 pages), including Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Dictionary, etc., etc., are under one Alphabetical Arrangement instead of separate headings as employed in the old type of Bible. Furthermore, these new helps are illustrated and are the only helps printed from black face type to be found in any Bible, which makes them more readable and useful.

A Bible You Will Be Proud to Own

This Bible is printed on thin rag paper specially made for it. Jet black ink is used in the printing to make the type stand forth clearly. Handsome Flexible Leather Bindings, with overlapping covers, red-under-gold edges, head-bands and purple ribbon marker, all serve in making it the finest expression in Bible making.

STYLES AND PRICES

No. 8170. FRENCH SEAL, divinity circuit (overlapping covers), round corners, red-under-gold edges, head-band and marker, grained lining..... $4.06

No. 8175. FRENCH SEAL, divinity circuit, (overlapping covers), round corners, red-under-gold edges, head-band and marker, leather lined..... $5.06

No. 8176. PERSIAN SEAL, divinity circuit (overlapping covers, round corners, red-under-gold edges, head-band and marker, leather lined, silk sewed.... $6.50

Specimen Page and Explanation of CLEARNUTYPE Bible

The type is larger, clearer and more easily read than any other pronouncing Bible of same size.

At the head of each page is given the approximate date of the incident referred to on that page

The Books of the Bible are printed in this clear type on the outer edge, which enables one to find any book in the Bible quickly by simply bending over the upper corner. Many Bible-users prefer this to having an expensive index cut on the edge.

All through the Bible the proper words are accented and divided into syllables, which makes pronunciation easy. This feature is useful, especially in the Old Testament which abounds with difficult words.

B. C. 1898.

22 ¶ And it came to pass at that time, that [z]Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host spake unto Ā'brā-hăm, saying, [y]God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 Now therefore [z]swear unto me here by God [1]that thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor with my son, nor with my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned.

24 And Ā'brā-hăm said, I will swear.

25 And Ā'brā-hăm reproved Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch because of a well of water, which Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch's servants had violently [a]taken away.

26 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day.

27 And Ā'brā-hăm took sheep and oxen, and gave them unto Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch; and both of them [b]made a covenant.

28 And Ā'brā-hăm set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves.

29 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch said unto Ā'brā-hăm, [c]What mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves?

30 And he said, For these seven ewe lambs shalt thou take of my hand, that [d]they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well.

31 Wherefore he [e]called that place [2]Bē'er-shē'bà; because there they sware both of them.

32 Thus they made a covenant at Bē'er-shē'bà: then Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and Phĭ'chol the chief captain of his host, and they returned into the [f]land of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

33 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm planted a [3]grove in Bē'er-shē'bà, and called there on the name of the LORD, the [g]everlasting God.

34 And Ā'brā-hăm sojourned in the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' land many days.

Gives the consecutive number of each chapter of the Bible, showing that there are 1189 chapters in the Bible.

22 CHAPTER 22.

1 Abraham offers Isaac. 13 A ram substituted. 15 Abraham blessed. 20 Nahor's offspring.

AND it came to pass after these things, that [c]God did tempt Ā'brā-hăm, and said unto him, Ā'brā-hăm: and he said, [1]Behold, here I am.

2 And he said, [b]Take now thy son, thine only son Ĭ'şaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land [c]of Mō-rī'ah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm [d]rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Ĭ'şaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of which God had told him.

4 Then on the third day Ā'brā-hăm lifted up his eyes, and saw the place afar off.

5 And Ā'brā-hăm said unto his young men, Abide ye here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again to you.

6 And Ā'brā-hăm took the wood of the burnt offering, and [e]laid it upon Ĭ'şaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both of them together.

7 And Ĭ'şaac spake unto Ā'brā-hăm his father, and said, My father: and he said, [2]Here am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood: but where is the [3]lamb for a burnt offering?

8 And Ā'brā-hăm said, My son, God will provide himself [f]a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together.

9 And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Ā'brā-hăm built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and [g]bound Ĭ'şaac his son, and laid him on the altar upon the wood.

10 And Ā'brā-hăm [h]stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son.

11 And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Ā'brā-hăm, Ā'brā-hăm: and he said, Here am I.

12 And he said, [i]Lay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for now [j]I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine only son from me.

13 And Ā'brā-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'brā-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering [k]in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'brā-hăm called the name of that place [4]Jē-hō'vah-jī'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'brā-hăm out of heaven the second time,

16 And said, [l]By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the [m]stars of the heaven, and as the [n]sand which is upon the sea [5]shore; and thy seed shall [o]possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And [p]in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because [q]thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So Ā'brā-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er-shē'bà; and Ā'brā-hăm dwelt at Bē'er-shē'bà.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these

INDIA PAPER BIBLE

SELF-PRONOUNCING

Containing the authorized version of the Old Testament and the New Testament, with all proper names accented and divided into syllables—and maps in colors.

While the text of the Bible does not change, modern methods of typography make possible the production of a type that is larger in size, more easily read, and more restful to the eyes, and yet makes a more convenient size, and a lighter weight book, than is ordinarily obtainable in a Bible printed from small type. The type used in this new Bible was moulded especially for the purpose. It is the largest, clearest type to be found in any self-pronouncing Bible of like size.

THE SIZE COMMENDS IT FOR MANY USES

Notwithstanding the Clear Type used in this Bible the page measures but 5¼ x 7¼ inches. Its adaptability as a most usable hand Bible or a Bible that can be conveniently carried in the coat pocket is instantly apparent.

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

Christian Worker's Bible

Indexed and marked in both Old and New Testamenst according to the best system of Bible marking on the

THEME OF SALVATION

To enable any person to turn rapidly to verses on these subjects, and to read in consecutive order all passages relating to any one of the topics chosen; to give Bible Readings at a moment's notice or to tell at a glance the subjects of any verse or passage marked

THREE THOUSAND SELECTED TEXTS

Are arranged on this plan in sequence for Bible Study and Teaching by

J. GILCHRIST LAWSON

and

REV. JESSE LYMAN HURLBUT, D.D.

With an interesting and helpful introduction on the manyuses of this Christian Worker's Bible and suggestive hints on private study by

REV. JESSE LYMAN HURLBUT, D.D.

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

EASIEST READING BIBLE

It is believed that no form in which the Scripture has ever been published makes the reading of it so attractive to both old and young, nor are any Commentaries, voluminous and extensive as they may be, to be compared with this simple system of markings and indexing, in explaining and making easy the way of Salvation.

2 Of every [c]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [1]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

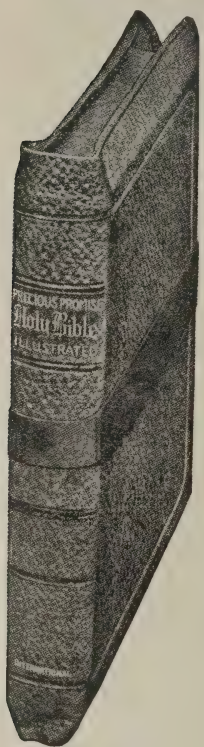
Precious Promise Bible

Being the Authorized Version of the Scriptures with the Exceedingly Great and Precious Promises Indexed and Marked in Red



Size, 5½ x 8½ inches

That which inspires more searching of the Scriptures than any other of their varied contents is the promises In anxiety, in perplexity, in disappointment, in poverty, in loneliness, in sorrow, we turn to this book for guidance, for strength, for comfort, and for cheer. Imagine a Bible with all its promises stricken out, and blank spaces in their stead —would many people spend time in reading such a Bible?

Marks the Promises of Help for Every Human Need in Every Home

Even though one be a daily reader of the Bible, it is not always easy to find or to recall from so large a volume the text needed at some special hour. Profound scholars of the Bible have done this for us in the most simplified form in the PRECIOUS PROMISE BIBLE, and have brought the treasures of the Scriptures to light. Each promise is marked in red, and all the promises are divided into classes. Each class is so indicated and tied together that the reader can easily trace any class of promises through the Bible from text to text, and find for himself a wealth of promises upon any subject desired.

Precious Promise Subjects Marked in this Bible

- A. ALL THINGS Working Together for Good.
- B. The Lord's BLESSING on fields and flocks.
- C. CLOTHING Provided for God's Children.
- E. EVERLASTING LIFE and Heaven Promised.

- S. SAFETY from all Harm and Danger Promised.
- T. THE HOLY SPIRIT Promised.
- U. The UPRIGHT are Blessed and Prospered.
- V. VICTORY over Enemies and Troubles.
- W. WHOSOEVER WILL May be Saved.

EXPLANATION

In the Precious Promise Bible is an Index (shown in reduced size above) in which the promises are classified under different subjects, and a letter is used to stand for the principal word of each subject.

After each subject in the Index there is a reference to the first verse in the Old Testament and also a reference to the first verse in the New Testament on that subject. Underneath each subject in the Index there are several references to the most important verses in the Scriptures on that subject.

The letter which stands for each subject is printed on the margin of every promise on that subject. The letter which stands for each subject is also used in front of every reference on that subject.

After every promise marked in this Bible there is a reference to the next promise on the same subject. This enables any person to go through the Bible and read every promise on any particular subject.

K 8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your [f]Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him. K. 7. 7–11.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: [g]Our Father which art in heaven, [h]Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, [i]as it is in heaven.

F 11 Give us this day our [j]daily bread.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors. F. verses 25–34.

13 And [k]lead us not into temptation, but deliver [l]us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Ā-mĕn'.

14 For [m]if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But [n]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover [o]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

U 17 But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face:

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly. U. verse 33.

19 ¶ Lay [p]not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 But [q]lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth [r]corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 The [s]light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, [t]how great is that darkness!

24 No [u]man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [v]Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

C 25 Therefore I say unto you, [w]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

C F L 26 Behold [x]the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your [y]heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That even Sŏl'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

P 31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gĕn'tīles seek:) for [z]your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

U 33 But [a]seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you. U. 13. 8.

34 Take therefore no [5]thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof. C. 10. 10.

L. 16. 18. P. 10. 10.*

CHAPTER 7.

Christ endeth his sermon on the mount.

JUDGE [b]not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: [c]and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 And [d]why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶ Give [e]not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS THE INDEX OR KEY, directs the reader to the first verse in the Old Testament and the New Testament on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. This same method is followed in the eighteen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Precious Promises.

SELF-PRONOUNCING TEXT

COMPLETE RED-LETTER FEATURES

The Old Testament is the basis of all law, and the New Testament is the foundation of all modern principals of social justice which are closely connected with present-day legislation; yet few lawyers possess a volume of The Law in their libraries. The new "International" Law Library Bible has been prepared particularly to supply this deficiency.

It is bound in Law Library Buckram, sheep style, with leather labels, to conform with the usual appearance of a law book. It indicates by the use of red ink all the types and prophecies in the Old Testament pointing to Christ, all the references in the center column of the Old Testament referring to the words uttered by Christ, all the passages in the Old Testament quoted by Christ, and all the words of Christ in the New Testament. It contains the Handy Bible Encyclopedia and Concordance, under one alphabetical arrangement, printed in bold-face type, as described on page 28 and the following insert, with seventeen maps of the Bible lands.

THE SMALLEST LARGE TYPE TESTAMENT PUBLISHED

This Testament will be prized by anyone receiving it. It is printed from remarkably large, clear, easily read type and is smaller in size than the many small type Testaments on the market.

ST. MATTHEW. Parable of the talents. [64]

thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:

35 For I was an hungered, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.

37 Then shall the righteous answer him,

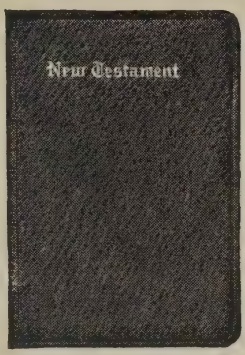
The New Bold Face Type Testament

WITH EXPLANATORY NOTES AND COMPLETE INDEX



Size, 4 x 6 inches

The specimen of type reproduced here shows the Bold Face type from which this Testament is printed. This type is large, clear, and restful to the eye—making this the easiest-reading Testament to be found anywhere. It also shows the foot-notes (printed right on the pages with the corresponding text) and the interpolated explanations which divide the gospel into logical, coherent sections without disturbing the old, but arbitrary, division into chapters and verses. These foot-notes and interpolations clear up obscure points in the text without the inconvenience and time-consuming task of referring to a commentary. Through the employment of this very latest developement of modern Bible-making, this Self-Interpreting Testament takes its place as the most understandable New Testament yet published.

A COPYRIGHTED INDEX FOR FINDING ANY WORD IN THE NEW TESTAMENT

A special feature of this Testament is the complete index by which any verse in the New Testament may be found by looking alphabetically for any important word contained in that verse. It is a combination concordance and subject index, and makes this edition of the New Testament of particular value to all who want to obtain the fullest value from the Scriptures.

Printed on the famous "thin Bible paper" used in many of the "International" Bibles, this Testament is only 4 x 6 inches in size.

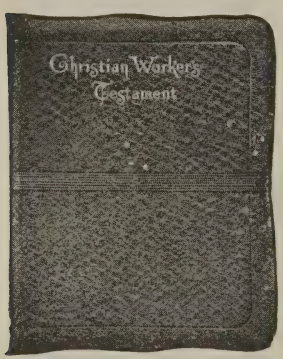
THE TESTAMENT MADE EASY TO READ

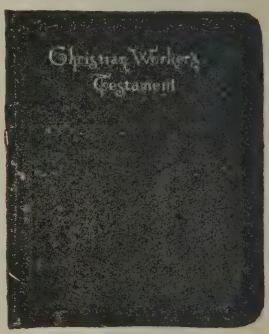
In the plan of this Testament Salvation is recognized as the dominant theme in the New Testament. Undoubtedly the greatest benefit in the reading of the Testament comes to the one who searches the Scriptures for himself and finds this stream of salvation running through its pages. But it is evident that the majority of people, even Bible readers and Bible-lovers have neither the time for such deep study nor the peculiar ability which it requires. People in general who would best understand their Bibles must depend upon those who have made a special study of these subjects and must receive the result of their labors. We cannot all be close students, but we can all be diligent readers of the Word of God.

Helpful to Every Class of Scripture Readers

Many methods have been devised for guiding Bible readers and of helping them to become Bible students, but the most ingenious and most helpful of these methods is that presented in this edition of the Testament.

Every class of Scripture students will find enjoyment and benefit in this system of marking. Ministers can use it to advantage. It will enable Lay Workers to interest and impress a company of listeners. The Sunday School Teacher will find it helpful. To the Y. M. C. A. Worker this is a marked Testament of which the key always hangs at the door. If anyone is inquiring the way of salvation what better plan can be suggested than to put this volume in his hands with the recommendation to read from it the texts on that topic which he most needs for his guidance.





In Handsome and Convenient Form

The Christian Worker's Testament is carefully printed from new type-set plates in red and black inks on extra quality of bright, rag Bible paper and is issued in a convenient size 3¾ x 4 inches.

For specimen of type and explanation of markings and exact size of Testament, see the following page.

EXPLANATION

This Testament is marked in red on every subject connected with the theme of Salvation.

A reference to the first verse on each subject is printed after the subject in this index (see above). After every verse or passage marked in this Testament there is a reference to the next verse or passage on the same subject. This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moment's notice, on any subject marked in the Testament,

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see above).

Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:
26 And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand?
27 And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.
28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.
29 Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.
A 30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad. A. Mark 9. 40.
L 31 Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men. L. Is. 11-13.
H 32 And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come. H. ver. 41, 42.
33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.
34 O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. O T
35 A good man, out of the good treasure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man, out of the evil treasure, bringeth forth evil things. 13. 14, 15.
J 36 But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment. J. Ver. 41.
37 For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.
38 ¶ Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.
39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:
40 For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly, so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.
J H R N 41 The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here. J. 25. 31-33; H. 13. 50; R. 19. 14.

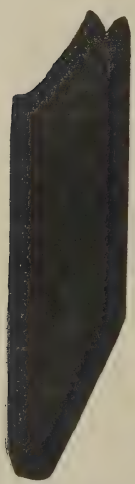
The International Note Book



Size of page, 5½ x 8¼ inches

This book was prepared originally for pastors, but evangelists, teachers, and others have found it a most useful book for recording notes, sermons, essays, and Scriptural references of all kinds.

IN APPEARANCE the book looks like a Divinity Circuit Bible, and therefore does not make the carrying of sermons or notes as conspicuous as would any other form of book. It has no printed matter inside and has no lettering on the outside cover. Pastors can use the book to record their sermons, and will find it more satisfactory to lay the book open before them when delivering their sermons than the use of loose memorandum sheets, and by using the book for this purpose it also preserves their sermons and notes in substantial form.

HOW THE BOOK IS MADE The book contains over 500 pages ruled with horizontal faint blue lines, thereby making it equally suitable to those who like to write on lines and those who prefer a page without lines.

BINDING. The book is bound in French Seal, Divinity Circuit style, round corners, red under gold edges, and has silk marker.

Price, only.....$3.00
Mailing weight, twenty-eight ounces

ALPHABETICAL INDEX. We also prepare the book with an alphabetical index in the back of it, so that by numbering the subjects entered in the book all such subjects can be indexed for ready reference, or the book can be paged and subjects indexed by pages—or both.

Price with Index.....$3.40

The Womans Press

Autumn
1919

A classified, descriptive list of books—arranged alphabetically by title.

A "catalogue raisonné," as the French say, because the "reasons" are given.

A reader's first and last duty toward a book is to buy it.

If thou of fortune be bereft
And in thy store there be but left
Two loaves—sell one and with the dole
Buy books to feed thy soul.

Books for Thinking People

THE WOMANS PRESS

THE WOMANS PRESS is the lineal descendant of the publication department of the National Board of the Young Womens Christian Associations founded in 1906.

The swift expansion of Association work in war-time had its inevitable influence upon the publication department. In January, 1919, the name and device of THE WOMAN'S PRESS were formally assumed, while at the same time the national Association magazine, The Association Monthly, began its twelfth volume in a new and enlarged form.

THE WOMANS PRESS, while organized and staffed entirely by women, does not confine itself to the use of women writers. Its primary concern is that women shall think, particularly on the pressing current issues of economics, industry, social problems, and religious education, and to this end it desires to use all forms of expression, from texts to fiction. It believes that in the development of publishing in America there is a place for the Young Womens Christian Association to make a strong contribution from the angle of the Christian Woman Movement.

The famous inscription over the doorway of the library of Osymandyas: The Dispensary of the Soul.

—Austin Dobson, "A Bookman's Notebook."

The colleges, whilst they provide us with libraries, furnish no professors of books, and I think no chair is so much wanted. But private readers, reading purely for love of the book, would serve us by leaving each the shortest note of what he found.

—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

BOOK SIZES

IT is the custom among bookmen to indicate the size of a book by the notation, 4to, 8vo, 12mo, 16mo. These contractions stand for the Latin words, quarto, octavo, duodecimo, sextodecimo.

A quarto is a book in which each sheet is folded into four pages; an octavo, into eight pages; a duodecimo, into twelve pages; a sextodecimo, into sixteen pages.

The measurement in inches of the three most usual sizes in books is as follows:

8vo book—6 x 9½ inches
12mo book—4½ x 7½ inches
16mo book—4½ x 6⅞ inches

CONCERNING COLOPHONS

A COLOPHON is the trade mark of a publishing house—its book-plate of ownership, as it were.

The colophon of THE WOMANS PRESS is the sacred chalice, radiating light against the background of a book. The symbolism of this device is not far to seek. According to the old legend, the Holy Grail was said to have lost its effulgence and to have vanished from sight if it was ever approached by a person not perfectly pure and holy.

THE WOMANS PRESS would try every book it issues in the testing light of the Holy Grail. If the radiance of the sacred vessel is undimmed, the book has stood the proof and is worthy to stand in its penetrating light.

It used to be the custom among early printer-publishers to omit all mention of their names and the place and time of printing from their books. As title pages were also unknown in the cradle days of printing, a book often appeared quite ownerless. Some of our oldest books have come down to us without author, title, publisher, home, or date.

This self-effacement on the part of authors is today occasional; on the part of publishers it is unknown.

When printers first began to sign their books they did so in a colophon placed at the back of the book. It was thus that the expression arose "to put the colophon," meaning "to give the finishing stroke." This saying dates back to the days of ancient Greece, when the cavalry of the city of Colophon were said to have been such splendid fighting men that they turned the tide of every battle in their favor and decided every victory.

The colophon that THE WOMANS PRESS puts upon its books is "a finishing stroke" that removes any doubt or question. It is not only a claim of ownership, it is a claim of excellence as well. It is the device that marks the book as point-device.

The published price of books includes delivery to any address in the case of all retail orders. (The Yale Studies in English and the Yale Banner and Pot Pourri form the only exceptions to this rule.)

For the convenience of booksellers, certain titles of works usually classed as text-books, et cetera, have been marked with an asterisk (*).

Yale University Press publications may be obtained from either the New York or the New Haven Office, from the best booksellers, and through the Oxford University Press, London.

Publications of Yale University, the Memoirs and Transactions of the Connecticut Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Yale Review and Yale Alumni Weekly, acting versions of the Plays of the Yale University Dramatic Association, et cetera, may be ordered through either the New York or the New Haven Office of the Yale University Press.

With the French Text. By Paul Claudel. Translated by Edward J. O'Brien. Introduction by Pierre Chavannes.

Both in France and elsewhere these three poems have been greeted as the most beautiful that the war has thus far inspired. A Mystery. By Paul Claudel. Translated by Louise Morgan Sill. Published 1916.

"A strangely moving play, which holds one by its pathos, while at the same time it gives something of the impression of an illuminated page taken from a medieval manuscript. . . . 'The Tidings Brought to Mary' is that rare thing, a piece of genuine literature."—London Nation.

6 x 8⅛. Paper boards, cloth back. 171 pages. $1.50. (Uniform in style with the other Claudel books listed.)

The East I Know (La Connaissance de l'Est).

By Paul Claudel. Translated by Teresa Frances and William Rose Benét. With an Introduction by Pierre Chavannes. Published 1914.

"As a recorder of the pathetic grace and squalor of the wonderful, vanishing East, the author stands, so far as the present writer's experience goes, without a rival."—The Athenæum.

The Yale Shakespeare.

EDITED UNDER THE DIRECTION OF MEMBERS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH, YALE UNIVERSITY.

This edition, to be complete in forty volumes, is edited under the general supervision of a committee consisting of Dean Wilbur Lucius Cross and Professors Tucker Brooke and Willard Higley Durham. The line numbering is that of Craig's Oxford Shakespeare and each volume contains a glossary, notes and appendices.

"Practical teachers of Shakespeare, especially in college classes, usually find something, if not a great deal, to be desired in the comparatively few editions of the single plays which are usable in their classes. . . . This edition is designed to overcome many if not all of these objections, and, it seems, is likely to achieve its purpose. . . . The text, as is most desirable and proper, is given first place . . . and all information matter, such as the history of the play, its source and the like, is relegated to appendices following the notes."—Springfield Republican.

THE CHRONICLES OF AMERICA.

A SERIES OF HISTORICAL NARRATIVES.

EDITED BY ALLEN JOHNSON, PH.D.

LARNED PROFESSOR OF AMERICAN HISTORY, YALE UNIVERSITY.

"It is an ambitious undertaking to put American history in its true light, not only in this country but before the world, and we can hardly imagine one in which the results could be better. . . . Each volume is complete in itself, each gives the story of some significant period in American history, and all together—the fifty volumes—will constitute the most valuable, and the most readable and painstakingly accurate Chronicles of America which have yet been printed."—New York Tribune.

"There is not one volume which does not in all essentials speak the truth, not one which does not unite in its narration what is important with what is interesting, not one which is not readable."—New York Sun.

"Perhaps the most striking feature of the new series of fifty historical volumes entitled 'The Chronicles of America' is that their authorship is not to be restricted to the dryasdust student who can be depended upon only for the accumulation of facts and their systematic arrangement within the pages of a book. Instead of following along these conventional lines, the editor of the series has so wisely looked everywhere for his contributions that a list of them discloses several familiar names from the ranks of the writers of imaginative literature. . . . Admirably attractive are the volumes in paper, in typography and in binding. They are liberally illustrated in photogravure, they contain many maps, and in every detail they are prepared for permanence as well as for casual reading. Their appearance adds to their value and gives incentive to a careful consultation of their pages."—Boston Transcript.

The conception or plan of this work, which has been in preparation for some years under the direction of Professor Allen Johnson, is, as the North American Review observes, "unexampled in our historical literature." The idea has been to present the entire history of our country in the living form of a series of short narratives; each having a unity of its own but all articulated and so related that the reader will not only be entertained by the story in each volume but will also be given a real vision of the development of this country from the beginning to the present day. The purpose of the editor and publishers has been to make the traditions of our nation more real and vivid to those of our citizens who are not in the habit of reading history.

No volume is included in the series until the manuscript has been read and approved by the Council's Committee on Publications of Yale University as well as by the Editor. The titles of the fifty volumes in the series known as The Chronicles of America are given below, those issued in 1918 being marked with a dagger and those issued in 1919 up to the time of going to press being marked with a double dagger. It is the expectation of the publishers that the series will be completed early in 1920.

THE FIRST EDITION.

THE FIRST EDITION OF THE CHRONICLES OF AMERICA described on the preceding pages is dedicated to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, and a limited number of copies of each volume, the first to be printed, are to be known as the Abraham Lincoln Edition. These are on all-rag watermarked paper, made expressly for the work, while the illustrations for this edition are in photogravure, each printed separately by hand. These illustrations, several hundred in number, will form the best general collection of American historical pictures yet published. There is also an abundance of maps, expressly drawn and engraved for the series, to make clear the geographical setting of the narratives. The volumes are carefully and beautifully bound, with a distinctive heraldic design. No pains have been spared to make this first edition a model of craftsmanship, a worthy tribute, as far as possible, to the statesman to whose memory the edition is dedicated.

THE ABRAHAM LINCOLN EDITION is sold at $3.90 a volume, net, bound in cloth; $195 for the set of fifty volumes, payable as volumes are published and delivered. Subscriptions will be received only for the complete series, the volumes to be delivered as issued, and the publishers reserve the right to increase the price of any unsold copies, at any time, without notice. Until further notice a discount of $20 a set will be allowed where remittance for payment in full accompanies the order, making the price to those preferring to pay in full for the series when entering their subscriptions $175 for the set of fifty volumes.

Publications of the Yale School of Law.

The School of Law of Yale University has announced its intention of publishing through the Yale University Press a series of works bearing upon the history and development of the Common Law under the general title of:

PUBLICATIONS OF THE YALE SCHOOL OF LAW:
EARLY ENGLISH LAW TEXTS

This series will be under the general editorship of Dr. George E. Woodbine, whose qualifications for the task have already been amply demonstrated in his scholarly editions of "Four Thirteenth Century Law Tracts," and "Bracton: De Legibus et Consuetudinibus Angliæ" —the former having been published by the Yale University Press in 1910 and the first volume of the Bracton having appeared in 1915. The first volumes of the series now announced will be devoted to new editions of early legal treatises. Dr. Woodbine already has two volumes in preparation:

Ranulf de Glanville.

Tractatus de Legibus et Consuetudinibus Regni Angliæ.

Ralph de Hengham.

Summæ, Magna et Parva. (Together with several shorter tracts from the same period.)

A new edition of "Fleta" is contemplated, as well as Fortescue's "De Laudibus."

Through the medium of this series it is planned to meet the long-felt want of legal scholars and historians for more accurate and better-edited texts of most of the early treatises. It is also planned to render accessible by publication a part of the almost untouched stores of valuable and as yet unpublished material dealing with early English Law.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE YALE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY.

Facsimiles and Reproductions of Unique or Rare Items from the William A. Speck Collection of Goethiana.

In 1915 the Curator of the Goethe Collection in Yale University Library issued in an edition of one hundred copies a privately printed photographic reproduction of an original silhouette of Goethe, dated Carlsbad, 1786. The picture was enclosed in a folder of hand-made deckle-edged paper bearing two pages of letterpress descriptive of the original portrait, attractively printed under the direction of the Yale University Press.

This publication was greeted with such appreciation by students and collectors that it was decided to publish annually a reproduction of some interesting number of the Goethe Collection, together with a short explanatory or historical account thereof.

Under the general caption of "Facsimiles and Reproductions of Unique or Rare Items from the William A. Speck Collection of Goethiana in Yale University Library," additional publications have appeared in 1916 and 1917 respectively. The first of these, forming "Number 2" of the series, entitled "Den funfzehn Englischen Freunden," consists of a highly successful facsimile of an autograph poem signed and dated by Goethe, and eight quarto pages of printed matter bearing all the attainable data on the charming international literary episode which called forth the poem.

"Number 3" bears the title "An Original Drawing by Goethe, with a Short Paper on Goethe and the Graphic Arts." The picture, a more than ordinarily interesting example of Goethe's work, is exquisitely reproduced in brown and blue.

While the series was designed for private circulation only, insistent demand from collectors has induced the Library to offer for sale ten sets of the three numbers at twenty-five dollars per set, with the provision that the buyers shall have the privilege of adding annually the forthcoming numbers at prices to be fixed on their appearance.

"Number 4": "Goethe, August 28, 1875, by Bayard Taylor," is now ready. Following the six leaves of Taylor's manuscript here reproduced in faultless facsimile, is a short account of the great celebration in Madison Square Garden for which the poem was written. Printed on a beautiful hand-made paper, carried over from ante-bellum days, this publication forms a worthy setting for one of Taylor's most successful poems.

Ten copies are offered for sale at $10.00 the copy.

Catalogue of the William Loring Andrews Collections of Early Printed Books in the Library of Yale University.

Published 1913.

"In a model preface Addison Van Name, Yale Librarian Emeritus, makes clear the value of this 'selection rather than collection' for illustrating the first century of printing. . . . Perhaps conjecturing that a catalogue will naturally be in constant comparison with the books it lists, the publishers have typed this catalogue in a manner to bear sixteenth century companionship without blushing."—Hartford Courant.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Memoirs of the American Academy in Rome.

The American Academy in Rome has announced the preparation of a new series, to be called "The Memoirs of the American Academy in Rome," the volumes in which will be issued in this country through the University Press Association under the joint imprint of the Harvard University Press and the Yale University Press.

It is stated that this publication will be devoted in general to the work of past and present students or officers of the Academy, in both the School of Fine Arts and the School of Classical Studies.

The first volume consists mainly of studies by members of the School of Classical Studies. It is therefore a continuation of the "Supplementary Papers of the American School of Classical Studies," of which two volumes had appeared before the School became a part of the American Academy. The titles of the papers are as follows: "The Reorganization of the Roman Priesthoods at the Beginning of the Republic," by Jesse Benedict Carter; "The Vatican Livy," and "The Script of Tours," by Edward Kennard Rand and George Howe; "The Aqua Traiana" and the "Mills on the Janiculum," by Albert W. Van Buren in collaboration with Gorham Phillips Stevens; "Ancient Granulated Jewelry of the Seventeenth Century B. C. and Earlier," by C. Densmore Curtis; "Bartolomeo Caporali," by Stanley Lothrop; "Capita Desecta and Marble Coiffures," by John R. Crawford, and "The Military Indebtedness of Early Rome to Etruria," by Eugene S. McCartney. There are 172 pages, fifty-four plates, and two indices.

Volume II includes papers on "Recent Work of the School of Fine Arts"; "Terracotta Arulæ," by E. Douglas Van Buren; "The Gallic Fire and Roman Archives," by Lucy George Roberts; "Studies in the Archæology of the Forum at Pompeii," by Albert William Van Buren; and "Pietro Cavallini," by Stanley Lothrop. It contains 100 pages, 70 plates, and two indices.

Volumes will be published at intervals of a year. Volume I will be forwarded postpaid at $5.00; Volume II at $7.50, postpaid. A few copies of Volume II of the "Supplementary Papers of the American School of Classical Studies" may be procured for three dollars each from the offices of the American Academy in Rome.

Orders, inquiries, et cetera, may be sent to the University Press Association, 280 Madison Avenue, New York.

Harvard and Yale graduates and other friends of these universities are invited to call at the Association's office at any time to inspect the complete collection maintained there of publications issued by the Harvard University Press and the Yale University Press.

Colonel Woods, the ablest and most successful police commissioner that New York ever had, is without doubt, the leading authority on the subject of police service and the enforcement of the law. He here describes the problems of the police and the influences affecting their work. The book is both entertaining and instructive. It is written about the public to be read by the public.

JOHN ISE

The United States Forest Policy

Economics, University of Kansas

A non-technical study and discussion of Forestry. A clear and readable story of this new and most important phase in the conservation movement. It deals with the unsatisfactory conditions in the lumber industry, the waster of timber resources, and the failure of private owners to reforest their lands. As a possible solution for the future, Dr. Ise in conclusion suggests and outlines a wiser policy. It is a book for every reader interested in forestry.

The Rider Press

As printers of the Trade List Annual, as well as the Publishers' Weekly, Library Journal, National Service, Business Digest, and other bibliographical publications, we are experts in bibliographical composition.

Catalogs, with their finicky composition and extra-accurate proof-reading are an every-day matter with us; we have special equipment to handle them and can keep our charges moderate.

Last year we did work for seven well known book publishers. Why not let us estimate on your catalog or book circular matter?

On long runs of press work which is not immediate, but may be "fitted in" between our periodical publications, we are able to quote prices that will surprise you.
